HASSLER AND DAVIS SECURE CITY CLERKSHIPS THROUGH DESERTION OF EVAN JONES

Citizens Managers Make Good Claims and Succeed by Close Vote in Forcing Joint Session of Councils.

MARTIN AND GEARING LOSE FIGHT BY EIGHTEEN VOTES

Two Republicans in Common Branch Voted With Other Side—Harmony Offer Is Rejected. Gearing to Get Another Job.

The Citizens made good their boasts yesterday that they would control select council, force a joint session of the branches of councils and elect their candidates for city clerks. By the desertion of the Thirty-sixth ward from the Republicans the Citizens broke the tie in select council in the afternoon and passed the motion, by a vote of 20 to 18, to hold a joint session with common council at night, at which Edgar W. Hassler was elected city clerk and H. B. Davis assistant city clerk to succeed Edward J. Martin and W. C. Gearing, respectively.

The vote in joint session gave Hassler and Davis a majority of 18 votes over Martin and Gearing, just six more votes than were required for an election, the requisite number being 45. The vote of the joint session was divided as follows:

Select council—Martin and Gearing, each 18; Hassler and Davis, each 20.

Common council—Martin and Gearing, each 15; Hassler and Davis, each 31.

Total—Hassler and Davis, each 51; Martin and Gearing, each 33.

THREE REPUBLICANS DESERTED.

The Citizens maintained a solid line, but there were three desertions from the Republican ranks, the three Republicans having first voted with the Citizens during the technical school fight. They are:

Frank W. Bonini of the Third ward. Bonini has a good stand in the Diamond market, which is under the jurisdiction of the department of public works.

Richard McNally of the Thirteenth ward. McNally has a brother who is a contractor and a prospective bidder for city work. McNally has also been the recipient of appointments for friends in his ward from the new administration.

Evan Jones of the Thirty-sixth ward. Jones has a son on the detective force who was discharged last fall for alleged incompetency, but reinstated two weeks ago immediately upon his father voting with the Citizens in the clerkship fight. A brother of Councilman Jones was also recently appointed to a position in the bureau of highways and sewers.

There was some curiosity last night as to what action W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward would take in the clerkship fight in view of the fact that the administration is trying to force him out of politics. Stevenson, however, went along with the Citizens and cast his vote for Hassler and Davis.

Four Citizens and one Republican were absent last night. The absent Republican was J. C. Wasson of the Twentieth ward, who is in Europe. The four Citizens who did not attend were W. H. Barker and Frederick Beehner of the Twenty-third ward; W. B. Wolfe of the Twenty-second ward, and Thomas O'Brien of the Sixteenth ward. Every member of select council was present. The following shows how each member voted last night at the joint session:

HOW THE MEMBERS VOTED.

Select council, for Hassler and Davis—Barry, Booth, Costello, Donahoe, Douglas, Fichtel, Fleming, Gallagher, Gelsey, Hermes, Jones, Kearns, Lang, Morgan, O'Brien, Pole, Schempp, Schierulzauer, West and Wightman—20.

Select council, for Martin and Gearing—Atkinson, Benz, Diehl, Murphy, Perry, Platt, Rothweiler, Ruhlandt, Sankey, Schneider, Shenkel, Stewart, Upperman, Voskamp, Wainwright, Wilson, Zahniser and President Lamble—18.

Common council, for Hassler and Davis—Baldauf, Beckert, Bole, Bonini, Brown, D. F. Crawford, Delaney, Fitzpatrick, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lauler, David Lewis Martin, McNeil, McNally, M. E. O'Brien, Reitz, Sahner, Schad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterrett, Stevenson, Walls, Willey, Wymard, Zenger and President C. S. Crawford.—31.

Common council, for Martin and Gearing—Armstrong, Baer, Brand, Cavett, Coss, Edwards, Hogue, Leslie, John Lewis, Moore, Rodgers, Schwarzwaelder, Semmelrock, Sheehan and West.—15.

Martin and Gearing took an active part in the proceedings that meant their defeat and retirement from office. When select council first assembled in its own chamber Clerk Martin was compelled to perform the duty of notifying common council that the select branch was ready to go into joint session. When the bodies went into joint session the retiring clerks took their places at the desk, called the roll and when the result was announced promptly quit in favor of their successors.

NEW CLERKS START TO WORK.

Assistant Clerk Davis, who acts as the clerk of common council, was sworn in and took up his duties, as common council immediately went into regular session after the joint session had been dissolved. The new assistant clerk went through his work bravely and acquitted himself creditably.

John S. Lamble, president of the upper branch, presided at the joint session. Mr. Lamble stated the object of the meeting and R. H. Douglas nominated Edgar Wakefield Hassler of the Sixth ward for city clerk. John Upperman of the Fifteenth ward placed the name of Edward J. Martin in nomination.

Mr. Upperman eulogized Clerk Martin, stating that Martin entered the city clerk's office in 1893 as a messenger when a boy of 15 years old, at the death of his father, which left him at the head of a family to support. He served as messenger under George Shepperd, and when Shepperd resigned he became assistant city clerk. When Robert Elliott, director of charities, died, George B. Booth, then city clerk, was offered the place filled by Mr. Elliott, but would not accept unless Martin was elected as his successor. On June 26, 1893, Martin was elected to that place and filled it to the present time. There had never been a complaint against Martin and the general public had found him affable, ready and courteous.

With the nominations of Hassler and Martin the nominations were closed. After Hassler had been declared elected W. E. Sankey nominated W. C. Gearing for assistant city clerk and T. M. Brown nominated H. B. Davis of the Thirty-first ward.

The vote was the same as for city clerk.

REFUSED TO MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

After the joint session the select body returned to its chamber and ratified the action of the joint session unanimously. At the former meeting of select Mr. Douglas had asked Mr. Upperman to make the elections of Hassler and Davis unanimous, but Upperman emphatically refused to do so, showing there was no possibility of harmony between the two factions.

After the election last night Common Councilman W. H. Stevenson stated that he had started a strong boom to have Gearing appointed to the position of recording clerk in the city clerk's office, which pays $1,800 a year. Mr. Gearing stated that he is not a candidate, but several councilmen, who had voted for him, stated that Gearing is slated for the place now filled by Robert Clark of the Seventeenth ward.

A Citizens member of select council stated yesterday that Thomas S. Bigelow had assured him that as soon as the clerkship fight had been settled and the standing committees of the upper branch abolished the next move would be to oust John S. Lamble from the presidency. This will probably be attempted at the next meeting of select council or the one following.

UPPERMAN SPRUNG A SURPRISE.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Citizens had a majority of select council yesterday afternoon they were seriously alarmed at one stage of the proceedings. R. H. Douglas offered a resolution to go into joint session and Mr. Upperman called attention to a provision of the new city charter which provides that an ordinance or resolution cannot be passed finally on the day of its introduction. The Citizens were thrown into confusion for the moment, but Douglas came to the rescue by withdrawing the resolution and presenting the matter in the form of an ordinary motion. The motion then prevailed, the members voting as they did in the joint session at night.

Various reports were in circulation yesterday as to deals which had been made to bring about the election of the Citizens' candidates for city clerks. One rumor was that Select Councilman John Upperman and S. J. Wainwright had gone over to the Citizens and in the future the Republican members of select would be in accord with the wishes of Thomas S. Bigelow. The councilmen deny the story and their actions of yesterday indicated that the report is without foundation.

HAYS DENIED A DEAL.

Mayor Hays also said that there had been no attempt to get Upperman and Wainwright. He likewise denied the report that the action yesterday was the stepping stone to the taking over of the Republican organization by the Bigelows.

"Nothing of the kind is contemplated," said the mayor, "there will be a fight for county offices this fall. There is no agreement with the Republican members of select council as to their future course."

Still another report of yesterday credited the Pennsylvania railroad with having forced the warring councilmen to get together. Mayor Hays also discredits this story. He says the Pennsylvania has not taken a hand in the matter.

WILL RUN IF FORCED.

That Is Mayor Johnson's Attitude Toward Democratic Nomination for Governor of Ohio.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—(Special)—Under certain conditions Mayor Tom L. Johnson will be a candidate for governor of Ohio, but he is not looking for the nomination. Letters from state leaders are being received daily asking the mayor to announce himself, but the mayor's closest advisers in Cleveland tell him not to do so.

Mayor Johnson's position, according to the politicians who have his confidence and whose confidence he has, is just this: He is not and he will not be a candidate for governor. He probably realizes that it will be almost a hopeless task to wrest the governorship from the Republicans. However, if the nomination should be forced upon him he will accept.

FIVE MEN DROWNED.

Were in a Boat That Capsized in Middle of Des Moines River.

FRASER, IA., June 8.—Five miners lost their lives here today in the Des Moines river. The men were crowded into a small boat to row across the river.

When the boat reached the middle of the stream it was caught in the current and capsized. The men struggled in the water for a few seconds, and then all disappeared.

LEADING FIGURES IN KENTUCKY FEUD ASSASSINATION TRIAL

TOM WHITE AND CURTIS JETT, Accused of Murder, in Charge of the Militia. On Either Side of Them Are Capt. Bell and Col. Williams.

CAPT. JOHN PATRICK, Principal Witness in the Cockrell Assassination Case.

EXPECT TRIAL WILL BE FARCE

Lexington Attorneys Refuse to Help Prosecute Feud Cases.

IS A USELESS TASK

Curtis Jett and Thomas White, Alleged Assassins of Marcum, Will Have Joint Trial.

MORE VENIREMEN SUMMONED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jackson, Ky., June 8.—There is every probability tonight that Curtis Jett and Tom White will have a joint trial. It was at first intended to ask for separate trials because when J. B. Marcum was killed they were not seen together. The case against one is about as strong as against the other and the witnesses are the same men.

Attorney O'Neil of Covington is chief attorney for the defense, and associated with him will be Judge B. F. French of Winchester and Ben Golden of Barbourville, a brother of the now noted Wharton Golden, who figured in the Goebel assassination trials of Caleb Powers and Jim Howard.

Golden arrived tonight. These three men will be assisted by John L. Noble of Jackson and H. C. and Augustus Arnett of Salyersville, employed by the defense to examine the Magoffin county jurors. These two qualified to practice here today and Golden will qualify tomorrow.

It is not positively known who will assist the prosecution as yet, aside of Thomas Marcum, the brother of the assassinated lawyer, and Judge Patrick of this place, the attorney for Mrs. Marcum. Lexington attorneys were approached, but none of them would assist, claiming that it would be a useless undertaking.

When Judge Redwine convened court this morning, it was found that but 46 of the 60 men summoned for jurors from Magoffin county had arrived. A recess was taken to give the remainder time to arrive, it being expected they would come on a later train, but they did not.

Attorney Byrd said he did not desire to start with an insufficient number of jurymen and asked that other veniremen be summoned. Judge Redwine then appointed George Whittaker assistant sheriff and gave him charge of the veniremen, instructing them not to converse with anyone regarding the cases to be tried, and told Ellsor Jones to go to Magoffin county and summon 25 more men and have them here tomorrow morning. The trials are to be called at 9:30 o'clock, when it is expected both the prosecution and the defense will answer ready.

The jail is under heavy guard again tonight and Jett and White are both on the second floor in separate cells, too far apart for private communication.

Maj. J. Embry Allen, who has charge of the jail and prisoners, this morning asked Judge Redwine for a written order conforming with his verbal request yesterday that Jett and White be allowed together. Judge Redwine said he had no idea of placing the men together, but merely desired White removed from the first floor on account of the complaint of his friends. Everything is quiet tonight, but the soldiers are on the alert, although the officers are entertaining the young ladies of Jackson in camp tonight with a dinner.

COSHOCTON BOY SHOOTS HIS TWO YOUNG BROTHERS

COSHOCTON, O., June 8.—James Smith, aged 14, today tried to scare his two brothers, Eugene, aged 10, and Albert, aged 10, who were teasing him, and pointed a gun at them. The weapon was discharged, instantly killing Albert and blinding and fatally wounding Eugene.

NEW ENGLAND'S DROUGHT BROKEN AFTER 50 DAYS

BOSTON, June 8.—Rain and plenty of it tonight ended the 50 days' drought in northern and southern New England and quenched most of the forest fires which have turned vast areas into blackened wastes.

VAST BRIGADE TO SAVE CITY

Every Able-Bodied Man of East St. Louis Toiling Upon Levees.

SEVENTEEN DEATHS

Four Cities Are Already Under Water and the Mississippi Is Climbing Higher.

MANY HAVE BEEN RESCUED.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 8.—At least 17 persons are dead as a result of the breaking of the levees which had protected the tri-cities, Venice, Madison and Granite City. Tonight, guarded only by an uncertain low line of sandbags and mud, East St. Louis is making its last stand against the invading forces of the Mississippi. The water is several inches higher than the railway embankment, which has hitherto served to protect East St. Louis from the flood. Every male resident has been ordered to stay at the levee and keep at work so long as there is any hope of saving the city.

If the levee goes, the entire business section will be inundated, and there may even be loss of life, though every effort has been made to compel persons residing in the danger district to move to higher ground. Business in East St. Louis has been completely paralyzed. The railroads are making no effort to move freight and the passenger and mail service is uncertain.

The viaduct approaching the Eads bridge on the east has been declared unsafe for cars and passengers are compelled to walk. Several hundred refugees from the tri-cities came to St. Louis on flat cars across the Merchants bridge and are being cared for at the police stations and the homes of citizens in the northern part of the city.

Twenty-five thousand people have been rendered homeless by the flood and over 200,000 acres are under water. It is estimated that to date the property loss will reach $3,000,000. So vast is the territory inundated and so chaotic the conditions, that reliable news is obtained only under the greatest difficulty.

Word was received here tonight that Mayor Low of New York had received a check from John D. Rockefeller for $5,000 to be used by the flood sufferers.

ROOSEVELT IS THE ONLY NAME HEARD

Senator Scott of West Virginia Says His State Is in Line.

BABCOCK VOTES AYE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.

"Our state has settled political matters," said Senator Penrose today. "We are for President Roosevelt, who will be nominated and elected. However, Pennsylvania wants no tinkering with the tariff. Tariff has brought about the present prosperous conditions in the country and we see no reason why there should be any change. As to the choice for vice president, I can say we have not yet given much attention to the matter. It is probable the man will come from the central west—Indiana, if that state puts up the right man."

"I suppose there are no other worlds to conquer at this time," said Representative Babcock to President Roosevelt today referring to the certainty of the latter's nomination for the presidency and to the declarations in his favor. After leaving the White House Mr. Babcock said:

"The president's trip was an indication of his personal strength in the country and that counts a great deal. The political situation is favorable both to the president and Republicans at this time. The people, especially in the west, have absolute confidence in the president."

"President Roosevelt's nomination is settled. There will be no opposition to him," said Senator Scott of West Virginia. "Our state is for Roosevelt and it will be found in the Republican column."

Senator Scott just returned from Europe. "My trip abroad," he said, "Was with a view of making a special study of industrial conditions as bearing on the interests of our own country. The conditions in European countries are not to be compared with those prevailing in the United States.

"Laboring people there—and I use the word in reference to the people who work with their hands, because in America all men are laboring people in some branch of work—are not to be classed with the laborers in this country."

CHAMBERLAIN EXPECTED TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE

LONDON, June 8.—A cabinet council was summoned this afternoon to consider the political situation. It is understood that some ministers take exception to Mr. Chamberlain's letter to a workingman, published yesterday, which is regarded as definitely committing the colonial secretary to the tariff policy. All kinds of rumors are afloat. One which many are inclined to credit is that Mr. Chamberlain contemplates immediate resignation. It is said that he has no love for the Irish land bill and would willingly precipitate a crisis before the Liberals have time to organize their election platform and free trade propaganda.

TWO BROTHERS-IN-LAW FIGHT DEADLY DUEL.

SULLIVAN, IND., June 8.—(Special)—Frank Burris and Henry York, farmers residing near Merom, this county, between whom a family feud has existed, met Saturday and began firing at each other. York escaped, but Burris received three wounds in the lungs and abdomen and will die. Burris' wife, who was with him, was the only witness. The men are brothers-in-law, Burris having married York's sister. York is in jail.

POSTOFFICES TO BE PROBED

Every Postmaster Will Be Investigated in the Scandal Inquiry.

SENATORS AROUSED

Investigation in Postal Department Develops Unexpected Ramifications.

PAYNE WITH THE PRESIDENT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.

Investigation of every postoffice and postmaster in the country is now one of the possibilities before the end of the present scandal is cleared up. The established connection between the postmaster at Toledo with August W. Machen and a strong suspicion of collusion between other important postmasters and George W. Beavers has led to a preliminary survey of this field of operation. In this event many senators and representatives will be concerned, because no postmaster is appointed without the recommendation of the representative of his district.

In this connection it was learned today that when Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow was ordered by President Roosevelt to go to the bottom of the postoffice investigation he said:

"Mr. President, I have been in investigations of this kind before and I know something of the political influence that will be brought to bear. I know further that every effort will be made to hinder me in my work, even to the point of asking my removal from office."

The president, impressed with the earnestness of Mr. Bristow, gave him every possible personal assurance in the presence of Senator Long of Kansas that he would sustain every effort and that he need have no fear of "political influence."

Postmaster General Payne was with the president a long time this afternoon and it is understood that this phase of the investigation was discussed.

The fact now established beyond a that Mr. Rand, confidential clerk of the postmaster general, has an official connection with the copper mining company of which Mr. Machen is president, the stock of which, it is alleged, was forced on employes of the department, is giving Mr. Payne considerable embarrassment, and he has been strongly urged within the last two days by friends to dismiss Rand from the department.

The report this morning that Senator Burton of Kansas was hastening to Washington and had even pumped a handcar for 30 miles in order to catch a train for the east, has caused some comment in view of the fact that Mr. Burton's name has often been mentioned in connection with one of the "get-rich-quick" turf concerns.

The federal grand jury today indicted Samuel A. and Diller B. Groff for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with August W. Machen. The grand jury will at once take up the case of James T. Tyner, former assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, who was dismissed from office as a result of the rifling of the safe in his office.

COUNT MORGANSTEIN DISAPPEARS, TAKING GREAT SECRET ALONG

Knew How to Make Oil at One Cent a Gallon and Took a Partner.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 8.

Count Charles Fitz de Morganstein has mysteriously disappeared. He is the French inventor who has a process for making oil out of water at 1 cent a gallon. He recently broke off negotiations with the Standard Oil Company for the purchase of his secret and allied himself with Lum Smith, once publisher of the Agents Herald, Philadelphia. Smith has patents for a cheap gas made out of oil, and water.

The two were to establish a great billion-dollar gas and oil company to put the Standard Oil Company out of business. Smith, who is from the celebrated Lum family of Mississippi, is in commercial business at 356 Broadway. He gave the count $1,500 last week to bind the bargain for their partnership. When the disappearance of the count became known to the police today they promptly arrested Smith on suspicion. Detective Inspector McClusky, after a long talk with Smith, released him late this afternoon.

Smith declared that the count told him he was shadowed and bothered and was in fear of his life. He begged Smith to notify the police immediately if he didn't keep his appointments as he expected to be spirited away.

The police have sent out a general alarm and many detectives are seeking clues.

BOUQUET STRUCK KAISER: WOMAN WAS ARRESTED

BERLIN, June 8.—While Emperor William was driving to the ball in which Saturday's singing competition took place, at Frankfort, a lady admirer threw a bouquet into the imperial carriage. The bouquet struck the emperor's helmet and was so forcibly thrown that the empress, who was sitting beside Emperor William, jumped up frightened. The thoughtless enthusiast was arrested, given a severe lecture and then discharged. The Frankfort people had been warned previously not to throw flowers into the imperial carriage.

CADET GRAFTON BEALL GETS REINSTATEMENT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Cadet Grafton A. Beall, Jr., of Wheeling, W. Va., who was suspended some time ago from the naval academy at Annapolis, was restored to his class today by order of Secretary Moody, who had the case brought to his attention by Representative Dovener. Beall will be allowed to take the summer cruise, but will be deprived of a month's leave in September.

UNIONTOWN COUNCIL DRIVEN OUT BY BEDBUGS.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 8.—(Special)—On account of the presence of bedbugs in the council chamber, the borough council met tonight in the office of Attorney C. F. Kefover. The chamber has been fumigated twice, but the insects are still very numerous and the members of council refused to meet there.

FLOOD NO BARRIER.

Bridegroom Aged 89 Swims Platte River to Keep Appointment With His Bride.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., June 8.—(Special.)—J. A. Soard, aged 89 years, is the kind of a bridegroom they find when knighthood was in flower.

Mr. Soard today swam the flooded Platte river, half a mile wide, in order to get from his temporary home in the country east of that stream to St. Joseph, where his bride of six weeks has been visiting and from whom he was cut off by the flood.

His feat was witnessed by some families along the river bank who cheered lustily. Mr. Soard was completely exhausted when he reached the other side, but none the worse for his plucky deed.

READY FOR VACATION.

Penrose Names Quay State Committeeman in Place of Late George von Bonnhorst

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(Special.)—Senator Penrose was busy at the departments today attending to business preparatory to leaving for a two months' trip through the northwest.

This evening Mr. Penrose gave out the list of members of the Republican state committee. The only change in the old committee is the appointment of Senator Quay to the place formerly held by the late recorder, George von Bonnhorst. The 31 members reappointed are: Ex-Attorney Gen. John P. Elkin of Indiana, Ex-Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Watres, Scranton; George T. Oliver, Pittsburgh; Hiram Young, York; Major General Charles Miller, Franklin; Homer Greene, Honesdale; E. W. Gwitt, Wellsboro; Ex-Banking Commissioner B. F. Gilkeson, Bristol; David H. Thomas, Hokendauqua, Ex-Insurance Commissioner James H. Lambert and David H. Lane of Philadelphia.

SHIPWRECK FATALITIES EXCEED ONE HUNDRED

MARSEILLES, June 8.—It is still unknown how many were drowned in the sinking of the French steamer Liban, which foundered off this port yesterday after being in collision with the steamer Insulaire. The company states that there were only 165 passengers aboard, but it is known that many embarked at the last moment and were not registered. The number drowned certainly considerably exceeds 100. All the crew of the Liban as well as a number of officers and soldiers who were aboard were saved.

Sheriff and His Deputies Are Making Untiring Search for Fugitives.

HE SLEW HIS STEPMOTHER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shoals, Ind., June 8.—A man hunt that has in it many of the intensely dramatic features that characterized the dogged flight of the bandit Tracy in the northwest a year ago, is being enacted in the north central part of Martin county. The hunted man is Arthur Lyons, 28 years old, whose foul and deliberate murder of his stepmother, Mrs. Joel Lyons, at the family home two miles north of Killion Thursday evening, stirred to their depth the angry passions of the people of this county, a county that has known more than one crime of surpassing horror.

Lyons was kept within a radius of five miles of the scene of the murder, and though in one or another since then, he has been hunted by four armed posses from Loogootee, Shoals, Indian Springs and Burnettes, in all numbering 200 persons. Few glimpses have been had of him and these by those who sought to befriend him or by those who were unable to take advantage of the occasion.

Tonight Sheriff George B. Holsapple of Martin county has nearly 100 men in squads of twos and threes guarding the approaches and exits of Goldsberry Hollow, the fastness in which Lyons is supposed to be sheltered. All the houses of Lyons' relatives, and there are a score of them, are also under surveillance and Sheriff Holsapple hopes before many hours to stalk his prey. Lyons is known as a desperate character, despite his youth, and there will be no parleying over the matter of quarter. Should he be found the hunters have been told to shoot on sight.

The murderer is able to hit a dollar flipped into the air with his revolver at 20 paces nine times in ten and with such a man to deal, preservation of life resolves itself into a question of who shoots first. But it is not all certain that Lyons will be caught. He has said that he will never leave the county and that he will never be taken alive.

NEGRO LYNCHED BECAUSE HE MURDERED A WHITE

Georgia Mob Deals Quickly With the Slayer of a Prominent Citizen.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MACON, GA., June 8.—W. Cope Winslow, Jr., whose father was one of the leading members of the Georgia bar, was instantly killed by Banjo Peavy, a negro, on the former's farm near Fort Valley, today.

The negro owed Winslow a small amount of money and was asked to work out the debt. He refused and shot Winslow through the forehead. Peavy was soon captured and turned over to the sheriff.

Tonight the officer and guard were overpowered and the negro hanged. His body was riddled with bullets.

FAREWELL TO GAS.

Consumers of the Natural Article at Indianapolis Will No Longer Be Supplied.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8.—(Special.)—At 8 o'clock this morning there was a flicker, a puff, and the natural gas in 5,000 stoves of the consumers of the Indianapolis Gas Company was no more. For 15 years patrons of the company have been accustomed to rely on the natural gas supplied in greater or less quantities, but at the hour specified the gas went out, never to be lighted again.

The experience of "no gas" was not altogether new to most of the consumers. They have many times on cold winter days discovered that there was not enough gas to light. But they have always looked forward hopefully to the time when the supply would be greater. Today, however, they bade a lasting farewell to the convenient and economical fuel.

MINISTER UNDER FIRE.

Charged With Accepting $1,000 for Services in Settling Labor Controversy.

CHICAGO, June 8.—(Special.)—Methodist ministers at their weekly meeting today appointed a sub-committee to investigate the report that a Chicago minister received $1,000 for his services as a member of a board of arbitration which settled a recent labor strike. The committee which consists of the Rev. W. F. McLennad, the Rev. Harry F. Ward, and the Rev. E. B. Crawford, will make a thorough investigation of the charge and report the details to the association at the earliest possible date.

It is supposed that the case referred to is that of the arbitration of the car yard engineers' controversy by the Revs. Kelly, Lawrence and Haynes.

TORTURE OF JEWS RENEWED IN RUSSIA.

BERLIN, June 8.—Accounts to a dispatch from Lemberg the papers in that town publish an account of a renewal of Jew baiting at Borschenko, Russia, near Brody, Galicia. Twenty thousand peasants assembled at the annual fair threatened to massacre the Jews who, police officials, closed their houses and stores and telegraphed to the governor for protection. A hundred of the Jews fled to Czernowitz, on the Austrian frontier.

J. VERNER LONG AGAIN A CONSUL

Well-Known Pittsburgher Will Be Stationed at Patras, the Grecian Seaport.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS OFFICIAL

New Appointee Succeeds Prof. Frank Jackson of Mt. Pleasant, Who Resigned a Short Time Ago—He Has Had Experience in Consular Service in Italy.

It was announced at the White House at Washington yesterday that James Verner Long of Pittsburgh will be appointed United States consul at Patras, Greece. The consul at Patras until recently was Prof. Frank Jackson of Mt. Pleasant, who resigned. Senator Boies Penrose saw President Roosevelt yesterday morning and asked for the appointment of Mr. Long to the vacancy.

JAMES VERNER LONG.

The appointment restores to the consular service a Pittsburgher who has already won for himself an excellent record in the state department by virtue of his services for four years as consul at Florence, Italy. He was appointed to that position by President Harrison in 1891, and was four years later succeeded by Charles Belmont Davis of Philadelphia. He has in the meantime traveled extensively, but has spent much of his time in this city and now lives at the family home, No. 5530 Howe street, East End.

In addition to his experience in the consular service, Mr. Long brings to the government service a thorough knowledge of European art, geography and history which will serve well the interests of many Americans for whom these subjects constitute the chief object of their trips to Greece. The city of Patras, where he will be consul, is a seaport town of much importance about half a day's journey from Athens, the capital of Greece. It is the gateway for large exports to the United States, especially of fruits. During his European residence and travels Mr. Long became well acquainted with the part of Greece to which he is now assigned, and is already familiar with the duties of the consulate at Patras.

In Pittsburgh Mr. Long is very well known. Both his maternal and paternal families are among the old families of this city. He is about 40 years of age and is a graduate of Lafayette college at Easton, Pa. He took a further course of study at Dresden and then at the University of Heidelberg, Germany. After leaving the German university he traveled throughout Europe, and his opinion on art subjects is highly valued as the result of the close study he has made of European collections. He is one of the founders of the Art society of Pittsburgh and is a prominent member of the University club of this city.

Mr. Long's only position in the Pennsylvania state service has been as an active member of the state fish commission.

The appointment is expected to be effective within 60 days and he will leave for his new position shortly. He was indorsed for the position by influential Republicans in Allegheny county and throughout the state.

COLORED MEN ORGANIZE.

Business and Tradesmen Apply for Charter for Mutual Aid.

In order to afford a better condition among the negro workers in the trades and in business, and to promote and foster benevolent features and a closer fellowship for their mutual aid and protection, Attorney W. H. Stanton, representing a number of colored business and tradesmen, has applied for two charters for organizations to be called the "National Association of Afro-American Steam and Gas Engineers and Skilled Labor" and the "Afro-American Mercantile association."

The incorporators of the National Association of Afro-American Steam and Gas Engineers and Skilled Labor are John N. Davis, Thomas W. Miles, Benjamin F. Hardy, William H. Ford and Harvey Snow. The incorporators of the Afro-American Mercantile association are F. H. Ross, J. H. Jackson and G. G. Turfley. With these are associated a number of other prominent colored men. The second concern will deal in all mercantile specialties, paying special attention to the colored trade.

Big Confirmation Class.

The Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop, will begin this morning to confirm by far the largest class of candidates ever assembled in this diocese, and perhaps in the entire archdiocese of Pennsylvania. It numbers no less than 1,200, of whom more than half are boys and girls. They are members of St. Peter's church, McKeesport, of which the Rev. Father McDermott is pastor, and Father McDermott is a classmate and a warm friend of the coadjutor bishop and preceded him as pastor of St. Paul's cathedral, this city. The events of today and tomorrow will be made in every way notable and elaborate.

Considered Boilermakers' Demands.

The Manufacturers' association held a special meeting yesterday to consider the boilermakers' demands, but nothing was given out as to what was decided on. Since the strike was inaugurated the manufacturers have met the boilermakers three different times, but were unable to come to a settlement. The Youngstown boilermakers will present their scale to-day this week and will give the manufacturers 10 days to sign it, with the exception of the New Castle men who, according to a former agreement, will have to allow 30 days.

McKeesport's Garbage Ordinance.

At a regular meeting of select council of McKeesport last night, an ordinance in blank, bearing nothing but the title on the cover, was quietly introduced by President John N. Dersam, and referred to the city health committee. The ordinance provides for the proper collection and disposal of city garbage, dead animals and diseased meats. Dersam's idea is to have the city take charge of the garbage under contract with a private party.

Who Knows!

The world is full of ups and downs. Your turn may be next to encounter adversity. Build for the future. Open a savings account (one dollar will start it) with the Allegheny Trust Company, 413 Federal street. At 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, you will soon have a snug working fund for any emergency.

CONTROLLER LARKIN REFUSES TO ASSIST MAYOR HAY'S EAGLE.

There is a disposition about city hall to question the patriotism of Controller John E Larkin. Just now some are inclined to accuse him of an attempt to prevent the eagle's screaming on the Fourth of July.

Mayor Hays is endeavoring to make the eagle scream at Schenley park on July 4. It takes money to make the bird perform properly and to get the coin letters are being sent broadcast over the city. A two-cent stamp is required for each one.

When the city was requested to furnish the postage the controller objected. He insisted that he is patriotic and dotes on the Declaration of Independence, but cannot be a party to the city's money being used without warrant of law. The eagle will scream anyway. The subscriptions received at the mayor's office yesterday were as follows: Allegheny National Bank, $900; Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory, $25; Mackintosh, Hemphill & Co., $100; Iron City Produce Co., $20; United Engineering & Foundry Co., $100; John A. Staley, $25; Thomas McCaffrey, $10; A. J. Logan & Co., $25; Louis Emmanuel, $25; K. Solomon & Co., $10; Daniel McCaffrey Sons, $25; T. C. Jenkins, $100; Shanahan Transfer & Storage Co., $15; Mar. & Mfrs Bank, $10; total $700.

LET GO BY THE CORONER AND ARRESTED AGAIN

Joseph Stoker Gains Further Notoriety by an Alleged Attempted Assault.

After being released from custody by the coroner yesterday on the ground that he was not responsible in any way for the death of Susan Rodgers, of No. 600 Wilson street, Joseph Stoker of No. 7206 Windom street was arrested again last night on the charge of disorderly conduct. He is accused of attempting to strike the dead girl's sister.

Miss Rodgers died and Stoker was arrested, the coroner having heard that he had prevented a physician from ministering to the girl before her death. At the inquest yesterday the jury returned a verdict that the girl had died "of natural causes and poison, self administered." Dr. J. A. Grant New testified that she had refused medical attention and that Stoker had not interfered. Dr. Walter C. McCandless, who held the autopsy, told of finding poison.

Last night Policeman Alexander McCormack arrested Stoker at the instance of William Dugan. Dugan told Lieut. Thomas Morley that Stoker was drinking and boasting of his discharge by the coroner and had followed a sister of the dead girl to the street and attempted to strike her.

Shortly after Stoker was locked up a woman called at the station. She said she was the woman whom Stoker had tried to strike, and that she would appear against him this morning.

ORDERED TO CHILE.

Disturbances at Valparaiso Causes Sumner's Squadron to Be Sent There.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.—(Special.)—At the request of the British government and to protect American interests Rear Admiral Sumner, commanding the South Atlantic squadron, has been ordered by the navy department to proceed from Montevideo to Valparaiso Chili, there to protect foreign interests from molestation by the labor disturbances which it is feared may assume threatening proportions.

The squadron, which consists of the Newark, Detroit, Monigomery and Gloucester, may be expected to arrive in Valparaiso in about 12 days, the voyage through the Straits of Magellan and up the Pacific coast of South America being an extremely rough one at this time of year.

From the British government last week the state department received advices that the situation in Valparaiso was extremely serious.

GOODRICH FILES SUIT.

Proceedings to Oust International Harvester Co. from Ohio Begun in Circuit Court.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., June 8.—(Special.)—Prosecutor Goodrich of Wyandotte county, has begun proceedings in the circuit court to oust the International Harvester Company from doing business in Ohio. The petition alleges that the company is a trust and in violation of the anti-trust laws of Ohio.

The Milwaukee Harvester Company, McCormick Harvesting and Machine Company, Deering Harvesting Company, Piano Manufacturing Company and the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner Company, are made parties to the suit. The petition alleging that they comprise the big company and that they constitute a conspiracy in violation of the laws of Ohio against all other harvesting machine companies.

FALL WAS FATAL.

Homestead Woman Made Futile Effort to Save Her Child.

The two-year-old child of Mrs. Mary Mitro of Homestead was buried yesterday at Springfield, O. The mother is fatally injured. Both fell downstairs two days ago at the home of Mrs. Mitro's brother, No. 40 Rawlins avenue. Mrs. Mitro's husband is a drygoods merchant of Homestead.

The mother and child were standing at the top of the stairs and the former slipped, both falling pitched down the stairs. The mother clung to her child and made a frantic effort to save it, but without avail. The infant was injured so badly that it died three hours later.

DEFENSE IS BEING HEARD.

Attorney for Northern Securities Company Making a Strong Plea.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 8.—Judge George B. Young today continued his argument on behalf of the Northern Securities Company in the suit of the state of Minnesota against that corporation, which is being heard by Judge Lochran.

Judge Young devoted himself principally to an attempt to prove that the merger company was in reality a holding company for the benefit of a large number of railway stocks who wished to protect themselves from raids by unscrupulous persons with designs on their roads and who desired to consolidate their investments in convenient form.

DOCTOR ARRESTED FOR KIDNAPING HIS SON

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Dr. W. H. Kendall of Washington was arrested at Waynesburg today after an exciting chase on a charge of kidnaping his son, preferred by his wife, Dr. Kendall was on his way to Waynesburg last night, where his wife is stopping at the Walton house. His little son was playing in front of the hotel and, it is said, the physician picked him up and started for the West Virginia line. Dr. Kendall was captured a short distance out of Waynesburg. The child was returned to his mother and the charge against Kendall withdrawn. Divorce proceedings between Dr. Kendall and his wife are pending.

SHARPSBURG PEOPLE PAID FOR BAGS OF MUD.

A man was arrested in Sharpsburg yesterday afternoon as a suspicious character and for selling "metal polish" without a license. It was found that the polish was common mud, which the man was selling at 25 cents a small bag. He was sent out of town by the police, who found later that he had sold lots of the stuff to Sharpsburg people.

Four Hurt by a Wreck.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 8.—A fast mail train on the Southern railroad ran into a freight train today about 15 miles south of here. Three postal clerks were badly hurt. The engineer of the express train jumped and broke his ankle.

DANCING TEACHERS IN THEIR ANNUAL SESSION

Two Hundred Delegates Are Here from All Parts of the Country.

The tenth annual convention of the Normal School Association of Masters of Dancing of the United States and Canada opened yesterday morning in Braun's auditorium in South Highland avenue. Delegates to the number of 200 representing nearly every state in the union and several from Canada and the British Isles are present. Telegrams from some of the Pacific coast delegates state that they are delayed by the flood. About a score more delegates are expected today.

The time yesterday was spent in getting acquainted and organizing. A musicale was tendered the association last evening by William F. Braun. An audience of 400 people listened to an excellent program in which Braun's orchestra rendered several numbers. Instrumental and vocal solos made up a pleasing entertainment. The class honors that will be observed during the convention are: Ten to 11, fancy dancing; 11 to 12, advanced class work, consisting of difficult movements for solo and group dancing; 1 to 2, beginners' fancy dancing, and 2 to 3, advanced dancers' second lesson. A business session will conclude each day's festivities. Some day during the week officers will be elected. J. Mark MacDonald of New York city is the present president and Mr. Braun is first vice president.

Mr. Braun will entertain the men tonight with a smoker and the ladies will be shown the sights of the Labor carnival. The delegates will be taken through the Carnegie works tomorrow night. A grand ball will be tendered the delegates Thursday and a tour of the park will be made Friday. The convention will close with a grand cotillion Saturday night, Braun's auditorium is elaborately decorated with the national colors and beautiful plants.

WEARY OF THE DIET.

Dr. Wiley's Experimental Boarders Can't Stand Monotony of Embalmed Beef.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The experiments which Dr. Wiley, chief of the chemical division of the agricultural department, has been conducting on a number of volunteers for the purpose of testing the effects of borax and other preservatives in food will be suspended on June 30.

The list of volunteers has fallen from 12 to 7 and there have been many complaints since warm weather began from the government boarders who want a change of diet. No statement of the result of the experiments will be made for some time.

POPE HAS RECOVERED FROM HIS ILLNESS.

ROME, June 8.—The pope's health is so much improved that it may be said tonight that he is entirely well again. He has ceased to experience the fatigue which accompanied his recent illness.

Was a Pleasing Recital.

One of the largest crowds that has attended the series of organ recitals given this season in the Allegheny carnegie music hall was present last night and listened to an unusually good program. Organist H. P. Ecker's selections were of unusual merit, including Wagner's overture, "Rienzi," and Verdi's scenes from "Aida." Mr. Ecker was assisted by Mrs. G. L. Braxton of Chicago. Mrs. Braxton possesses a soprano voice that is pleasing and rich in tone, and her songs, "Murmuring Waves" and "Voice of Spring," were well received. This was Mrs. Braxton's first appearance here. Louis E. Vierheller, tenor, and Miss Mary M. Byron, elocutionist, contributed several excellent pieces. The next recital will be given on Wednesday, June 17.

Corey Offers Prizes for Diaries.

James B. Corey, former president of the Duquesne Coal Company, has promised New Year's day prizes to all little boys who spend their evenings within three squares of his church, the Wesley chapel of Free Methodists. The children were gathered up by Mr. Corey Sunday evening and taken to the church where he gave them diaries and told them to record each good or bad act each day until January 1, 1904. For the best diary Mr. Corey will give a prize of $15, two others of $10, 25 of $1 and other smaller prizes.

Illustrated Threat Against a Man.

Fred Kaufmann of Shady avenue, near Forward avenue, found a basket containing 12 dead chickens in front of his door early yesterday morning, and a note tied to the basket, reading: "You have lost one eye and with the judgment of God you will lose the other. You will soon be as biling as these chickens." The note was signed "Our Father Who Art in Heaven." Kaufmann has but one eye. Kaufmann professes some hot times for the man found guilty of the act. He suspects a neighbor.

Many Witnesses for the Riot Inquest.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary has obtained from County Detective Robert G. Robinson a list of witnesses to be summoned to the inquest to be held into the deaths of Charles Kelly and Sandy Garrett, the negroes shot in the West Liberty riot Sunday before last. The inquest will probably be the most extensive ever held by the coroner, as numerous witnesses have been subpenaed.

Suit for False Arrest.

A bill in equity is likely to be filed this week against the city of McKeesport in behalf of Henry Franklin, Ernest Wilson, George Hale, Henry Johnson and Asa Drew. Wilkins, who was awarded damages on the ground of false arrest and imprisonment. These men were arrested in connection with the robbery of the residence of David Hardy in Riverview park.

McKees Rocks Wants a Boulevard.

At a meeting of McKees Rocks council last night a committee was appointed to confer with a committee from Sheraden councils for the purpose of discussing plans for the construction of a boulevard to connect the two boroughs. This project was talked of several years ago, but met with opposition in McKees Rocks.

McKeesport Desires an Inspector.

President John N. Dersam of McKeesport select council, last night introduced an ordinance that provides for the appointment of a plumbing and building inspector. Andrew Soles, the newly elected chief of police of McKeesport, was sworn in last night.

Thirteenth Ward Citizens Held Meeting to Protest Against Proposed Structure.

PASSED WARM RESOLUTIONS.

Committee Will Wait on Hays, Moore and T. S. Bigelow—Administration Will Be Held Responsible If the Building Is Erected.

Hundreds of citizens of the Thirteenth ward turned out last night to join in a meeting of protest against Director Harry Moore's action in starting work on the new municipal hospital. The citizens have fought for years against the present hospital in the ward and succeeded some time ago in having councils adopt a resolution forbidding the former administration from proceeding with the erection of the larger and more elaborate institution now begun.

The meeting was held in the Rose street school house. The Rev. W. H. Knox of the Tenth United Presbyterian church was made chairman. Ex-Representative W. W. McElhaney was the first speaker. He said the presence of smallpox in the ward could be ascribed only to infection from the hospital.

"The smallpox did not break out here. It was brought in," said Mr. McElhaney. "Now two-thirds of the cases at the pest house are from the four hill district wards. Day by day some of our best citizens are stricken with the disease."

THEY FOUND A SITE.

After the city councils stopped the work on the new hospital Mr. McElhaney said, a committee of citizens of the ward found an available site in Robinson township. It was near the city, the price was reasonable and the site met all requirements, he asserted, but the committee could get no satisfaction.

Peter Nolan said Thomas S. Bigelow had given his word that he would do all in his power to help the ward to move the hospital outside the city limits. Attorney S. A. Will said he did not believe that Bigelow, if he wished, could prevent any "subordinate" from commencing work on the new hospital.

Dr. R. J. Burke remarked that the removal of the hospital outside the city would not be injurious to smallpox patients, as transportation a reasonable distance does not result in harm.

WILL CALL ON THE OFFICIALS.

Committee was named to call upon Mayor William B. Hays, Director Harry Moore and Thomas S. Bigelow, asking them to use their efforts to have the hospital removed. The committee consists of Peter Nolan, P. D. Ward, S. A. Will, the Rev. N. B. Brown, Charles Donnelly, Prof. John Golden, William E. Francies, W. J. McElhany, Timothy Griffin, T. P. Geary, John Tobin, Benjamin F. Anderson, John Entress and Alderman Henry Eyson.

The following resolutions were adopted unanimously at the meeting:

Whereas, The Municipal hospital, situated on Bedford avenue, Thirteenth ward, being in the midst of a thickly populated district numbering about 50,000 persons, in close proximity to mills and dives of those residing in said district and the residents of the hillside nearby, and

Whereas, It is the opinion of the majority of the members of the medical fraternity, as well as of the members of the legal profession, that there is no earthly use for the removal of the hospital from its present occupies, notwithstanding contract entered into for the erection of a new hospital and notwithstanding the distance that it will be necessary to carry patients to some isolated place and

Whereas, The councils representing the citizens of the hill district have secured a site suitable for the purposes at a reasonable price, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of council from this ward be and they are hereby requested to use every effort to secure the passage of the ordinances for the purchase of another site and the removal of the hospital from the present site, be it further

Resolved, That we, the citizens of the ward aforesaid, do and will hold this present administration responsible in the event that the said hospital be erected in the Thirteenth ward.

Seventh Victim of Deadly Toy Pistol.

Charles Price Carmody, aged 7, son of M. A. Carmody of the Pennsylvania railroad, died yesterday at his home, No. 248 Forty-fourth street, of lockjaw, resulting from a wound received while playing with a toy pistol. He is the seventh victim of tetanus since Memorial day, all being the results of injuries received from toy pistols.

Missing Boy Is in Chicago.

Porter Brady has been heard from. He is now in Chicago and in response to his letter his father, Link Brady of South Walnut street, McKeesport, has forwarded him money to pay his fare back home. Porter, who is 16 years old, left home five weeks ago, and the letter received yesterday cleared up the mystery of his disappearance.

Chicagoan Charged With Desertion.

David Levi of No. 311 Wylie avenue, was arrested yesterday by Police Inspector Bernard McElay, charged with abandoning a family of minor children in Chicago. The charge is made by John Kane, a Chicago detective, who is in Pittsburgh. L. S. Levin, Levi's attorney says the charge is not an extraditable one.

A STRONG STATEMENT AND WE PROVE IT.

When you need a medicine you should get the best. We sell thousands of different medicine prepared to cure various ailments, but we have never sold a medicine which we think so highly of or of which we have heard so many good words spoken as of DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

It will positively cure any disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, if the case is curable. It will do more than that, as you will see when you use it.

No more highly respected man lives in Pittsburgh than C. E. Dudenhaver of 548 Cora street, Brunton, Pittsburgh. Read what he has to say of this excellent medicine: "Last Fall I developed an aggravated case of kidney trouble. Different doctors treated me with no permanent result. I was compelled to resign my position on account of my declining health. One day I ran across an advertisement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I concluded to try, and I began to improve in health soon after I began its use and I did not have to continue long until I was cured.

My wife had been troubled with the same complaint most of her life and upon my suggestion used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured."

We sell this great medicine in two sizes at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle and believe that any one suffering from any of the terrible painful and dangerous diseases for which it is prepared, will, after using it, thank us for recommending it to them.

CONTROLLER WILL NOT GET AN AUDITING CLERK

Allegheny Finance Committee Turns Down Brown's Request. Opinion on Taxation.

Controller James Brown of Allegheny will not get an additional clerk in his office despite the fact that Mayor Wyman expressed to common council last week his reasons for thinking that this should be granted. Controller Brown asked for an auditing clerk to be paid $1,500 a year. The city auditing heretofore has been done by the mayor's clerk. The ordinance was presented to the finance committee several weeks ago and was sent to councils with a negative report. At the last meeting of the common branch the ordinance was again sent to the finance committee and last night suffered the same fate.

City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter gave a written opinion that councils have no power to exonerate property owners from payment of taxes, street or sewer assessments, after the courts have fully passed upon them, and that if councils have power to exonerate one citizen, every taxpayer could demand exoneration, and thus defeat the purpose of municipal government.

The opinion was asked for by Chairman Charles F. Kirschler, who has had under consideration the request of the Observatory Hill Christian church that it be exonerated from the payment of the assessment for grading and paving of Wilson avenue.

Messrs. Meyer, Kimberlin and McHenry were appointed a committee to investigate the compromise effected between the city and Mrs. Mary J. Boyle of Perrysville avenue for $1,800, Jacob Kocher of East street for $2,200 and Jacob Kocher and Anna Kocher of East street for $1,800. It is claimed the amounts allowed these property-holders were too large.

The resolution to settle with the Colored Orphans' home for $8,000 for damages caused by the grading of Vernon avenue was ordered printed, and the city solicitor was authorized to settle with R. D. Kennedy for $2,000 for damages for the same improvement.

WYMAN PROPOSES TO MAKE AN EXAMPLE

Allegheny Officials Are After Oppenheimer, the Man Who Sold Furniture.

Mayor James G. Wyman has become wrathy over the alleged statement of William Oppenheimer, an alleged furniture dealer, that he has a "pull" with the Allegheny police authorities, and that he can guarantee protection to women wishing to engage in unlawful business in Allegheny. Oppenheimer's remarks were made public at a hearing in Alderman Brinker's office last week, when Ray Young of No. 55 Robinson street, entered suit against him, charging him with false pretense. The woman, according to her story, purchased $700 worth of furniture from Oppenheimer and paid $25 on account. She asserted that she was promised police protection.

When she tried to open her house the police took a hand in the matter and she was warned by Superintendent Campbell that she would be arrested if she opened. Oppenheimer returned the woman's money, but Mayor Wyman is not satisfied and has instructed Director Thomas B. Scandrett to look further into the case. The mayor declared yesterday that no one was allowed grafting privileges in Allegheny, and Director Scandrett said last night that he was looking for Oppenheimer for the purpose of making an example of him that would serve as a warning to others that may be in the same business.

"Payne's Coon Hollow Page in The Sunday Gazette is alone worth more than price of the entire paper." That's what everyone says, and what everyone says is very apt to be true.

In Our June Sales

there are seventy departments contributing—from Basement to Sixth floor. Each comes to the front with dependable merchandise reduced to the smallest prices. For today specimen reductions are given—a few only—but that few points to many that have no mention.

Those Fine Voile Boutonne Suits for $19.00.

Ladies' Special Order
Dressmaking and Tailoring Departments.
Reduced Prices.

Either of these departments will accept orders, for delivery in July and August, for greatly reduced prices. A custom that is usual with us and which is greatly appreciated by women who use the foresight of anticipating an incoming season.

For executing all classes of high grade Tailoring and Artistic Dressmaking we have new cutters, new fitters and new designers.

We rather think women who bought these suits yesterday are of the opinion they never saw a suit anyways like the ones they bought for the small price of $19. Indeed they never did. No suits like them for women were ever sold in this town for less than almost twice nineteen dollars.

The voile of which they were made was bought by us for quite a concession, and the dresses were to have been here some time ago; on account of the concession on the price of cloth, and also owing to the late date at which the suits came to hand, we say for them $19 instead of their rightful price, $35.

There are black suits, cream suits and blue suits with all silk taffeta drop skirt and silk lined jackets. The jacket and skirt are ornamented with bands of taffeta.

So much for the greatest suit of the season for the lowest price. Now for some other low prices on medium to fine suits.

For $10, reduced from $20, we are selling all wool Cloth Suits in popular colors and the always desirable black.

For $15, reduced from $25 and $30, we are selling Dress and Walking Suits of such materials as cheviot, broadcloth and mixtures.

For $23.50, reduced from $40, we are selling Voile Suits, Cheviot Suits, Etemine Suits and Suits of Mixtures.

For $28.75, reduced from $50 and $60, there is more choice among fine dresses and street suits than we can at this moment take space to describe.

25c Yd. for New Ribbons.

A Great Half Price Sale Today.

The price is just about half their original price. In the cleaning-up time the ribbon importers favor the stores that give them largest orders in season. Immense lots of new ribbons are thrown our way at present, so that we can sell them for significant reductions from former prices.

At 25c a yard—50c regularly—4½ and 5-inch Dresden Ribbons, in the very prettiest of botanical effects.

At 25c a yard—50c regularly—4½ and 5-inch plain Satin Taffeta Ribbon, all colors and all shades of colors, including black and white.

At 25c a yard—50c regularly—5-inch black and white Moire Ribbon.

At 25c a yard—50c regularly—6-inch plain black Taffeta Ribbon.

Boys' Negligee Waists, 50c.

Sizes for boys from 6 years to 10.

When you only have to pay half a dollar for good waists no reason in the world why the boy shouldn't have at least seven—one for every day in the week.

These 50c waists are of madras and cheviot.

For the finer waists we refer you to those selling for 75c, $1 and $1.25, made of cheviots and madras, made with or without collar. Full lines in sizes from 6 to 14 years.

Girls' Tub Dresses.

Of white lawn, $3, were $4.50. This is a special lot and you can choose either dresses with high necks or dresses in gump style. Trimmings of lace and embroidery, and some have embroidered yokes; tucked waists; tucked skirts.

Sizes for 4-year-old girls up to 8 years.

For $2.75—sizes 4 to 8 years—we have dresses of fine dimity in gump style, with tucked and embroidered collars and sash. Dainty patterns in pink, blue and green.

Glass Bedroom Sets, $1.

In the Basement China Store, where much of the glassware is on sale, we have for to-day a very engaging special in the shape of Glass Bedroom Sets—Water pitcher, tumbler, candlestick and match box.

It seems little enough to pay for all that.

French Voiles, London Twines, Paris Crepes.

In Dress Lengths.

And of course for greatly reduced prices. But that is hardly necessary to reiterate, for it is household news by this time that every sort of goods in the store comes into this June sale for prices less than usual.

These most fashionable materials, in the most fashionable of Summer shades, have had enormous sales throughout the past month, which means quite a lot of dress lengths left as a reminder of that heavy selling.

Every dress length in stock will be out on special table to-day, left of main entrance, at these reduced prices:

65c materials brought down to 35c a yard.
85c and $1 materials brought down to 55c a yard.
$1.25 materials brought down to 75c a yard.
$1.50 materials brought down to $1 a yard.

Wedding Cake Boxes.

Interesting news for June brides—Wedding Cake Boxes for distribution of those precious pieces of bride's cake.

Every bride knows how anxious her feminine acquaintances are for a slice of the bridal cake, how they long to dream over it, how they delight in the exchanging confidences with other friends who received a portion of the cake, how they wouldn't for the world have anyone think they believed in any such superstition. But it's delightfully interesting—to girls.

The keeping on hand at all times of Wedding Cake Boxes in up-to-date styles is something of an innovation. They range in price from $4.50 to $6 a hundred.

Find them at the Candy Counter, rear center aisle, and as a hint let us add their attractiveness is enhanced by having your monogram stamped on the lid.

For favors of all kinds the Candy Store has many styles of Novelty Candy Boxes. Some of them—

Miniature Water Coolers.
Miniature Cameras.
Miniature Automobiles.
Miniature Suit Cases.
Miniature Guitars, Banjos, Mandolins, Drums.
Bonbonniere Boxes in dozens of shapes and designs.

And there is always ready strictly pure candies with which to fill them.

PENN AND FIFTH.

MAYOR HAYS WANTS ANOTHER FILTRATION COMMISSION

City Executive's Plan to Reopen Pure Water Question Means Prolonged Delay.

NEW COMMITTEE OF COUNCILS

Filtration is further from being realized than ever, and the prospect is that the people of Pittsburgh will not get pure water for many months, and possibly several years, while the ravages of typhoid fever from an impure water supply continue unabated and increasing daily.

Mayor William B. Hays yesterday declared in favor of reopening the whole question of filtration by the appointment of another commission to investigate the different methods of filtration and to make a report to councils before any action is taken. In view of the amount of time consumed by the last commission it is unlikely that the new commission would be able to make a report before next year and probably not until later.

Another statement made by Mayor Hays yesterday indicates that there will be no filtration before 1906, when the city's contract with the Monongahela Water Company to supply the South Side expires.

"I am not in favor of giving any part of the city filtration until the whole city can be supplied, and I do not see how the South Side can be supplied until the city's contract with the Monongahela Water Company expires and the city gets control of the plant."

WANTS NEW COMMITTEE.

In the meantime the mayor wants councils to decide upon the system to be adopted, and when this is done the administration will be ready to say whether a bond issue will be required or whether a plant can be built without a bond issue. "I have no choice as to the method. It remains to be seen which is the best method, sand, mechanical or electrical. In Cincinnati there is a sand filtration plant that cost $15,000,000 and it does not work," he said.

The last commission that investigated the filtration matter was composed of some of the most prominent and able men of the city who spent two years and a half delving into the subject. Many cities were visited, expert opinions were obtained and data from numerous sources were secured. The commission made a voluminous report which is considered one of the most exhaustive on the subject ever prepared. This commission reported in favor of sand filtration.

SEVERAL THINGS TO DELAY.

Mayor Hays pointed out several things yesterday which will tend to delay action on the pure water proposition. He said that the city solicitor was asked first to give an opinion whether the $2,500,000 bond issue, voted in 1899, could be used for any method other than sand filtration and that if the city solicitor decides that any method may be adopted the program will be to ask councils to reopen the whole matter and go over it again.

The mayor does not expect any bond issue for filtration this year, and probably no bond issue for any purpose. He made the significant statement yesterday that the removal of the "hump" would cost a great deal more than Director Bigelow estimates. He said:

"It will cost a great deal more than $1,000,000 or $1,500,000, although I would not undertake to say just what it would cost. That is an engineering problem. It would depend upon the cost of excavating and removing the earth and rock, the regrading and repaving of the streets. Also, who would pay for the relaying of pipes and cables, and who would have to bear the expense of rebuilding the Hotel Henry, about which there is a dispute.

"All these things would enter into the matter, and I believe the expense would be much larger than any person has any idea."

HOME ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT

Two Women Were Inside, but Failed to Hear Thieves Ransacting the Building.

VALUABLE PLUNDER SECURED

A burglary that occurred yesterday in the house of James Fox in Lamark street, Thirty-sixth ward, promises to be as puzzling to the police and detective bureaus as another in the same house two years ago. The first time a girl, Miss Ella Macartney, was gagged and left in an unconscious condition. This time nobody was molested, but the house was looted.

The burglars this time, in broad daylight, with two women in the house, secured cash and jewelry, two women's hats and a jacket. Nobody was seen going into or leaving the house by the neighbors.

James Fox, who is in the stone and coal business in the West End, is a bachelor, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Cuddy, keeps house for him. The other occupants of the house are Henry Fox, James Fox's brother; Thomas Cuddy, Mrs. Cuddy's son, and Miss Ella Macartney, niece of Mrs. Cuddy.

According to the story told by the women all the men were away at their business yesterday morning and they were in the basement laundry from 9 to 11 o'clock.

At 11 a. m. Mrs. Cuddy, when she went to the kitchen on the first floor, found that Miss Macartney's hat and jacket had been taken from the hatrack. Then she and Miss Macartney concluded that robbers had been there. On the return of the men to the house they discovered that all the wardrobes and bureaus in the house had been opened. From them had been taken a gold watch and chain, gold cuff links, revolver and $12 belonging to Thomas Cuddy, $28, five rings, two stickpins and a breastpin belonging to Miss Macartney and other valuables and wearing apparel. The total loss was about $250. No clue to the thief or thieves was obtained by the police, who were promptly notified.

The robbery two years ago was more sensational. At 5 o'clock one morning Miss Macartney was found lying on the dining room table, unconscious. Her mouth was stuffed with paper and her grandmother's "fascinator" was wound about her head.

When she recovered her senses she said that as she stepped into the kitchen a man with a mask presented a revolver to her head, and another person in a wrapper, apparently a woman, threw her arms about her and effectually prevented her from crying out. The woman had the hands of a negress. The thieves then got $25.

DOCTOR ADVOCATED OPERATION— PE-RU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

MRS. EVA BARTHO.

CATARRH is a very frequent cause of that class of diseases popularly known as female weakness.

Catarrh of the pelvic organs produces such a variety of disagreeable and irritating symptoms that many people—in fact, the majority of people—have no idea that they are caused by catarrh.

If all the women who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and give him a complete description of their symptoms and the peculiarities of their troubles, he will immediately reply with complete directions for treatment, free of charge.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 133 E. 12th st., N. Y. City, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for 3 years with leucorrhea and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation, which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to go under it. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me; it took 9 bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am today in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."—Mrs. Eva Bartho.

Miss Maud Steinbach, 1296 12th St., Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

"Last winter I felt sick most of the time, was irregular and suffered from nervous exhaustion and severe bearing down pains. I had so frequently heard of Peruna and what wonderful cures it performed so I sent for a bottle and in four weeks my health and strength were entirely restored to me."—Miss Maud Steinbach.

Everywhere the women are using Peruna and praising it. Peruna is not a palliative simply; it cures by removing the cause of female disease.

Dr. Hartman has probably cured more women of female ailments than any other living physician. He makes these cures simply by using and recommending Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

FORD WILL BE THE CHAIRMAN

Etna Republican Has Consented to Lead County Committee in Fall Campaign.

ARMSTRONG OUT FOR SHERIFF

HON. THOMAS J. FORD, Who Is to Be Chairman.

Thomas J. Ford of Etna has agreed to accept the chairmanship of the Republican county committee. The new body will probably be organized Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Ford will be elected without opposition.

The secretaryship is likely to go to Richard M. Kopp of Allegheny. Dr. L. Gillespie of the Ninetneenth ward is prominently mentioned for treasurer of the committee. At the February election Mr. Gillespie was the Republican nominee for school director in his ward and had the indorsement of the Citizens.

Joseph G. Armstrong has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff. He now represents the Twenty-ninth ward in common council. Mr. Armstrong is the first man in the field in the shirevalty contest.

There has been talk of Archibald Mackrell, but he has no intention of entering the race.

Mr. Armstrong is a glass worker and has a large following among the workingmen of the South Side. Last fall he was a Republican candidate for assemblyman in the Fifth district, and although defeated, polled a larger vote than his colleagues on the ticket.

The Citizens party will hold eight legislative conventions today at which the 32 members of the county committee will be chosen. Two committeemen are appointed for each member of the house of representatives. The new committee will probably organize later in the week. Murry A. Verner is slated for chairman. The time and place for the convention today follows:

First district, select council chamber, Allegheny, 7:30 p. m.; Second, common council chamber, Allegheny, 7:30 p. m.; Third, Citizens headquarters, Third avenue, 8 p. m. Fourth, Citizens headquarters, Third avenue, 8 p. m. Fifth, common council chamber, Pittsburgh, 8 p. m.; Sixth, Citizens headquarters, Third avenue, 10 a. m.; Seventh, common council chamber, Allegheny, 10 a. m.; Eighth, common council chamber, Pittsburgh, 10 a. m.

W. H. Stevenson yesterday declined to call a meeting of the Fourteenth ward Citizens committee. The anti-Moore men wanted him to convene the committeemen last night, when they hoped to elect E. Y. Breck ward chairman. Stevenson was temporary chairman of the meeting last week which adjourned without electing a ward chairman. He says that W. J. Moore is the proper man to call the meeting, but none will be called for the present, as there is no need for haste.

The Breck men will issue the call themselves, if they are satisfied that the city committee will uphold the action.

The Moore men of the Fourteenth ward last night quietly held new primaries in the Fourth, Sixth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth districts, where there had been contests. In the Fourth B. F. Jones, G. A. Grier and Ray Toy were chosen members of the ward committee. The district officers are B. F. Jonas, chairman; G. A. Grier, vice chairman; Ray Toy, secretary; Samuel Ball, treasurer. John Malville was elected a delegate to the Fifth legislative district convention to be held tonight. The other contested districts in the ward also elected delegates and this will bring the Fourteenth ward fight into the convention at City hall tonight.

Union Campmeeting Services.

Union campmeeting services will begin in the Tabernacle tent, near Center avenue, next Monday evening. Various pastors and speakers of the city will make addresses. New and old-time songs will be rendered. Illustrated chalk talks on a blackboard will be given. Everybody is invited to attend.

Tuesday, June 9, 1903.

Hon. Thomas J. Ford has consented to accept the chairmanship of the Republican county committee if elected as it is probable he will be when the committee meets. Mr. Ford is a representative Republican, a man of recognized executive and legal ability, of mature experience and of force of character. He should make a good chairman, and that is what the party needs. There are others who would meet every requirement just as well, but the trend of popular sentiment appears to have turned to Mr. Ford, and there is now no reason why he should not be chosen.

At the hearing before the interstate commerce commission yesterday H. M. Olyphant said the "devilishness of the miners" was the cause of the high price of anthracite coal. Mr. Olyphant, to say the least, uses hard terms and does not appear to have profited from last year's experience. There is now, as there was before the disastrous strike, a total lack of sympathy and confidence between the operators and miners of the anthracite region. Out of their mutual suspicion and animosity grow their troubles. Both sides need to pray for a change of conditions or a change in personnel.

A new record has been made by the Pittsburgh ball club, which has shut out its opponents in six successive games. That is fine good ball. It is the kind that if maintained will win another pennant for the Pirates though they are pitted against better material this year than last. There has been a notable increase of interest in games this season, and particularly during the last few days, with the three leaders pulling closely for the honors. It is a real treat, and that is what the American enjoys more than the mere winning of a favorite. Of course in such a contest the joy is greater on the winning side.

An important departure is announced by the Monongahela Consolidated Coal and Coke Company in connection with the purchase of the Anchor Line wharfboat. The company will hereafter engage in a general transportation business, carrying all suitable classes of freight in barges. Heretofore its navigation interests were confined to the transport of coal to southern markets, principally, the exception being occasional shipments of steel rails. The regular barge business will likely not cover a much larger field of shipments from this port, but it is reasonable to expect it will secure for the company a considerable business in return cargo. Instead of coming up the river empty, tows will return with cargo sufficient to pay a fair part of the expense. Incidentally Pittsburgh will derive benefit.

President Loubet's soldiers are attending to a French share of the white man's burden by conducting a punitive expedition against the Arab brigands in Morocco. The scene of operations is in the region known as Figuig, and the manner of the attack is likely to prove a lesson of lasting value to the Figuigs. Accounts of the military movements indicate brilliant tactics and splendid fighting. Of course, the advantage of arms is all on the side of the French, including field guns firing selenite shells, but the advantage of position on the side of the Arabs has been nullified by the clever French maneuvers. The campaign has no political significance. France having notified the powers that it has no intention to take a foot of Morocco soil, but that it means to punish the land pirates, preying upon commerce.

It is now probable the postoffice department investigation will extend to every postoffice and postmaster in the country. Disclosures in connection with the operations of A. W. Machen have given the inquiry this turn. It is not probable that many offices will be involved in the scandals and it is not expected that many will be. But it will do no harm to have every branch and corner of the postal service examined now the investigation is on. Wherever crookedness or delinquency is found penalties should be inflicted rigorously as a warning for all time that honesty is the only course that is safe. Great departments, particularly under political influence, necessarily include some who tend toward corruption, and an occasional thorough cleaning up is the best means of uprooting evils and disposing of those who introduce them.

Gov. Taft's report on conditions in the Philippines is gratifyingly encouraging. It paints a much brighter picture than the report of Gen. Miles. Judge Taft admits that when Gen. Miles was in Luzon the prospects were discouraging, but says his own expectations were agreeably disappointed. There has been scarcity of food, but no actual famine and very little gratuitous distribution of food. The principal item in that line has been the disbursement of about $2,000 worth of rice. The Philippines government deserves great credit for its management of the crisis. By preventing an attempted corner in rice it has averted the worst consequences of shortage of the crops. Its most serious problem now is to get a new supply of cattle in lieu of those carried off by rinderpest. This it is managing by the import of immunized carabao from China, selling the animals to agriculturists at about cost and extending six months' credit on one-half of the purchase price. This is true helpfulness, as by such means the government restores the cattle without pauperizing the farmers by making gifts or disbursing charity.

Citizens in Control.

Yesterday's events at City hall terminated all semblance of dual authority in the city government. First was the capture of select council by the Citizens, and that was followed in the evening by the joint meeting of select and common and the election of city clerks. The new clerks are capable men, but have their experience to gain. Aside from this feature the outcome may be regarded as a good thing. The Citizens party is now in control in every branch of the city government and upon it rests the entire responsibility for results. To it the people must look for measures and it must answer to the people for its acts. Delays in the transaction of public business can no longer be charged upon divided authority. There is no good reason why matters of public moment should not be attended to promptly.

First and foremost among questions now pressing for consideration is that of pure water. Filtration is up to the majority in councils and the sympathetic administration. Money was voted for the purpose and is lying on deposit at 2 per cent while the bonds are drawing more. The typhoid fever death rate is the highest on record and going higher. There should be prompt and effective action under these circumstances and the dominant party will be expected to bring it about.

A Fight for Freedom.

If the worm is crowded too far the worm may turn. In Chicago the turning point has been reached and the struggle is on. For years the patron of restaurant and hotel has humbly borne the slings and arrows and put up tip after tip, and at the end of it all the autocrat of the dining table has been more proud and haughty, more arrogant and several other things, the names of which may be found in the dictionary. The victim has cultivated patience and meekness of spirit and time after time stilled the awaking lion in his bosom with the reflections that it had to be. So long as those who owned the men who owned the hotels were willing to let it go at that and accept not only their wages, but the backsheesh of the victim as a sort of compliment to him, the victim, if he complained, did so in private, remembering that he had a reputation to maintain and an appetite that had to be satisfied. But at last the day came when the swallowtailed representative of oppression struck for something or other to add to the earth which was already his, with a barbed wire fence around it, and quit the scene of his power to enforce it, taking with him the cook and the dishwasher and others who ministered from their places of seclusion, unseen but felt. Here was a dilemma—an emergency. After one moment of despair the oppressed rose to the emergency. He and she cooked for themselves and she washed the dishes off which they ate just as mother used to do. Their dependence had vanished and the autocrat was defied. There was momentary emancipation along this line, and even if the keepers of some hotels and restaurants did yield to the demand that they gild the fence with which the earth was girdled, and if others arranged a truce that looks like surrender, the moment's freedom of "the guest" gave birth to ideas and the ideas promise to bear the fruit of liberty. The victims have learned united resistance from united aggression. The tyrant is to be struck in a vital spot. Union is to be opposed with union. Consumers are uniting against the haughty middleman and against the producers in the kitchen, who aid and abet him. From the germs of independence planted by a few days of self-service is springing an anti-tipping league and a death struggle for mastery is on. The worm has turned. The eyes of the nation focus on Chicago to see whether victory will be with the worm or with the iron heel of the oppressor. Our sympathies are with the worm. His platform, "pay for only what you get and get what you pay for," is only another rendering of the declaration of the fathers of the republic, that "taxation without representation is tyranny," and of the other declaration, "Millions for defense, but not a cent for tribute." Men have died for these principles, and it is now up to Chicagoans to fight it out.

Long Senatorial Terms.

Virginia will send John W. Daniel back to the United States senate for the fourth term, announcement having just been made that there will be no other candidate for that honor in the state. Long service in the senate is by no means the rule, but the exceptions have always been conspicuous enough to elicit remark. In the present body William Boyd Allison of Iowa was elected in 1873 and has served continuously ever since, thus constituting him the dean of the senatorial body. Next to Allison the "old men" in the senate are John T. Morgan of Alabama and George Frisbie Hoar of Massachusetts, who have served continuously since March 5, 1877. Among the other members whose service displace "the third term" bogey, so far as the senate is concerned, are the senior senator from Pennsylvania, Matthew Stanley Quay, Eugene Hale of Maine, Senators Platt of New York, Frye of Maine, Berry of Arkansas, Platt and Hawley of Connecticut, Cullom of Illinois, Blackburn of Kentucky, Cockrell of Missouri, who by the way, has been in the senate since 1875, and George Graham Vest, who is only a little way behind him in point of service, having taken his seat in March, 1879, giving Missouri the palm for conservative treatment of the senatorial office. Aldrich of Rhode Island has been in the senate since 1881.

In nearly every instance an explanation of the long service in the senate is found in the peculiar value to the state of the faithful service of the man who occupies the post. Who will undertake to say how far this "honor roll" would have been changed by the direct votes of the people who have come to regard these veteran representatives with veneration and esteem? Hoar could, we believe, be easily elected to the senate today from Massachusetts by the votes of the people, and we doubt not the same could be said of Vest and Allison and Morgan, or any one of the old guard whose terms of service extend over a decade.

A Serious Condition.

It will be a serious matter, indeed, if the dispute between the bricklayers and stone masons' unions results in tieing up building operations in Allegheny county. The matter has reached the point where it seems useless for builders or others to argue further with the contending unions. It has been thoroughly threshed over in argument and appeal and the return of a reasonable and reasoning spirit seems now as far away as ever. There is no question of wages or hours of work involved. There is no question directly affecting the relations of employer and employe. The point in dispute is one wholly between bricklayers on the one side and stone masons on the other, and it is inability to restore a degree of harmony that will induce men of one trade to work on a job with men of the other, or on a job where men of one trade have worked in preparation for the work of men of another trade that leads builders to decide to suspend operations until the trouble ends. When work ceases if will be to await an adjustment of relations by the men themselves, for the builders, not unnaturally, refuse to identify themselves with the quarrel. They have signed all scales and agreed to all conditions of hours, wages and work. Wages are higher than ever before and hours of work fewer, but in spite of this happy condition production is to cease and capital and labor not concerned in the outcome of the dispute are to be made to suffer. Occurrences of this sort halt prosperity, and the halting of prosperity clouds the future with uncertainty. Men with capital to invest are anxious to continue its safe investment, but if investments are rendered unprofitable through being tied up by matters out of their control and beyond their power to adjust by concession or compromise of their own they will hesitate to make them. If the momentum of the mechanism of business is checked in one direction all its parts necessarily become affected, and in the general slowing down labor is less employed because fewer workers are needed. If the process goes far enough, instead of capital competing in the market for workers, workers will be again competing with each other for employment, and what this condition leads to is too well known to lay stress on. If the trades unions cannot dwell together in brotherly relations, what can they expect of employers? Perhaps cessation of efforts by employers to continue operations in the face of hampering conditions may lead to sauer consideration of the situation and its perils.

Vacation Homes.

Among the many helpful manifestations of the spirit of modern charity there is none more practical or susceptible of application among a thoroughly worthy class than the plan of maintaining vacation homes for the large army of young women who are employed upon salaries that do not admit of the luxury of a summer rest if the usual cost is demanded. In nearly all of the large cities these vacation homes have become a regular feature of the humane efforts of those engaged in the noble task of helping those who are worthy without descending to the ordinary and distasteful means of outright charity. The vacation homes are provided upon the co-operative plan, and possess the admirable feature of giving the working girl of meager income a chance to spend two weeks in the country without either a serious drain upon her resources or inflicting the feeling of having to accept charity. The homes are in most instances supported by private subscription or through the efforts of an organization. This support is mainly in the shape of guaranteed backing for rent or purchase money if the place is bought, for by economical management the homes have been found almost self-supporting so far as current expenses are concerned. The girls are charged a nominal sum for room and board, the rates ranging from $1.50 to $3.00 per week. A location is selected with special reference to the purity of the air and rural beauty and seclusion of the surroundings. The fare is plain, but thoroughly wholesome, while the rooms are clean and airy. Amusements of many kinds, straw rides, fishing parties and outdoor pastimes are provided for the girls and every effort made to supply real vacation enjoyment.

A due regard is paid to the moral welfare of the young women, but no offensive restraint is laid upon them. One of the most successful of these summer homes for working girls is located in a beautiful spot overlooking the Chester valley, near Philadelphia, and in making its annual opening announcement this week the management says that more than 600 girls were entertained at the home last summer, and that had the accommodations been sufficient twice that number would have enjoyed its hospitality. In all our large cities there are thousands of eminently respectable and intelligent young women who are forced to earn their own living and whose incomes will not allow a summer vacation under conditions appropriate to their social positions. The vacation homes provide just the place for these young women. They give them for a sum within their reach a cool, clean summer resort, amid refined surroundings and under management that will contribute to the moral and mental betterment of the girl and at the same time act as a protection against the dangers that surround an unprotected young woman when away from home. The work is one of great value and its advantages and blessings for a deserving and worthy class should induce a wider application of its benefits.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Lieut.-Gov. Guild of Massachusetts has been elected honorary president of the recently organized Lecturer's association of Boston.

Henry C. Caldwell, the federal judge of the eighth circuit court, who will retire from the bench on June 30, is the only surviving appointee to the bench of President Lincoln.

It is announced that when Lord Roberts comes to America in August it will be in his official capacity. King Edward has expressed a wish that his trip shall be regarded as an official one in return for the recent visits of distinguished American military officers to Great Britain.

George W. Vanderbilt contemplates building another model village near his estate at Asheville, N. C. The village will be built about 30 miles from Asheville, and $1,000,000 at least will be expended on the project. Mr. Vanderbilt has already expended about $10,000,000 in western North Carolina.

Roosevelt's Enlarged Opportunity.

President Roosevelt's recent experience as a traveler, surpassing those of any previous occupant of the White House, cannot fail to have broadened him, says the New York World. Contact with the people in twenty-five states and territories must have enlarged his views alike of his country and his countrymen. Everywhere he has been welcomed and honored more as president of the republic than as the head of one of its political parties. This must have given him a clearer realization of the fact that the people draw a distinct line between their president as such, and the mere party leader which he was before his accession to the office, and may be again after he leaves it.

All the circumstances of the present situation conspire to invite Mr. Roosevelt to larger freedom and independence in the presidential chair. His nomination in 1904 is a foregone conclusion. He is sure of his own party. He can afford so to shape his course henceforward as to satisfy the people. If he does so the nation will gain much by his two months of travel, while his party will lose nothing. For it is still as true as when a former Republican president said it: "He serves his party best who serves the country best."

Another Postal Reform.

The most important news from the postoffice department in many a day is not any development of the pending investigation, but the judicial decision completely sustaining the department in its movement for the reform of the colossal abuses in second-class mail matter, says the Philadelphia Press. It is, indeed, a great victory for a vital public reform and for a regenerated and self-sustaining postal service. The monstrous abuses which have flooded the mails with books, advertising circulars, house organs and so forth, under the pretext of being periodicals at the pound rate, have gone on for years, growing month by month. The development of wrong-doing in the department, so far as disclosures up to the present time indicate, is lamentable as it is, involves a loss measured by thousands. This reform involves a saving measured by millions. There is a bright side as well as a dark side.

Boat Ahoy.

Written for The Gazette.

Boating parties are the rad
Now in Venice.
Though the weather's mighty bad
There in Venice;
And the calling, far and near,
Of the busy gondolier,
Always draws a hearty cheer
Now in Venice.

Waves are running mighty high
Now in Venice,
And the country heaves a sigh
For poor Venice.
River raised up in its might,
Puts the streets all out of sight,
And they're in an awful plight
There in Venice.

Such a situation's new
To all Venice,
And they don't know what to do
There in Venice.
There is ne'er a note of joy,
Though the maidens, grave and coy,
Join the shout of "Boat Ahoy!"
Now in Venice
That is, Venice, Illinois.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

There must be something wrong somewhere, else there wouldn't be so much back-lashing, whip-sawing, and gee-hawing in the social world.

Suppose we blame it on the women, and let it so at that?

Didn't father Adam get out, or try to get out, of his trouble by that route?

True, he didn't succeed to his entire satisfaction, but he gave us a precedent which is worthy of respect on account of its long standing, if for no other reason.

But the fact remains that something is wrong somewhere, as shown by the great and increasing number of defective men and women in the world.

Men and women, as such, come by their defects naturally, and honestly, for that matter, because they were born to be as they are, or rather, they are so born that they may be as they are.

Of course there are some who have acquired physical defects by accidental injuries, or through negligence on their own part, or lack of care and proper attention on the part of their parents, or guardians. These are few, however, as compared with those who are naturally defective.

* * * * *

Defective sight is becoming more and more common with mankind, but not with horses, dogs and other animals of the higher order.

How is it that man, with his superior intelligence, his ability to learn from experience, and his freedom to improve his physical and mental condition, is becoming more defective, while the animal that has only instinct for a guide, maintains an almost uniform state of physical perfection?

Is it possible, or even probable, that man cannot find where the trouble lies?

Or is it because he neglects, or refuses to do that which he knows to be right and proper? Or, worse still, wilfully or carelessly, does that which he knows to be wrong?

Does he not know that if he marries a woman whose sight is defective, his children, or some of them, are practically certain to resemble their mother in this respect?

Would a sensible, practical horseman take such chances with his horse beasts? Anyone who would do so would not only be voted a fool, but looked upon as an enemy to the horse and to those who use horses.

Need the woman who marries a dyspeptic, brashy, bad-livered man, expect anything but trouble and worry with her children, for they will take after the father more or less.

Is it any wonder there are so many physical degenerates since so many marry carelessly and unwisely?

* * * * *

And then, we find that defective parents are not even careful to correct defects in their children, but allow them to grow into confirmed defectives. Instead of having defects corrected when first recognized, as far as possible, they trust to the children outgrowing them, which they rarely do.

Then these same careless parents turn in and blame it on God, and go on through life wondering why such inflictions should have been sent upon their innocent children.

Such parents may find some pretty heavy charges marked against them when they come up for final settlement.

Have not these children been committed to their care, and will they not be held responsible for their physical and spiritual growth and development? While they will not be held responsible for that which is purely accidental they will find that much of that which they have held to be accidental is not so regarded by the powers above.

* * * * *

Of course, it isn't the popular thing to talk out plainly on this subject, but once in a while a preacher talks out, and now and again some one who has the public ear speaks plainly, as did President Roosevelt on the family. But it is not popular, and the preacher, writer, or man of the people who ventures to talk about it will get himself talked about, and not always in complimentary terms.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson of Philadelphia preached on this subject last Sunday, and among the good things he said, as reported in The Gazette yesterday morning, was this:

"In seeking a mate one should look for physical and moral health. The boy born of a woman who had a craving for alcoholic liquir should not marry and multiply. The criminal should remain a celibate. Marriage does not necessarily mean mating, and if a couple are not mated their progeny will not replenish the earth. On the contrary the progeny of such mismated couples are now replenishing the drug store, the operating table, the asylum and the grave, but not the earth."

* * * * *

That there is something wrong goes without saying, but who is at fault? That's the question before the people.

It used to be the fashion to blame all the badness on the devil, but since he has gone out of style we are at a loss for something, or someone to blame it on.

While not a very lovable or commendable sort of fellow, the devil comes in quite handy in various ways.

This view of the matter is very cleverly presented and worked out in the following verses:

Men don't believe in a devil now, as their fathers used to do,
They have forced the door of various creeds to let his majesty through.
There isn't a print in his cloven foot, or a fiery dart from his bow
To be found in earth or air today—for the world has voted so.

But who is mixing the fatal draught that palsies heart and brain,
And loads the bier of each passing year with ten hundred thousand slain?
Who blights the bloom of the land today with the fiery breath of hell,
If the devil isn't and never was? Won't somebody rise and tell?

Who dogs the steps of the tolling saint, and digs the pit for his feet?
Who sows the tares in the field of time wherever God sows wheat?
The devil is voted not to be, and of course the thing is true;
But who just now is doing the work the devil alone should do?

We are told he does not go about like a roaring lion now;
But whom shall we hold responsible for the everlasting row
To be heard in home, in church and state, to the earth's remotest bound,
If the devil by a unanimous vote is nowhere to be found?

Won't somebody step to the front forthwith, and make their bow and show
How the fraude and the crimes of a single day spring up? We want to know.
The devil was fairly voted out, and of course the devil's gone;
But simple people would like to know who carries his business on?

Strikes and Arbitration.

While industrial affairs in Chicago and elsewhere are perplexing, it is useless to grow despondent. The only virtue that there can be in such warning words as those which are reported is the effect that it will have in sobering both employers and employes and reducing the likelihood of restoring to violence instead of reason in the settlement of differences, says the Columbus Dispatch. It should not be forgotten that a way to the settlement of all labor disputes has been found in arbitration. The time will come, if conditions, as apprehended by some, grow worse, when this will have to be universally employed for the prompt settlement of every dispute. Certainly the people of this country are not going to permit matters to go from bad to worse until a condition of practical anarchy prevails.

Colombian Greed.

The Colombian congress meets June 20 to consider the canal treaty, and the reports from Bogota indicate the rejection of the instrument. According to one report the rejection will be a step in the plan to postpone favorable action for two years. By that time the rights of the Panama Canal Company will have expired, and the Colombians believe that they can gobble in the $40,000,000 which we have agreed to pay the French company. It is evident that we have already borne with these people too much. We have conceded to them more than we should have done, and we should waste little more time with them. The canal should be well under way in two years, if not through Colombian, then Nicaraguan territory.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Shall chauffeurs sit at the same table as their employers? This is a curious question in social ethics that is disturbing the minds of automobile drivers and which may eventually prove to be as difficult of adjustment as that of the speed of automobiles on public highways. The chauffeur considers himself a professional man, ranking with engineers, at least. He is treated at wayside hotels as if he were merely a coachman or servant in fact. When a touring party on a motor car, or several motor cars, halts at a roadhouse for dinner, it has become the rule for the chauffeurs to be placed at table away from the passengers. Sometimes the landlord is told to put the chauffeurs with other guests who are not in the touring party. Then there is a protest all around. The innkeeper does not like to put a man with his other guests who is not considered of the social rank of the automobile party, and he is inclined to put his foot down hard. Then where is the chauffeur to get his dinner? As a rule, some sort of compromise is effected, and this trouble is tided over for the time being. The next party that comes to the hotel brings the difficulty all over again, and hotelkeepers are anxious that some solution of the problem shall be reached once and for all. It is admitted that the owner of a $10,000 touring car may not care to make his mechanic who handles it one of his exclusive party; but, on the other hand, the chauffeur does not see why he should be treated like a parvey. Thus stands the case at present. Either the chauffeur must pocket his pride or the innkeeper must contrive some special apartment for the chauffeur where he can be waited on as carefully and with as much outward show of respect as is accorded to his employer and his employer's friends.

Fog Prevents the Yacht Race.

Fog prevented the race of yachts at sea today. It would have been of little use to let the three fivers, one of which will be the defender of the America's cup, to go out beyond Sandy Hook this morning, with such a thick mist about them as has prevailed all day. It may be two or three days before the weather conditions will be favorable. Meanwhile Sir Thomas Lipton may reach this port in time to see what Reliance, Columbia and Constitution can do in a freshening breeze, thus giving him a line on what may be expected when Shamrock III. enters the contest.

Accident Arouses Sympathy.

A thrill of horror went through this whole community today when the news was cabled from Paris that Constance Gracie, the young daughter of Archibald Gracie of New York, had been killed in an elevator accident. Mr. Gracie is a very well known New Yorker and expressions of sympathy for him can be heard on all sides.

Ammon Not Alarmed.

Col. Robert A. Ammon is in the Tombs again tonight. Naturally, he has nothing to say for publication on the sensational move of the district attorney in asking that two of the jurors be discharged and others sworn in, but the colonel looks very happy, and it is said by his friends that the desperate nature of the case of the prosecution is shown by the extraordinary precautions taken by the district attorney's office.

Dignity Don't Mix With Baseball.

Columbia professors who thought they could play baseball had the tar knocked out of them by the seniors this afternoon, as they generally do. The score was 26 to 12, and the students say the only reason they didn't make more runs was they were tired of knocking the ball about. There was a big crowd to watch the game. What the professors lacked in skill and agility they made up in dignity.

Olyphant on the Witness Stand.

Robert M. Olyphant, who was president of the Delaware & Hudson Company up to 10 days ago, was the witness examined in the hearing on the price of coal before the interstate commerce commission this afternoon. The proceedings would have been dry were they not of such intimate interest to the whole community. As is commonly the case when a thoroughly experienced business man is in the witness chair, it was not easy for counsel to get much out of him. He answered the questions, but always so guardedly that it does not look as if any particular information will be in possession of the commission at the end of his examination. Still there are other witnesses to come. Mr. Baer among them.

Governor's Heavy Responsibility.

Flanagan, convicted of murdering a keeper at the West Side police court prison, was electrocuted today at Sing Sing. He had been reprieved twice, but was executed at last. Gov. Odell does not like to sign death warrants, more than any other public official, but he did not flinch from his duty when it was plain. Now the question discussed in some quarters is what he will do with Mrs. Taylor, who is in Dannemora prison awaiting execution for the murder of her husband. Efforts are making to get the death sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. When the unspeakable Mrs. Nack managed to get off with a light sentence there is no telling what the governor may do in Mrs. Taylor's case.

Good Day for the Mud Larks.

There was a great splashing in the mud at Gravesend today. It was heavy going for some of the horses, although there were several mud larks entered in the various events who found conditions very much to their liking. There was an enormous crowd of spectators. Rain cannot keep away a racing crowd in New York.

Burglars Left Demolished Safe.

That 400-pound safe which someone stole from a house in Williamsburg early on Saturday morning was found today three-quarters of a mile away. It was in a vacant lot, covered by a canvas bag. It had been blown open with dynamite, and the door lay 10 feet away. Two gold watches, $38 in bills and some valuable mortgages and other papers were missing. As the safe has been found, the detectives think they may be able to catch up with the contents in course of time.

Work of the "Little Mother."

One of the oldest charities of this metropolis is the "Little Mothers' Aid association." The "Little Mothers" are the small children in East Side tenements who have to take care of younger children while their parents are at work. In some cases one or both of the parents are dead, while in others they are drunk. It is all one to the "Little Mother." She has to look after her brothers and sisters, and so well does she do it that she has aroused the sympathy and admiration of many charitable women in this city who have organized a society and school for the special purpose of helping the "Little Mothers" all they can. There was an exhibition of work done by the poor little things on Saturday and the articles were sold for their benefit. There will be seashore excursions throughout the summer, but the winter school closed on Saturday with the exhibition.

In Vacation Days.

A New David Harum.

Mr. James Torrence, the Market street druggist, has just returned from a fishing trip in the mountains of Maryland. He admits catching a basket full of fish that would make a professional Izaak Walton green with envy, but better still, found a unique character in a mountaineer who rivals the fabled David Harum in a "hoss trade." His particular business is farming, but he will unbitch his best horse from the plow in the busy season to get into a dicker. While Mr. Torrence was there a fellow came along with a team of ponies which the old gentleman purchased for $125. The following day he traded the ponies to a neighbor for a horse and got $125 "to boot." Within a few hours he had disposed of the horse for $300.

"That beats farmin' for small profit and quick returns," chuckled the old fellow as he complacently folded the bills and shoved them down in his jeans.

This dealing left the old gentleman without trading stock, but he was not in the least purturbed. "There's a fellow got a 2-year-old I'm going to get within a week," he said. "He don't know it, but I'm goin' to get it."

"I'm waiting to hear the latest returns on that 2-year-old," said Mr. Torrence in recounting the tale. "I saw enough of the old man to feel confident that the colt is as good as in his stable right now."

Realism That Is Real.

"When I read Booth Tarkington's description of the return of Harkless—the great Harkless—to his village home after a living death of idleness in the city, I thought he was overdrawing the picture," said a Pittsburgh man just back from his old home town. "Now, however, I can appreciate the story as I never could before. Last week I returned to my old home with a younger brother who had been away for three years, and his enthusiasm as he saw the old familiar house and shrines as we approached the town was equal to that of Harkless. First came the scenes along the railway, then we took the street car at the station to go up town, and from that time it was a treat for me to watch the youth and listen to his enthusiastic comments, only occasionally dropping a word to show that I appreciated his feeling. 'There's old Dose Bell, the fireman,' he exclaimed to me, then waived his hand to a uniformed man walking down the street, and shouted in a lusty voice, 'Hello, Dose!' and he got a friendly 'hello,' in return. Then he caught sight of a push business block. 'Voegtle is spreading out some,' he exclaimed. Next came another uniformed personage, and I heard his shout, 'Hello, Mike!' Then I learned that Mike Well had become chief of police, after long years as a plain patrolman.

"Later we reached the public square and the youth was soon surrounded with his boy friends. They were bank clerks, drug clerks, traveling salesmen home for over Sunday, and the greeting he received showed how good it is to get back home before you are forgotten. To me they were but unnamed people, for the most part, and I was only recognized as the lad's older brother. These prosperous-looking young fellows had been in swaddling clothes and kilts when I had last seen them, now grown to be among that class of young American citizens that help to make up the sum total of prosperity because they work with their minds and their hands and weekly lay by a part of the goods the gods give them for their toil.

"And thus was I left out of it all, until we came to the old home. The mother and the father had not forgotten, and while their gray hairs are more numerous their hearts are still young, and I felt more as though I were of the present generation. Later I found some of my old friends, staid and prosperous business men, the heads of families, and we had a glorious time recalling the days when we roamed the woods and fished and swam together—I don't care to admit how many years ago."

The Passing of the Years.

"That reminds me," said a listener, "of a home visit I made not long ago, after a number of years spent in the west. I hadn't counted the years, and failed to realize that while the gray hairs were gradually stealing along my temples Father Time was also playing tricks with the folks sitting beside the old fireside with no inclination to wander. I had wonderful dreams as the train sped on toward home of the greeting I would receive, and the surprise I was to give the little friends and chief among my memories was of a little girl whom I had had as a playfellow from the time I first saw her as a baby. It did not seem many years since I had pushed the baby carriage about with the bright little youngster as an occupant, and I thought of the days when she was learning to walk and talk, and how I had hugged her in glee the first time she was able to articulate in her baby voice what was intended for my name. I knew from the letters from home that she still lived 'next door,' and was anxious to see her old friend again.

"It was evening when I reached the old home, and after supper we were all sitting on the porch when I heard her voice. It was the same voice, only matured, and I would have recognized it among a hundred. As she came up to me in the twilight I put my arm around her waist and kissed her as I always had done, but when I tried to lift her upon my knee I found a strange resistance.

"'After a little talk' she suggested that we 'go to see mamma,' and as we passed under the electric light I saw and understood.

"'How old are you, child?' I demanded.

"'Nineteen,' she replied demurely. 'I'm to be married in June.'

"'And straightway I became jealous.'"

The Grown-Up Little Brother.

"That was not the only shock I had," continued my friend. "When I started west I left behind a little brother.' He was a tall, thin youth on whom I had allowed to descend the clothes of which I had tired. He never complained, for I would pick out some pretty good things occasionally, in which he would blossom out as the envy of all the boys in his clan. He was not at home when I arrived, and I anxiously awaited the appearance of the youth, for I had some treasures for him in my trunk—which were destined to remain there. It was near midnight when the parlor door opened and a young hercules entered carrying a great bundle of old clothes.

"'It's your turn now,' he said, dropping the bundle at my feet. 'I have outgrown these, and they will about fit you.'

"The little brother was six feet tall and weighed 200 pounds."

Ministers' Salaries.

The ministry is a vocation that calls for higher standards of scholarship and greater capacity for leadership and sacrifice than ever before. As the worn-out preachers who have saved nothing must go upon the roll of annuitants and add to the burden of the churches, would it not be better policy to pay them larger salaries in the days of their greatest power and usefulness?—Chicago Record-Herald.

VOTERS' LEAGUE WRITES HAYS

Wants Him to Name Members Who Own Houses Rented for Disorderly Purposes.

THE ANSWER TO COME LATER

Mayor Will Reply After He Has Completed His Investigation and Familiarized Himself With the Membership of the Club.

Mayor William B. Hays has been requested by the executive committee of the Voters' Civic league to name the members of the league who own houses which he alleges have been rented for immoral purposes. He says he will answer the letter when he has completed his examination.

When the members of the executive committee of the league read the interview of the mayor printed in the papers of yesterday morning they acted promptly. Before noon a meeting had been called and this letter sent to Mr. Hays:

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 8, 1903.

To the Hon. William B. Hays,
Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh.

The newspapers this morning contain certain interviews in which you are quoted as saying that members of the Voters' Civic league have rented houses for immoral purposes. The league is composed of a large number of members, of a general committee of 80 and an executive committee of 10. The league acts through the executive committee. We respectfully request the names of the offending members of the league. We will at once take action.

This league means what it says. Had you been equally sincere in your pre-election promises you would also have acted when we recently offered to supply you with evidence of wrong doing by city employes.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
Of the Voters' Civic League.

Mayor Hays said yesterday afternoon that he had never seen a complete roster of the league. After he had familiarized himself with the membership of the body and completed his inquiry into the ownership of the houses rented for questionable purposes, he will take up the league's communication. He remarked that if the names of the owners of all the houses in Pittsburgh used for questionable purposes were made public, many men in the city would hold up their hands in holy horror.

City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers says that he has been commissioned by the mayor to determine on a policy of dealing with the illegal liquor traffic in disorderly houses. He says that legally there is no question about the right of the police to stop the sale, and the only question involved is one of policy. When he has arrived at a conclusion, he will communicate with the mayor.

GOOD WORK FOR MISSIONS.

Reformed Church Synod at Asbury Park Hears Satisfactory Report of the Committee.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 8.—(Special.)—The Reformed church synod resumed its session this afternoon after a recess of two days. It was hoped that the report on the plan for organic union with the Southern Presbyterian church would be read, but a very voluminous report of the committee on foreign missions took precedence. This report was satisfactory to the synod and showed that $142,000 had been collected for the board during the year, all from the churches, a gain of $6,000 over last year's report, which also contained a special gift of $25,000.

The Rev. Dr. Cobb, secretary of the board, made an earnest appeal for increased contributions to carry on the work. He said that $150,000 would be required for missions next year. Dr. Burrell, Dr. Kittredge and others asked the board to lead the way and the church would follow.

ON TRIAL FOR HERESY.

German Lutheran Ministerium Conducting the Hearing Behind Closed Doors.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The charges of heresy preferred against the Rev. Hugo Wendell of Trenton, N. J., were considered at today's session of the Lutheran ministerium. Some of the delegates suggested that certain documents be eliminated from the hearing, but they were overruled. They showed their disapproval of this decision by withdrawing from the convention. The proceedings were conducted in German behind closed doors. A decision is not expected before Wednesday.

The board of home missions, on which action was deferred, showed a total of $60,831 had been raised during the past year, making an average of $10 a man.

New Pastor Is Called.

The congregation of the First Christian church, Allegheny, has extended a call to the Rev. Wallace Tharp to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. John W. Kerns. Dr. Tharp is pastor of the Christian church at Crawfordsville, Ind., and will not take charge of the Allegheny church until September.

LOVELY LACES AT AN OPPORTUNE TIME.

Just What Thousands of Women Want, at Campbell's.

Everybody is making something for summer wear that calls for laces—a foulard dress, a sheer, summery cotton gown, a dainty shirt waist, pretty undermuslins or some other article of feminine apparel.

That's one reason why the lace counter at Campbell's has been crowded for the last month.

What will happen tomorrow when 36,000 yards of laces, consisting of more than 1,000 sample pieces (no two alike), bought from a New York importer, who wanted to sail for Europe so badly that he was ready to make great concessions for spot cash—what will happen when all these laces go on sale at once, at one-half, one-third and some at one-fourth their real value?

JOBBERS SURE TO TAKE THEIR QUOTA BY JUNE 15

Indications All Said to Point to Settling of Window Glass Market Satisfactorily.

The window glass jobbers will by June 15, the extended date, have taken the 300,000 boxes at the price set by the companies. This statement can be made on good authority. At the New York meeting, when the time limit for the purchase was extended to the middle of this month, there was practical assurance given that the jobbers would accept the offer of that amount at 88 per cent, the agreed price. Since that time the developments have been carrying out this assurance.

With this glass off of the manufacturers' hands the market promises to become far more settled. There had been considerable fear among the manufacturers that much trouble was ahead and the large surplus on hand added greatly to this fear.

The glass machine still remains a puzzling proposition. Its operation with all success seems established despite reports to the contrary. Whether the equipment of the tank plants of the American company with the machine this summer and their operation by this method will produce so much window glass at so much lower cost than the manual product as to affect seriously the price of all window glass is a question being debated pro and con with eager interest. No one can say definitely as yet the solution to this problem.

The work of the American company in equipping its plants with the machine is going ahead rapidly. The machines are being made in the Allegheny plant and those in use in Indiana are said to continue their satisfactory operation.

Be Careful.

A funny thing occurred on a Pullman car the other night. A gentleman had gone to bed in one of the lower berths and thinking the upper berth would not be occupied placed his valise there. As the train filled up all the berths were taken. It became necessary for the porter to remove his valise and place it on the floor at the side of his berth. In doing so he let the valise down with a jar and broke a bottle in it, the contents of which ran out. "Golly," he cried, "I have broken a bottle." "Broken a bottle!" came a roar from behind the curtains; "did you break a bottle in my valise?" "Guess I did, sir." "Do you know, porter, you have put me to the bad?" "Bottle of Bourbon, sir?" "No, sir; it was a bottle of Red Raven Splits, the only pleasant tasting aperient water. I was to take it tomorrow before breakfast. You can't get any substitute for Red Raven. Nothing acts so gently on the liver or is so good for a man after he has spent a night on the cars. I would rather have had you wreck the train than have broken that bottle." "Do not get excited, sir," replied the porter, "I know the goods. Indeed they are excellent. Don't worry; you can get them on the diner in the morning."

Good Board in Colorado $8 a week

The idea that it costs a "mint of money" to spend a vacation in Colorado is all wrong. On the contrary, it is a fact that no other summer resort State has so many moderate-priced hotels and boarding houses.

Comfortable places, where one can get excellent fare and comfortable quarters for $8 to $10 a week, are to be found in many parts of the state; and then there are a number of hotels with elaborate service for those who require a great deal and are willing to pay for it.

The cost of a visit to Colorado will, of course, depend on the length of your stay. At Manitou, Colorado Springs and Glenwood Springs, a good room and first-class board can be had for $14 a week and upwards. During the summer months, the leading fashionable hotels charge $17.50 a week, and in some cases, $20, $25 and even $30. But at all of Colorado's resorts are hotels which provide good accommodations for as little as $8 or $10 a week. Boarding houses ask even less—$25 to $35 a month. Excluding railroad fare to and from Colorado, $75 is a liberal estimate of the cost of a month's stay in the mountains. In actual practice it is likely that the majority of the people who visit Colorado spend little more than $50 a month for their board, lodging and amusements. The railroad fare is a small part of the expense this year. Round-trip tickets will be sold from Chicago for $30 from June 1 to September 30; for $25 from July 1 to 10.

Send for a free copy of our "Colorado Handbook"—it tells just what you want to know about the hotels and boarding houses.

KISHINEFF MASSACRE IS DOMINANT NOTE OF ZIONISTS

Denunciation of the Terrible Treatment by Russian Mob Made at the Convention.

EDUCATION FOR THE JEWS

Great Problem Subject of Many Strong Addresses at the Afternoon Session. Elaborate Banquet Given Delegates by Pittsburgh Daughters of Zion.

Kishineff and the massacre of the Jews by the Russians is the dominant note of the sixth annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists in session in Central Turner hall, this city. Before the discussion of this horror the great problems of the Zionists pale into insignificance. Scarcely a speaker but referred in touching phrases to the terrible disaster to their unfortunate brethren.

At the session yesterday morning strong resolutions were adopted thanking the American press for its uniform resentment of Russia's treatment of the Jews and for the protests made against the slaughter of the Jews at Kishineff. A resolution was also adopted extending the sympathy of the Federation of American Zionists to the survivors of the Kishineff horror and offering aid to those who are suffering.

Reports were received from the various committees and adopted. A lengthy and heated discussion preceded the report of the committee on revision and constitution. The New York delegates desired to keep the seat of the executive council in that city, while others favored having the headquarters in whatever city the chairman of the council may reside. It was also proposed to have 15 members of the council instead of 8, but it was the opinion of the majority of the delegates that a small committee would be more efficient than a large one.

EDUCATIONAL QUESTION.

The most important meeting of the convention yet held was the afternoon session yesterday. The meeting was given over to the discussion of the Jewish educational question, which has been receiving the attention of the leading Jews of this country for the last decade.

The education of the young Hebrews, it was asserted, is the only hope for the realization of the aims and ideals of the Federation of Zionists, which hopes to reclaim Palestine for their people. The movement, while not entered into enthusiastically many of the older Jews, is taken up readily by the younger ones, and their education as well as the education of generations to come in the Hebrew language and Hebrew traditions is the sole hope of Zionism all over the world.

DR. BENDERLEY'S ADDRESS.

A number of able addresses were made on the question and a general discussion of the problem was participated in by the delegates. "The Jewish Educational Problem" was the subject of a comprehensive address by Dr. S. Benderley. He touched on almost every phase of the subject, criticising the methods now in use as being inefficient and urging the adoption of more adequate methods. Dr. Benderley said in part:

Jewish education is characterized by lack of method and efficiency, and the education of the Jewish girl is conspicuous by its absence. It is palpable in the extreme that the Jewish people, the people of the Book, whose entire history is one long tale of self-denial and self-sacrifice for the law, should be many centuries behind the rest of the world in educational methods.

That the future of Judaism depends on the proper education of the generation now growing up all admit; that the Jewish educational methods are in a chaotic condition, all realize, but few know that there is a way out of this chaos.

If the renaissance is to be more than a mere flash in the pan in this country, if it is to lead to the regeneration of the American Jew, it must be now or never in time. We must proceed at once to evolve a wise method and adopt a plan of action to render the method effectual in practice.

Our first efforts must be directed toward the emancipation of Jewish education from charity. In the early stages the new system will need some support from the friends of education, but its aim should be self support.

Jewish history should be taught as history and not as dogma. The pupil must be left to draw his own conclusions from the Mosaic legends of the Bible itself. Among all the branches of Jewish education none is more important than Jewish history, for a thorough knowledge of Jewish history is an effective means of keeping Jews within the fold under adverse conditions of separation from the center kernel of the nation. Therefore Jewish history must be taught effectively, and the strongest must be laid upon the relation of Jewish history to universal history.

When we approach the task of implanting the faith of our fathers in the heart of the young generation we must first impregnate ourselves with the realization that the home influence, which in the past contributed so largely to the preservation of the race, cannot, at least for the present, be relied upon in this country. It is extremely weak in comparison with the outside influences. Jewish communal education should therefore come to the assistance of the home.

The future of Judaism in America—and this means more today than it did 20 years ago, and it will mean more 20 years hence—depends upon the establishment of a large number of self-supporting schools, in which the common correspondence with American life, having a curriculum extending over a period of 12 years, and carried into effect by a staff of well-trained, properly trained, fully informed, talented, reasonable teachers.

MADE A STRONG PLEA.

The Rev. Adolph M. Raidin made a strong plea for the perpetuation of the study of the Hebrew language, saying that it is one of the three elements that bind a nation together, the two others being religion and country. After dwelling at some length upon the necessity of teaching the Jewish language to the youth, Dr. Raidin said:

Thousands of our immigrant brethren in this country are well to do, and have even accumulated much wealth. In New York and other large cities of the union, hundreds of former peddlers and small tradesmen live now in palatial residences, own cottages in the finest summer resorts and live in grand style. They and their sons are extravagant in their apparel, their wives and daughters wear expensive dresses and are the best customers of the jewelers.

Americanism is the watchword with them. As it is with their children. I surely would be the last one to criticise them for being desirous of becoming Americanized in the lofty meaning of the term. They only fail to discover, alas, to know that Americanism does not mean the worship of the almighty dollar, the dancing around the golden calf. To Americanize life means to supplement trophy in materialism to quicken life, to commercial it. Why should they not learn a lesson from our Christian fellow citizens, who, in spite of materialistic notions and ambitions, devote their attentions to their church by founding and endowing theological seminaries and libraries.

The Jewish educational question is Zionism, without any reservation. Industrial, agricultural and political a Jewish life, a Jewish language, in a Jewish land. I have arrived at this conclusion after much thinking and doubting and bleeding to arguments pro and con. The massacre of our brethren in Kishineff in the name and for the glory of a powerful Christian denomination, the cynical explanations of the bestial butchery, made by the Russian ambassador at Washington, and the infamous laudatory comments of the Russian Pan-Slavistic press on these atrocities have cured me, radically and totally, from the dream, hope that our modern civilization, based upon egotism and selfishness, will put a stop to anti-Semitism and its brutalities. Our mission is not to be pillaged and robbed and slaughtered and butchered by drunken beasts.

But Zionism is only the structure of Israel's future. It cannot be erected and built up without a solid and firm foundation. That again, cannot be laid without keeping up and fostering Jewish ideals, and there is no Judaism without the historical Hebrew language.

Miss Henrietta Szold read a paper on the "Education of the Jewish Girl." She said that the training of the girl must go hand in hand with the education of the boy. She deplored the fact that in the past the education of the Jewish girl was neglected and laid the blame largely to the indifference of the parents. Other papers were read by Dr. Max Heller and Louis Lipsky.

AN ELABORATE BANQUET.

The delegates were given a banquet last night by the Pittsburgh Daughters of Zion. The affair was most elaborate. The banquet room in Turner hall was profusely decorated with palms, flowers, American and Zionist flags. Fully 300 covers were laid, and the guests and the hosts enjoyed an excellent collation.

M. L. Asher acted as toastmaster. The first toast was "Our Diplomats," by I. D. Morrison. He was followed by the Rev. A. M. Ashinsky of Pittsburgh, who responded to the toast, "The National Idea." A. Leo Weil, a Pittsburgh attorney, who spoke on "Watchman, What of the Night?"

A review of the work of the sixth annual convention, as far as it had gone, was presented by the Rev. Dr. Leon Magnus of Philadelphia, who presented the Kishineff resolutions at Sunday's session. His address was listened to with considerable interest. The toast, "Pittsburgh Zionists," was responded to by Lewis Albern, of this city.

Jacob DeHaas, secretary of the American Federation, responded to the toast, "Daughters of Zion." He told of the work done by the women in forwarding the Zionist movement. He was followed by the Hon. S. H. Borofsky with an address on "The Federation." Mr. Borofsky spoke of the purposes of the Zionist movement, its aims and its hopes, and told of how the American Federation leads the Zionist movement in the world. "Jewish Culture" was the toast responded to by the Rev. Dr. Leventhal. Dr. B. L. Gordon of Philadelphia spoke on "Zionist Institutions." He was followed by Dr. Singer, who responded to the toast "The Younger Generation," and Miss Weinshenker, who spoke in behalf of the women of Zion, her toast being "The Women of Israel."

RABBI HIRSCH NOT PRESENT.

A place at the large banquet table was reserved for Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch of Chicago, one of the foremost Jews in the world. It had been expected that he would be present and make the address he was scheduled to make at the big meeting on Sunday night. Word was received, however, that he would not be able to come, as during the convention, owing to pressing business in connection with his synagogue.

The election of officers will take place this morning and it is likely that all the present officers will be re-elected. Cleveland is the only city that is making a strong fight for the next annual convention, and it is probable that city will be chosen. The business meetings end this morning. The rest of the day will be given over to social functions.

The Swissvale school board last night elected the following officers: President A. Z. Hays; secretary, Dr. W. T. Pyle; treasurer, Henry Green, president of the First National bank of Swissvale. The four new members in the board are William Ferguson, A. L. Lee and Dr. W. T. Pyle, who were elected, and A. Z. Hays, by appointment. Eleven teachers were elected, but no principal.

POSSIBILITIES OF PERU.

Senor Pezet Tells of Money-Making Chances in South America.

Senor F. A. Pezet, secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, gave an informal talk before a small audience in the parlors of the Hotel Schenley last evening on the romantic history and social conditions of Peru, its industrial possibilities and the markets it affords to American products. He suggested last night that a party of Pittsburghers be organized to explore the Amazon river. The project met with favor and may be carried out.

Senor Pezet was escorted through the Westinghouse Electric works yesterday by Prof. William McFadden. He has visited most of the great industries of Pittsburgh with the view of utilizing them in his own country wherever possible. Senor Pezet, wife and daughter leave Pittsburgh for New York this morning. They will sail for Peru in a few days.

FATAL SCALDS IN BATH TUBS.

Death of Allegheny Child—Two Victims of the Railroad.

Arthur Jackson, aged 18 months, died last night at the home of his parents, in the rear of No. 1408 Mixon street, Allegheny, of burns received on Saturday afternoon. The child fell into a tub of scalding water while his mother was preparing his bath.

Michael Erwine died at the West Penn hospital last night of a fractured skull and internal injuries, which he received on the Panhandle railroad early in the evening.

Gilbert Johnson, a negro, while at work in a tunnel on the Wabash railroad, got caught between two cars and was badly squeezed yesterday. He died later at the West Penn hospital. He boarded at No. 164 Wabash avenue and his home was somewhere in Virginia.

BOY TERROR OF INGRAM TELLS THE TALE OF HIS DEPRAVITY

"Me brother, he's only a kid, but he's a better thief than me," said 13-year-old August Barnett, "The Ingram Terror," in a hearing before Magistrate C. F. Anderson yesterday. "Me brother's only 10 years old, but he learned me to be a robber. Me pal, he's the best, though. He helped to rob Mr. Roesler's house and after we came out through the window he swiped all the money and went to North Dakota. He's the best ever, he is. We got some beer in Mr. Roesler's house, but only drank a little bit, for you know, it doesn't do for thieves to get drunk."

This statement was made when a hearing was given the boy on the charge of entering the building of C. J. Roesler, a well known resident of Ingram last Friday night, when $15 and a case of beer were stolen. He is the same boy who is charged with throwing a brick through a window of Judge J. A. Evans' residence and then during the judge to send him to prison. It was stated by Constable H. A. Stewart, who made the arrest, that the boy had been allowed to run where he pleases.

THE DEATH ROLL

William Mortimer Jackson.

William Mortimer Jackson, 24 years old, a member of the sophomore class of the West Penn Medical college of the Western University of Pennsylvania, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 5424 Claybourne street, Shadyside. He had been ill for the past nine weeks with typhus-pneumonia. He was born in the First ward, Pittsburgh, but for the past 12 years had resided at Shadyside. He attended the Liberty public school and studied for two years in the commercial department of the Pittsburgh High school. Later he entered the academical department, from which he was graduated. In the annual essay contest given under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Carnegie museum, Mr. Jackson won a cash prize two years ago. He was a well-known athlete in this section, having for some years played on the Western University football team and with the baseball team of the Medical college. He was a son of Robert and Mrs. Cornelia A. Jackson, who, with two sisters, Misses Hattie and Villa, and two brothers, Ralph, the well-known amateur bicycle rider, and Robert, Jr., survive. A sad feature connected with the death of the young man is that his mother, one brother and one sister are in Denver, Col., and will not be able to attend the funeral of the young man, owing to the ill health of Miss Villa. Funeral services will be held over the remains of Mr. Jackson tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the family home in Shadyside, followed by interment Thursday morning at the Allegheny cemetery. After the funeral Mr. Jackson will go to Denver with the members of his family now in Pittsburgh and remain there for an indefinite period.

Fireman Patrick Sweeney Buried.

Funeral services over the remains of Patrick Sweeney, the Allegheny fireman, who died from injuries received while going to the fire at the Federal street end of the Sixth street bridge last Friday evening, were held yesterday morning at St. Andrew's Catholic church, Allegheny. The Rev. Father John Carroll had charge of the services. The funeral was attended by a detail of 34 firemen, in charge of Assistant Chief Engineer Peter Schulman. The detail escorted the remains from the home of Fireman Sweeney's sister, Miss Mary Sweeney, at No. 4 Western row, Woods run, to the church and thence to the Sixteenth street bridge. During the funeral procession the fire bells on engine houses Nos. 2, 6 and 8 were tolled. There were many handsome floral pieces banked about the grave in Calvary cemetery after the remains were interred.

Mrs. Eleanor Ewing Gilfillan.

Mrs. Eleanor Ewing Gilfillan, 77 years old, a sister of the late Judge Thomas Ewing of the Allegheny county courts, died yesterday at her home in Upper St. Clair township, where she resided for 54 years. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at her home. Mrs. Gilfillan was born in Washington county, Pa., and was the widow of John Gilfillan. She is survived by one sister, Miss Mary Ewing, and four children: the Misses Margaret and Eleanor Mrs. Jennie Gilfillan Judge Robert S. Frazer, and one son, Alexander Gilfillan. Mrs. Gilfillan was a member of the Mt. Lebanon United Presbyterian church for over 40 years. She was also a charter member of the congregation which attended the Mt. Lebanon church, when the venerable Dr. Boyd assumed the pastorate.

Rev. Father Hugh J. Croke.

The Rev. Hugh J. Croke, a young missionary priest, died in a hospital in Philadelphia yesterday of consumption. Father Croke was 32 years of age and had been in charge of a mission at Buckland, New Zealand. While there he developed pulmonary trouble and feeling that his illness would prove fatal, he attempted to reach his home in Ireland. He reached Philadelphia last week and intended sailing for Queenstown the following day, but his strength was unequal to the voyage.

Funeral of Fireman Patrick Sweeny.

The remains of Patrick Sweeny, the Allegheny fireman who was killed while going to a fire last Thursday night, were buried yesterday morning from the residence of his sister, Miss Mary Sweeny, in Western row, Woods run. A detail of 34 firemen in charge of Assistant Chief Engineer Schulman accompanied the remains from the house to St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church in Beaver avenue. The funeral was largely attended.

James Creighton.

James Creighton, for 50 years a resident of Omaha, Neb., and one of the wealthiest of its citizens, died at his home yesterday, after a prolonged illness. He served as county and state officer several terms, and was a member of the firm which built the Pacific telegraph line and had several of the large contracts for grading the Union Pacific railroad. He once transported overland $40,000 in gold dust at one shipment.

Michael Kelly.

Michael Kelly, 62 years old, died yesterday at his home, No. 433 John street, Braddock, of paralysis. He was born in Armagh county, Ireland, and came to America when 25 years old. He had been in the employ of the Edgar Thomson steel works for 22 years. He is survived by his wife. Mr. Kelly was a member of St. Thomas Roman Catholic church.

Peter Cain.

Peter Cain, aged 34 years, one of the best-known young men of Homestead, died in the Municipal hospital at that place late Sunday night of smallpox, with which he had been suffering for several days. He is survived by five brothers, Thomas, James, William, John and Rodger, and two sisters, the Misses Alice and Ella Cain, all of Homestead.

Obituary Notes.

Miss Patty Downs, aged 21, died Sunday night at Sharon, Pa., of typhoid fever. Her parents and one sister, Miss Daisy Downs, survive.

Adolphus Chew, a pioneer resident of Brownsville, Pa., is dead. He was 92 years of age. He lived in Brownsville more than half a century. A son and a daughter survive.

Samuel A. McClelland, 60 years old, a member of Post 88, G. A. R., is dead at his home, No. 87 Charles street, Allegheny. He is survived by his widow and five children.

Word has been received in Braddock of the death of Mrs. G. W. Harry, of Lincoln, Neb. She was well known in Braddock some years ago. Her maiden name was Tillie Spires. She is survived by three brothers.

Mrs. Anna M. Cox, wife of J. R. Cox of New Wilmington, Pa., died Sunday night, aged 58. She leaves her husband and the following children: Lewis, Charles, Calvin and Misses Grace, Alice, Nellie and Martha.

Nicholas Yeager, 80 years old, an employe of the Schoenberger malt house, died last night at his home, No. 179 Ohio street, Allegheny. Four daughters survive. He was a member of St. Paul's German Evangelical church, the I. O. O. F. and the Knights of Honor.

Joseph H. Crowther, a bricklayer of New Castle, Pa., died Sunday night of typhoid fever. He was born at Salem, O., 47 years ago. He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church and is survived by his widow and four children, Thomas W., James, Lee and Miss Nancy.

CHICAGO RESTAURANT PROPRIETORS WEAKEN.

CHICAGO, June 8.—(Special.)—Union league waiters and other employes at 2:30 p. m. today, were ordered to go on strike at 4:30. Restaurant managers and proprietors are apparently weakening in the face of the strikes. Nearly all of them went to Union headquarters today anxious to keep their association in the background and to treat as individuals with the labor organization.

Pittsburgh Nurses Speak.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The nurses of Pennsylvania met to organize a state nurses' association today. There were short addresses by Miss Giles of the Homeopathic hospital and Miss Russell of the West Penn hospital of Pittsburgh. Miss Brobson of Philadelphia was elected to the chair and Miss Ida F. Giles of Pittsburgh, secretary. The next meeting will be in Pittsburgh, in October.

Mrs. Harrison's Trip Delayed.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 8.—Mrs. Mary Lord Harrison, widow of ex-President Harrison, announced today that on account of illness her proposed trip to Japan was indefinitely postponed.

KING OF ITALY SENDS GIFT TO ROOSEVELT

Collection of Books of Rare Value Will Be Presented by Ambassador Des Planches.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—King Victor Emmanuel has sent to President Roosevelt a gift of rare value which will be presented to the president next Monday by Signor Mayor Des Planches, the Italian ambassador, who at his majesty's request, will be received in special audience at the White House.

The gift is one of books and consists of the war reports of Prince Eugene of Savoy, the illustrious Italian general, and of a copy of Dante's "Divine Comedia," with a comment in Latin by Stefano Talice da Ricaldine. The books are elegantly bound in full red morocco and bear the royal crest with the king's monogram in the four corners of each volume. The war reports are in 20 volumes and the Comedia in one volume.

The president is an enthusiastic admirer of Prince Eugene and has made a careful study of his campaigns. In some way the Italian ambassador learned of this fact and as soon as the king heard it preparations for sending the gift were begun.

Signor Mayor also will carry a personal message of good will from the king to the president.

DIVORCE IS DECRIED.

Whitelaw Reid Tells Vassar Girls That Revolution of the Evil Rests With Women.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 8.—Commencement week exercises at Vassar college began tonight with the delivery of the annual address before the Phi Beta Kappa by Whitelaw Reid.

In the course of his address Mr. Reid said: "Outside the immediate and inestimable effect on the family, the conservative power of educated women will naturally show its influence on social life. They will surely help to check its degradation. When higher ideals do return, the powerful influence of educated women will array the best of their sex in compact, resistless phalanx against a social evil, alarming, degrading and demoralizing, which has suddenly become almost too common to provoke surprise—the transformation of marriage from a sacrament of God into a thoughtless and heedless business or social arrangement to be dissolved almost at pleasure.

"Six hundred and fifty-four thousand persons divorced in this country in the last 20 years—such is the deplorable record on which Catholic and Protestant clergy are already appealing for a union of all moral agencies to resist this downward rush of the multitude."

HE INSULTED JOHN M'TIGHE

Richardson Is Now Out on Bail Charged With Being a Suspicious Person.

William Richardson, known among his friends as "Peasy," was arrested last night on the order of Superintendent of Police John McTighe, on a suspicious person. McTighe says Richardson insulted him.

"I did not want an altercation with him," said McTighe, "especially as I have 400 policemen to make arrests. Nasty."

Police Inspector Bernard McStay and Policeman Samuel Free found Richardson in Diamond street and took him to the Central police station.

John Sweeney, a former legislator, went along, summoned by Alderman Stephen J. Toole and went on Richardson's bond for $500.

Richardson was arrested on the same charge last Friday and was fined $10. He has appealed that case to court.

COMMISSIONERS REJECT ALL COURT HOUSE BIDS.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Contrary to all expectations, the county commissioners this afternoon unanimously agreed to reject all bids for the new court house of Westmoreland county. In the resolution adopted it was stated that inasmuch as the lowest bid received was over $50,000 greater than the lowest bid at the previous letting, taking into consideration the reductions made in the amended specifications, and owing to the fact that there was not a sufficient number of bidders, it was to the best interests of the county that all bids be rejected. Controller John H. Brown was directed to advertise for bids the fourth time.

Veterans Elect Officers.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—The annual reunion of Battery B of civil war fame was held today at Mt. Jackson. The officers elected were: President, Capt. J. Harvey Cooper, who commanded the battery during its first four years of service; vice president, G. W. Taylor; secretary, City Solicitor James A. Gardner of New Castle; treasurer, John Dunnan of Mt. Jackson. Capt. Cooper delivered the oration of the day.

LESS BANKS AND SAME INTEREST

Citizens Fail to Produce Reforms in System of Choosing City Depositories.

MOVE AFTER BUCKET SHOPS

Only Favored Brokers to Do Business. Slot Machines to Be Licensed—Morningside Street Railway Ordinance Is Passed—Also Railroad Vacations.

Common council transacted considerable business last night after the joint session, passing the ordinance for the Morningside street railway with the tax clause and the provision for transfers eliminated, the ordinances for the vacation of a number of streets in the Twenty-third ward for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and a large number of other measures.

W. H. Stevenson made a fight to have the railroad company assume liability for damages to "private property resulting from the vacation of the streets, but President C. S. Crawford produced the copy of an agreement to this effect which he said the railroad company would sign. Mr. Stevenson wanted a clause put in the ordinance making the vacation conditional upon the agreement being signed and filed by the railroad company within a specified time after the passage of the ordinances, but this amendment was defeated.

CRAWFORD CONTRADICTS RODGERS.

The statement made last night by D. F. Crawford, when called upon for a report of the special committee on the ordinance abolishing the fee system in the office of the delinquent tax collector, was at variance with the statement made Sunday by City Solicitor William B. Rodgers. Mr. Rodgers stated that he had the ordinance drawn up and ready, but Mr. Crawford, as chairman of the committee, stated last night that the city solicitor had not yet finished the ordinance and wanted more time on it. Mr. Stevenson then moved that the committee be continued, and this was done.

Mayor Hays sent a communication to councils stating that the Flinn dock on the Allegheny wharf was not large enough for more than one person to use, and that if councils wished to throw it open to the public they would have to make an appropriation to buy machinery and enlarge the dock. The matter was referred to a joint committee of five.

A number of important new bills were introduced. One was by Mr. Stevenson providing that the city depositories shall be limited to national banks having a capital stock and surplus of $1,500,000 and that the city treasurer shall have power to select three national banks as depositories and that the depositories shall pay 2 per cent interest on daily balances, while the city shall pay 3 per cent on any money that it shall borrow from the banks.

GETS NO HIGHER INTEREST.

These are the same rates that the city now pays and receives. The measure also reduces the number of depositories from four to three, which gives each of the banks a larger share of the city's funds.

Harry Lamb proposes to give the slot machines a chance to operate, introducing an ordinance to license all machines "other than gambling devices." The ordinance places a nominal tax on these machines. Mr. Stevenson also presented an ordinance for the licensing of all brokers other than pawn brokers, the city tossing the license free. It is stated that this move will be a club in the hands of the administration to allow only favored "bucket shop" men to do business.

J. F. Sterrett of the Nineteenth ward presented an ordinance for the vacation of Station street, between the Pennsylvania railroad and Penn avenue, to allow the company to enlarge its East Liberty station to Penn avenue.

WESTINGHOUSE SIGNS PETITION.

J. K. Wynard of the Twenty-first ward introduced an ordinance and also a petition, the latter signed by George Westinghouse, for the paving of Lang avenue from the Homewood bridge of the Pennsylvania railroad to a point 185 feet opposite Mr. Westinghouse's residence.

The ordinance recreating Hamilton avenue was passed finally. Also an ordinance establishing the grades of Wayne alley, Omega street, Mt. Vernon street, Aman alley and Braddock avenue.

Select council yesterday afternoon unanimously confirmed the appointments of Treasurer Edward Frauenheim and Chief Assessor A. J. Pitcairn.

The ordinance accepting the gift of a bath house for the South Side from H. W. Oliver was passed. Among the bills presented were:

Ordinances granting the board of trustees of Carnegie library the right to occupy seven lots adjoining the present site and recently purchased by the city.

WHITE HOUSE DESIGN PLEASES KING EDWARD.

LONDON, June 8.—In order to associate himself with the American nation and President Roosevelt in the recent partial remodeling of the White House, King Edward has awarded the royal gold medal for the promotion of architecture to C. F. McKim, the New York architect who designed the work. The presentation of the medal is fixed for June 22. On the following day a dinner will be given in honor of Mr. McKim at the Royal Institute of British Architects, the invited guests including Ambassador Choate.

PRESIDENT LEAVES WASHINGTON TODAY

Will Pass Through Pittsburgh Tomorrow Morning on His Way to Cleveland.

President Theodore Roosevelt and party will pass through Pittsburgh tomorrow morning at 3:10 o'clock on the way to Cleveland to attend the Hanna-McCormick wedding. They will travel in a special train of three cars, consisting of a combination, dining and Pullman sleeper. The arrangements calls for the train to leave Washington, D. C., this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

No stop will be made in Pittsburgh as the change of engines will be made in the Twenty-eighth street yards. The train will run west on a moderate schedule and will arrive in the Forest City shortly after 6 o'clock.

The presidential party will leave Cleveland soon after the wedding festivities are over. The train will leave Cleveland at 11 p. m., central time, arriving in Pittsburgh Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The train will be hurried east and will arrive at Washington at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

ORGANIZATION OF ALUMNI.

Western Reserve Graduates of This Vicinity Banqueted at the Schenley.

Thirty alumni of the Western Reserve university of Cleveland banqueted at the Schenley hotel last night and formed a permanent organization. Five colleges of the university were represented, and among those present were members of classes from '76 to '99. Dr. Charles F. Thwing, president of the university, was the guest of honor and made a short address in which he touched feelingly upon the development of the old Western Reserve college into the new university. "Our aim," he said, "is to promote scholarship for service, scholarship for culture, scholarship for duty and scholarship to teach us our relation to the eternal verities."

The university has about 150 alumni in Pittsburgh and vicinity. This was the first gathering, but hereafter an annual meeting will be held. The officers of the organization formed last night are: President, Dr. A. S. Daggette; vice president, Dr. I. J. Moyer; secretary, Attorney John D. Evans; treasurer, Dr. George G. Turffler. Reception committee, Attorney Warner Marshall, Attorney A. L. Cramer and Max Hassler.

Besides these there were present the Rev. Robert Young, Attorney Ernest W. Beach, Drs. F. B. Elder, John J. Greene, H. J. Irwin, W. J. Riggs, I. W. Riggs, H. M. King and H. C. Lane of Pittsburgh; Drs. C. F. Dodd, W. D. Teagarten and James Bighant of Washington, Pa.; Dr. L. W. Schnatterley of Freeport, Drs. Lisander Riggs and C. F. B. Shaffer of Blairsville; Dr. M. L. McCandless of Brush Creek, Pa.; Dr. U. S. Stroniss of Beaver; Dr. C. E. Bair of Braddock, Dr. Butterbaugh of Indiana, Dr. W. S. Ramsey of Coraopolis, and Dr. J. M. Moore of Midway, Pa.

LETTER CARRIERS MEET.

Association of Northeastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania Elects Officers.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 8.—(Special.)—The fifth annual reunion of the Letter Carriers' Association of Northeastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania was held here today. Among the guests of honor were J. C. Keller, president of the national association; Postmaster O. P. Shaffer, Congressman James Kennedy and Assistant Postmaster F. S. Turner.

Officers were elected as follows: President, P. P. Miller, Sharon; vice president, Charles Fitch, Greenville, Pa.; secretary, H. Goodwin, Youngstown; treasurer, F. H. Canfield, Youngstown; sergeant-at-arms, George C. Pfund, Youngstown. The next meeting will be held here the first Monday in October.

FEAR FELT FOR DR. STEEL.

May Have Been a Passenger on the Steamship Liban Which Was Sunk.

The parents of Dr. Thomas Steel of McKeesport are making inquiries by cable to learn whether their son was a passenger on the steamship Liban, which was sunk near the port of Marseilles on Sunday.

Dr. Steel is the son of Joseph W. Steel, county register-assessor of McKeesport. The doctor has been in Europe several months, completing his studies. About two weeks ago a letter received from him, dated Vienna, stated he expected to sail from Marseilles in a few days. His mother is almost prostrated with fear for his safety.

WOULD STOP REMOVAL OF THIEL COLLEGE.

MERCER, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—A petition was filed today by J. R. Packard and L. L. Keck of Greenville, asking for an injunction restraining the removal of Thiel college to Greensburg. The grounds on which the injunction is based is that when money was contributed by the petitioners and other citizens of Greenville for the location of Thiel college in that place they did so with the understanding that the college was to remain permanently and that a resolution of the board of trustees to that effect is on the minutes of the college.

German Catholics in Session.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 8.—The convention of the Slants Verband German Catholic Societies of Pennsylvania opened here today. The Rev. John Otten of Sharpsburg offered the opening prayer. The committee on press reported through William Immekus of Pittsburgh that the resolutions of the last convention had been translated into English and copies sent to President Roosevelt and the United States senators.

STRIKE SECRETS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Business Agent of Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's Union Is Charged With Extortion.

TELLTALE CHECK PRODUCED

New York District Attorney Says He Has Damaging Evidence Against Union Labor Representative — Defendant Wears Diamonds.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 8.

District Attorney Jerome backed up his recent statement that he had damaging evidence against certain business agents by today causing the arrest of Samuel Parks, of the Housesmiths and Bridgemens' union, for extortion. His arrest came as a surprise to his associates and not a few union men declared that the resulting exposure was the greatest blow that could have been dealt to their cause.

Immediately following the arrest of Parks the Aetna Insurance Company ordered cancelled a $5,000 policy on the Hecla Company's plants. Within half an hour after Parks' arrest the United Board of Building Trades was disrupted by 16 of the delegates leaving the hall, followed by the jeers of the others. Those who withdrew were the skilled workmen who favored the expulsion of the material truck drivers' union from the board.

Rumors had long been in circulation that Parks had obtained large sums of money either by threatening to call out workingmen or by threatening to prolong a strike after the original order had been given, but he had commanded a strong following which had refused to credit the oft told tale.

PRODUCED TELL-TALE CHECK.

Nells Paulson, president of the Hecla Iron works, was the complaining witness against him. Accompanied by R. A. McCord, of the same company, Mr. Paulson appeared before District Attorney Jerome and swore that Parks had obtained $2,000 from him last year to settle a strike. He produced the check to show that the payment had been made. Mr. Jerome had affidavits drawn and sworn to before Judge Mayer, of the court of special sesions, who issued a warrant. Detective McNaught started up town with the warrant and found Parks in an East Fifty-fourth street saloon drinking with friends. Parks made no opposition, saying:

"I am glad that I took off my diamond stud before I left home as long as I have landed in the hands of the police. My only regret now is that I did not also leave my rings."

He was permitted to notify his attorney, former Magistrate Braan, by telephone. In court Mr. Jerome made a formal statement of the nature of the charge.

"I feel that the bail should be high," said Jerome. "The transactions in which the defendant has been arrested involve a charge of the extortion of $2,000 and we produce as an exhibit a check bearing the defendant's indorsement. This is, however, only one of a large number of transactions through which I have reason to believe he obtained considerable sums.

CLUB PAID HIM $4,800.

"In one instance, a leading club paid $4,800 out of which I am told he got $700, by threats to tie up the subway. he is said to have succeeded in obtaining $2,000. Other allegations are made of a similar nature. I believe that he has considerable means, as his deposits in the Garfield bank have aggregated large sums. As this case seems clear against him, and as I have reason to believe there will be others, I think the bail should be set at $5,000."

Bail was fixed at $5,000. Frank Buchanan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who is here, said tonight that the trouble grew out of a strike Parks ordered in the Hecla works in 1902.

Parks formerly worked in Chicago and was brought east by the George A. Fuller Company and placed in charge of a gang of riveters in New York. Later he became business agent of the Housesmiths.

District Attorney Jerome said tonight: "I have refrained from interfering in labor troubles, but I intend to investigate for the purpose of finding out what the relation is between employer and employes as far as the criminal law is concerned.

"There are concerns, I am informed, who to gain advantage over rival builders have paid money to labor leaders to cause strikes. It is commonly reported that when there is a pinch in material certain large concerns manage to get a strike called by manipulating walking delegates so as to avoid the payment of penalties, for they are exempt from such payments in the case of strikes."

DURHAM REACHES EUROPE AND WRITES TO HIS FRIENDS

Commissioner Now Eats Four Meals a Day and Is Enjoying Good Health.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—State Senator Grady this morning received the following brief communication from Insurance Commissioner Durham concerning his ocean voyage with his fellow traveler, Joseph H. Klenmer:

S. S. Cedric, Queenstown, May 30.

My Dear Senator:

We have had a fine trip over. Never missed a meal, not sick one day. Feeling fine; trip has done me good. Yours truly,

I. W. DURHAM.

A number of other letters were received today by personal friends of Durham. Among those who heard from the commissioner were Mayor Weaver, former Select Councilman James P. McNichol, Select Councilman Charles Seger and J. Clayton Erb. In all the letters Durham expressed himself to be enjoying better health than he has enjoyed for years past, and stated that the trip was doing him much good.

He was even humorous in his letters, indicating that he was at least enjoying himself. To Captain Erb, who is his secretary, he wrote:

"Close up the Betz building and go away for a spell. Everything will take care of itself, and it will do you good to get away from the crowd." To the others he stated that he was eating four meals a day, and was always ready for each of them, missing none.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

Believes John Wilkes Booth Story.

Capt. D. F. Turner, formerly of Staunton, Va., who is spending his declining years with his daughter, Mrs. Harry F. Smith, of Aurelia street, is said to believe the story that Lincoln's assassin killed himself a few days ago at Enid, Okla. Capt. Taylor was an officer in the confederate service. He is reported as having said that he had always believed that John Wilkes Booth was still alive.

CITY OF JOHNSTOWN SUES B. & O. RAILROAD

Fifty Thousand Dollars Asked for Encroachment on Stoney Creek River.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 8.—Mayor John Pendry today brought suit on behalf of the city against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company for $50,000 for encroachment on the Stony Creek river. The mayor's affidavit was filed with the prothonotary of Cambria county and sets forth the demands of the city in the matter of filling up the river and rendering it narrower than it should be.

This action was rendered necessary by the refusal of the attorney general of the state to permit the suit to be brought in the name of the commonwealth.

FARMER IS WOUNDED BY ALLEGED THIEVES.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—William B. Cary of Canton township last night thought he detected two men stealing his chickens. He ordered them away and then opened fire with a revolver. The alleged thieves returned the fire. One bullet struck Cary in the hand, inflicting a painful wound. The two men, whom Cary claims to have identified as William Fiester and Clifford Uhom, escaped in the darkness, but were arrested by Officer Clutter and each held for court under $500 bail.

PHYSICIAN AND WIFE INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

SHARON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Dr. James Potter and wife of Canton, O., were victims of an automobile accident today. The machine lost its power on a hill, and the emergency brake would not work. The machine went over an embankment and overturned. Mrs. Potter had one of her legs broken in two places, her knee cap shattered and was injured internally. Her condition is serious. She was taken to Buhl hospital. The doctor escaped with slight injuries.

AULTMAN-MILLER ASSETS ARE SOLD BY CREDITORS

AKRON, O., June 8.—At a meeting of the creditors of the Aultman Miller Company here today the offer of Judge William A. Vincent of Chicago to purchase the plant and assets of the company for $640,000 was accepted. Judge Vincent is supposed to represent the International Harvester Company.

The value of the Ohio property is $42,000 and the company's capital stock is $250,000.

DIAMONDS ARE FOUND.

London Hotel Cables Good News to George D. Widener of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—George D. Widener, just back from Europe, found time today to give a more lucid explanation of his experience yesterday with the New York customs officers, who wished to know whether he did not have a couple of $50,000 diamond necklaces lying around loose in his trunks, which he might have forgotten to declare. Mr. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, had been informed that Mr. Widener, relative to the European customs diamonds while abroad."

"Someone lied, that's all," said Mr. Widener, relative to the European customs agent's information. "I bought no diamonds while abroad."

"But you did leave some diamonds in your London hotel, did you not?" was asked.

"Yes, they belonged to Mrs. Widener, and she had taken them to Europe from this country. They were carelessly left behind and I cabled for them as soon as I reached New York."

"Have they been found?"

"Yes. The Carlton people cabled to that effect this morning."

Lieutenant Morley Gave Bail.

Police Lieutenant Thomas Morley of the South Side was held for court yesterday by Alderman David J. McGarey on the charge of selling liquor without a license. He gave bail for $1,000. The charge was made by Constable Henry Lintner and is based on Morley's former position as president of the Thomas Morley Fishing club, which disbanded 18 months ago. On account of the time that has elapsed Morley's friends say the prosecution grew out of politics.

PERSONALS

Alexander E. McGuire of St. Louis arrived in Pittsburgh last evening over the Pennsylvania railroad on train No. 14. The train was about four hours late. In speaking of the flood in East St. Louis he said: "The train in which I came to Pittsburgh encountered great difficulty in leaving St. Louis. Only two tracks were in operation running out of the city—one the Vandalia and the other the B. & O. For a distance of over 300 yards the tracks were over three feet under water. At one time the water entered the firepox and for a few minutes we thought we would not get out of the flooded district. When I left the Fair grounds were covered with about two feet of water in several places. The river was rising one inch an hour."

I. G. Hartley and H. Horshaw of Halifax arrived in Pittsburgh on a tour of inspection of American industries. They are connected with a manufacturing firm in Halifax, and their mission is to study the methods of operating works with electricity. They visited the Baldwin locomotive works in Philadelphia, and will visit the Westinghouse airbrake works today. They will leave tonight for Cleveland and will visit Chicago before returning to England.

Frank Wigley and T. H. Pemberton of Coventry, England, accompanied by E. Edwin Lewis of Philadelphia, are at the Hotel Henry. The two Englishmen are on a pleasure tour, and Mr. Lewis will escort them to the various industries in and around Pittsburgh.

G. R. Rys of Essen, Germany, wrote his name on the Hotel Duquesne register last evening. He is a mechanical engineer and is here to take a course of study in engineering. He will visit several cities before commencing his studies.

H. S. Hallinger, proprietor of the Hotel Rittenhouse, Atlantic City, is at the Lincoln.

Michael Elmore, a contractor of Omaha, Neb., was in Pittsburgh visiting his cousin, Detective William Elmore yesterday. Contractor Elmore will construct a portion of the Wabash line in the vicinity of Zanesville, O.

MISS MARTHA J. LESLIE, of Steubenville, O.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 8.—(Special.)—In the Congregational church tomorrow evening the former pupils and citizens will pay a tribute of honor and respect to Miss Martha J. Leslie, who has been a teacher in the public schools for half a century, retiring at the close of the present term. Miss Leslie has also been a teacher in the Sunday school for a half century. She has taught the second and third generation in some instances. Her former pupils number hundreds and many of them have reached high stations in life.

FARMERS MAKING FIGHT AGAINST POWDER WORKS

Blair County Men Claim Rebuilding of Crescent Plant Would Endanger Life.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., June 8. The Blair county court today heard the injunction proceedings brought by neighboring farmers to restrain the rebuilding of the Crescent powder works in Woodbury township. The works were destroyed by an explosion on April 30, in which nine employes were killed and many others injured. The complainants allege that the works are a menace to their lives and homes.

The Pittsburgh capitalists who own the works allege that the plant is located in a valley, surrounded by cliffs 100 feet high, and that this is the securest location in Central Pennsylvania for a dynamite plant.

Employes testified that they had become careless about the plant and had allowed matches and dynamite to be on the floor of the nitro-glycerin house. It developed that the explosion was caused by the employes allowing the thermometer in the nitro-glycerin house to rise to 95 degrees, in violation of the rules. The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—George Bucher, wanted at Freedom, Pa., on a charge of embezzlement, has been arrested here.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—The remains of an infant boy were found in a box car on a railroad siding with evidences of foul play, and officers are working on the mystery.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—James Foley, 14 years old, of West Pittsburgh, was possibly fatally injured at New Castle Junction while attempting to board a freight train.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—John Krout, 44 years old, landscape gardener in charge of Riverside park, fell down a stairway at his home in Ridgely, W. Va., and broke his neck.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.—At a congregation meeting held at the Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. W. H. Gladden was unanimously elected pastor for another year.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Word was received here today of the death of Henry Geckeler, formerly president of the New Castle Trades and Labor assembly, of smallpox, at Toledo, O.

SHARON, PA.—Fire destroyed the Fredonia (Mercer county) fireworks, entailing a loss of about $3,000. There was no insurance. The origin of the fire is not known. The building will be rebuilt.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The Rev. Foree L. Frazier, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, announced his resignation and asked the congregation to accept it immediately, which was done.

ALLIANCE, O.—Carlton Smith, who was terribly burned while rescuing his mother from a burning building at Sebring, died in the hospital here. He was a pottery foreman. His mother will recover.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—The supreme court of appeals has refused to grant an appeal in the murder case of Thomas Tucker, the Parkersburg negro who cut the throat of his white mistress, and unless the pardon board interferes he will be hanged in the penitentiary.

SHARON, PA.—The Shenango Valley Ministerial association passed resolutions against Sunday funerals. It was decided not to officiate at a Sunday funeral unless it was absolutely necessary. The association includes all ministers of Sharpsville, Sharon, South Sharon and Middlesex.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.—At the request of a number of Catholic priests the foreign banks and steamship agencies of Connellsville will hereafter be closed on Sunday. The priests objected because the banks being open on Sunday gave the foreigners an opportunity to visit town and participate in Sabbath desecration.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The members of Neshannock Commandery, No. 12, Knights of the Golden Eagle, returned from Steubenville, O., where they won two cash prizes of $100 and $25 in competitive drills against commanderies from Wheeling, Cleveland, Springfield and Toledo, O., at the sixth annual reunion of the order.

MINERS TO ENFORCE THE ALTOONA SCALE

District President Claims That Joint Agreement Is Being Violated.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ALTOONA, PA., June 8.—President Patrick Gilday of the Central Pennsylvania mine workers charges the Webster Coal and Coke Company with violating the provisions of the Altoona scale and declares that the scale must be fully complied with in 10 days or every plant operated by that company will be ordered closed.

The Webster company employs 10,000 miners and is the largest concern in Central Pennsylvania. Thomas Watkins, member of the anthracite arbitration commission, is vice president and the dominant stockholder.

President Gilday says that at the Big Bens creek properties the cutters are getting 80 cents a day below the scale; that the company has widened the differentials at Gallitzin one-half cent a ton, and is not complying with the check-off clause. The company's representatives refuse to meet the miners' union officials to adjust the differences.

National President John Mitchell has been informed of the situation by President Gilday and has promised support from the $1,000,000 treasury of the national body in case of a strike. However, this will not be needed until after the $100,000 defense fund of the district is exhausted.

The miners' officials fear the Webster people are ambitious to overthrow the union. They say the company's attitude endangers the joint agreement in the Central Pennsylvania territory.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS GRAND LODGE AT CANTON.

CANTON, O., June 8.—(Special.)—The thirty-fourth annual convention of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias opened here today. Thousands of visitors are arriving in the city. A special train, carrying several hundred knights, arrived this evening from Cincinnati. Special trains are coming from Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland and a number of other Ohio cities. Tuesday morning the knights will visit the tomb of the late President McKinley. In the afternoon the convention will open at the Grand opera house. This evening a reception was tendered to past officers and other high dignitaries of the lodge at the McKinley hotel.

Republicans Nominate Judge.

DOYLESTOWN, PA., June 8.—Henry Lear of this place, a prominent member of the Bucks county bar, was today nominated for the office of president judge of the Seventh judicial district by the Republican county convention.

The book-keeper's occupation renders him specially liable to stomach trouble. The hasty breakfast, the "quick lunch," the long hours spent in stooping over journal and ledger, with lack of exercise, all tend to the derangement of the stomach.

When the stomach is in a healthy condition the feeling after a meal is one of satisfaction and comfort. Whenever there is discomfort after eating it is a sign of stomach derangement or disease.

Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition perfectly and permanently. The cures effected by this medicine are almost countless.

"I have taken one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and liver complaint," writes Mr. C. M. Wilson, of Vaddin College, Davidson Co., N. C. "Have had no bad spells since I commenced taking your medicine in fact have not felt like the same man. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I could not eat anything without awful distress, but now I can eat anything I wish without having unpleasant feelings."

Don't be fooled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery," which no "just as good" medicine can show.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and regulate the liver. They produce permanent benefit and do not react on the system.

Major General Hamilton, 88 Years Old
Cured of Catarrh and Serious Complications by DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

Alexander Hamilton, Major General in the Civil War, residing in Tarrytown, N. Y., writes:

Gentlemen: "For many years I suffered from Chronic Catarrh and other complications as a result of wounds received in the Civil War. After trying almost every remedy without results, I began a few months ago to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am 88 years of age, feel strong and vigorous, possess all my faculties and my catarrh has entirely disappeared. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the greatest cure in the world for a broken-down constitution."

If your system is run down, you are nervous, catch cold easily, have a cough, which often results in acute or chronic catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis or Consumption. You have not sufficient vitality to throw off the first attacks of disease and your system needs toning up. Check the first symptoms by taking the only positive cure, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women, and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

It contains no fusel oil and is the only whiskey recognized by the Government as medicine. This is a guarantee that 7,000 doctors prescribe and 9,000 hospitals use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey exclusively.

CAUTION—Demand Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

The genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, at $1.00 a bottle. Never sold in flasks or in bulk. Write for free medical booklet containing symptoms and treatment of each disease and convincing testimonials to the Duff Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

PRINCETON MEN WIN HIGH HONORS

Large Graduating Class Participates in Exercises at the Famous University.

AVERAGE AGE IS 22 YEARS

Twelve of the Graduates Supported Themselves Entirely While in College and Forty-Eight Partially—Favorite Poet Is Tennyson.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PRINCETON, N. J., June 8.—Class day exercises were the part of Princeton's commencement carried out today. At 11 o'clock the graduating class formed into line at Dickinson hall and marched with President Wilson at their head to Alexander hall. Zimmerman's band played while the academic procession entered and during the intermission between speeches. John S. Dana of West Virginia, master of ceremonies, delivered the salutatory address. J. Day Brownlee, Jr., of Pennsylvania then gave the class oration, after which the class poem was read by Henry G. Leach of Massachusetts.

At noon the class tree was planted by the side of Nassau hall, Ellis Pearson of Trenton, N. J., delivering the oration. The class then marched to the buildings on the campus, giving a "locomotive," the college yell. Exercises which were to be held around the old cannon were held in Alexander hall on account of the rain.

The Nassau Herald was issued today and showed the average age of the graduating class to be 22 years, 6 months and 22 days. Also the most popular profession to be law, most popular poet Tennyson, favorite study history and favorite sport football. Twelve men have supported themselves wholly while in college and 48 partially. The honor list is:

Magna cum laude—Gilbert Fairchild Close, Harry Ryerson Decker, Corwin Howell, Henry Goddard Benjamin, Edmund Mestier, Frank Smith, Robert D. Williams, Cum Laude—Cyrus Hall Adams, jr., Samuel Anders, Robert Patton Anderson, Sinclair Howard Armstrong, William G. Barr, Robert Candee, John Clark Finney, Karl Telford Frederick, Charles Conrad Hewitt, Paxton P. Hibben, Walter F. Hollenbach, Archibald Howell, Floyd Hurlbut, John O. Merwin, George H. Nevius, Ralph Erskine Nevius, Robert P. Reed, Arthur B. Reeve, Charles Spencer Richardson, jr., Thad Wood Riker, August Roche, jr., Harry C. Schweikert, Edward W. Scudder, George Carlton Shafer, William Allen Sipe, jr., Charles C. Smith, Harris R. Stewart, John Martin Waseke, Harry Caitlin Weaver, Glenn C. Wharton, Henry George, Weston Young. TO STOP ALL WORK.

Associations Will Refrain from Building Until Unions Settle Their Dispute.

The trouble between the bricklayers and stone masons took a serious turn yesterday, when the Master Builders' association, the Builders' league, the Stone Contractors' association and the Brick Contractors' association, acted in conjuction and decided to stop all building work in this vicinity. These associations represent about one-third of the work now under way, and will throw out of employment about 5,000 men.

The independent contractors, who include, the New York, Philadelphia and Chicago firms, and the George A. Fuller Company, building the Nixon theater, have decided to take no action in regard to the bricklayers and stone masons dispute and will continue at work.

About 3,000 men received notices yesterday that work had been suspended and others will get like notices as soon as contractors can get affairs in shape. A resumption will not be ordered until the organizations of bricklayers and stone masons have adjusted their differences.

The strength of the Builders' league is to be increased and plans have been practically completed for merging with the Builders exchange, the old organization of contracting firms. The bricklayers contend that the action of the builders' associations will have no effect in settling the dispute. They say that none of the large contracting firms are members of the associations and yesterday's action will not throw out of employment any of the Bricklayers and Masons International union men. In addition they assert that the demand for bricklayers outside the city cannot be supplied. Fully 300 bricklayers have left this territory within the last three days, and more are going today and tomorrow.

DEMAND FOR STOCK.

Pensylvania Syndicate Receives Offer from Large Interests to Purchase Large Block.

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Special.)—"We understand that the Pennsylvania syndicate has been approached by certain powerful interests who desire that in the somewhat unlikely event of the syndicate being allotted on its underwriting any very large quantity of Pennsylvania stock it shall be offered them in blocks," says the Wall Street Journal this afternoon.

It is realized that the chances are very much against the syndicate getting a large block of stock, but should it do so, there is at least one very large interest which stands ready to buy it for the purposes of control. It is needless to say that Pennsylvania stock at 120 is a bargain under almost any conditions, but a block at that price, which would carry with it the practical control of the property, would be a very much greater bargain. MANY AMERICANS ATTEND.

Convention of World's W. C. T. U. is Opened at Geneva, Switzerland.

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, June 8.—The sixth convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union opened today under the presidency of Miss Lillian M. N. Stevens of Portland, Me., vice president-at-large, in the absence of Lady Henry Somerset. One of the largest delegations was the American, numbering 60. The executive committee announced an important change in the constitution, whereby officers will be elected by the convention, thus ending a dispute which has lasted for years.

Dr. Beiden, pastor of the American church, in his welcoming address, dwelt on the fact that the organization, now of such world-wide importance, was started in America.

Tin Plate Finishers to Confer.

A conference between the Tin Plate Workers' Protective association and the American Tin Plate Company to consider the adjustment of the scale for the next year, will be held today in the Carnegie building. The company will be represented by George Greer of New Castle, Cecil Robinson of Wheeling and J. E. Phillips and Earthold Goldsmith of Pittsburgh. The workers' representatives will be President George Powell and Secretary and Treasurer Charles E. Lawyer of Wheeling, William Edwards of Chester, H. E. Bergen of McKeesport, William Madine of Pittsburgh, Grant Jacobs and John Hartley of Elwood, Ind.

The conferees of the association will fight for the policy and the several changes decided upon at the recent convention at Anderson, Ind. A few advances will be asked.

DEVLIN PRAISED FOR GOOD WORK

Irish Leaguer Has Completed His Labors of Organization in America.

FREEDOM IS NOW IN SIGHT

He Is Confident That Within a Few Years the Emerald Isle Will Again Be Self-Governing—Pittsburghers Assist at Farewell Meeting.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—The national committee of the United Irish league of America met here today and took active steps for the further spreading of the organization throughout the country on the return to Ireland of Joseph Devlin, member of parliament, whose organizing work closed last night at New Haven, after having lasted more than a year.

Devlin was accorded the hearty thanks of the national committee for the efforts he has made in establishing branches and raising funds for the carrying on of the Irish fight for land and liberty. The thanks of the organization was voted to him on the motion of the national president, John F. Finerty of Chicago, seconded by National Secretary John O'Callaghan of Boston.

Another resolution was passed thanking the friends of the Irish cause, and in an especial manner the Catholic hierarchy and clergy and the press of the United States and Canada for the magnificent support rendered the Irish cause as represented by the United Irish league. Devlin, in responding to the resolution, took an optimistic view of present conditions in Ireland and expressed his confidence that within a few years Ireland again would be a self-governing country.

Various members of the committee, including the national treasurer, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick of Boston, M. J. O'Connor of Newark, Daniel Wade of Philadelphia, E. F. Duffy of Pittsburgh and Rev. Father Price of Pittsburgh also voiced the general sentiment of gratitude to Mr. Devlin. The national treasurer reported that he expects within a few days to forward an additional $10,000 to the trustees in Ireland, making $50,000 sent within the last six months.

TRIBESMEN BOMBARDED BY FRENCH ARTILLERY

Rebellious Figuig Natives Are Severely Punished by Punitive Expedition.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BENI-OUNIF, ALGERIA, June 8.—The French artillery opened a preliminary fire at 5:30 this morning on the rebellious Figuig tribesmen. Gen. O'Connor commands the punitive expedition consisting of 4,000 men of the foreign legion and a strong force of artillery, armed with guns firing melinite shells. Details of the engagement have not yet been received. It was Gen. O'Connor's plan to advance upon Figuig in three columns and post his artillery on commanding hills surrounding the rebel stronghold.

The actual bombardment began at 7:30 and lasted until 9:30 a. m., when the French troops occupied two strategic hills, gaining these positions by surprise. It is believed the native loss was heavy, but no definite details of the casualties will be obtainable until the French enter Figuig. There was no loss on the French side. The bulk of the population of Figuig is expected to be friendly to the French, as neighboring tribes are assisting in the operations of the punitive expedition.

France has formally notified the powers that she has no intention of taking Moroccan territory and will only punish the Arab brigands who were responsible for the recent attack on the escort of Gov. Gen. Jonnart.

Gen. O'Connor was instructed to give the women and children of Figuig an opportunity to leave the town before the bombardment. A friendly Arab courier bearing a notification to this effect to the women and children was killed while carrying the message.

RUSSIA COULD STOP TURKISH ATROCITIES

It Is Absolutely Impossible for Christians to Exist in Macedonia.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SOFIA, June 8.—At an immense open air meeting held today, Michailovski, the president of the Macedonian committee, declared that the only hope for Macedonia was a direct rapprochement between Bulgaria and Turkey. The Macedonian committee, he said, had too long been regarded by the world as the tool of Russia, who could stop the Turkish atrocities in a single day if she wished. He advised his hearers to support Bulgaria in exhausting every means for a pacific solution of the Macedonian question.

The meeting adopted resolutions in favor of an appeal to the Bulgarian government for a diplomatic solution and a recourse to arms as a last resort.

Refugees arriving at Rostendil and Dubnitza say it is absolutely impossible for Christians to exist in Macedonia.

PHILADELPHIA WAS SLOW, SO HE WANTED TO SHOOT

Supposed Pittsburgher Arrested for Trying to Excite the Quaker City.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—W. Jarden serenaded Mayor Weaver this afternoon by emptying a six-shooter under the windows of his office on North Plaza. Jarden said he was from Pittsburgh, also from Brooklyn.

He wore good clothes, possessed an intellectual jag and denied he was an anarchist. He insisted he was merely trying to infuse a bunch of excitement into the atmosphere which to him appeared not only sluggish, but "sloppy." It was raining and Jarden made a bulls eye.

In a few minutes he was surrounded by an excited, gesticulating, threatening crowd. Reserve Officer Hollien, his mind filled with fears of assassination, ran across the plaza and seized the offender and landed him in a cell.

The weapon was a 45-caliber revolver, and a box of cartridges lay concealed in his pockets. Jarden will be given a hearing tomorrow. The prisoner said he was 25 years of age and he was very sorry he had bothered the Quakers. He expressed a wish to engage a parlor car seat to Pittsburgh, but he will probably be asked to stay here a few days.

COURT REFUSES TO COMPEL TRANSFERS AT INTERSECTION

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Special.)—Justice O'Gorman of the supreme court has denied the application of James Lehamer for a writ of mandamus to compel the Metropolitan street railway to issue transfers at all intersecting points. The judge takes the position that such a writ cannot be issued for such a general purpose and covering such a long period of time. This is a substantial victory for the Metropolitan.

Sues Railroad for Covering Pipe Line.

Trouble between the Philadelphia Company and the West Side Belt Railroad Company has arisen in Jefferson township because of the alleged covering of the Philadelphia Company's pipe line on the Bickerton farm by the railroad company, which is engaged in grading there for its new line. A bill in equity to restrain the railroad company from doing this was filed yesterday by the Philadelphia Company.

Synod in Good Condition.

BALTIMORE, MD., June 8.—The general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church reassembled today. The 17th annual report of the treasurer showed the financial condition of the synod to be in a satisfactory condition. The report of the board of church extension was also read.

HAS ONE LUNG

Blood Wine Cured Him of Consumption

"Blood Wine" has just cured a man of consumption, but who is left with only one lung. The disease has entirely eaten away the right lung. He is well, and enjoying life, and by taking a little care will live to a ripe old age. When the little germs of tuberculosis get into the lungs, if "Blood Wine" is taken it percolates through the blood, reaches every nook and cell of the lungs and kills the germs. It does this in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. It charges the blood with ingredients that make it absolutely impossible for germs to live. All people with lung trouble in any form can expect marked beneficial results if they take "Blood Wine." Here is another man who has found in it a cure for his diseased lungs. Mr. Geo. T. Corey of Lowell, Mass., says:

"My brother, who lives in Akron, O., wrote me that he was taking 'Blood Wine,' that it was doing him a world of good, and advised me to try it. I had been very ill with lung trouble for several weeks, and was failing rapidly. My brother was so confident that I would recover if I tried 'Blood Wine' that I finally decided to get a bottle. The very first dose I could feel all through my body, and from that moment I began to overcome the disease. I continued taking it and continued to improve until I was able to say I was well. I have no troubles now with my lungs, and have gained in weight. 'Blood Wine' is an exceptionally meritorious medicine. It seems to supply something in the way of nourishment besides being healing and soothing."

It is easy to keep well if you keep your blood in good condition with "Blood Wine." You can have your blood examined free of charge, and learn its true condition by sending your name for full particulars to Louis Dandelin Co., Worcester, Mass. Fifty cents a bottle.

WHARFBOAT PURCHASED BY BIG RIVER COMPANY

Anchor Line's Last Move in Dissolution—Freight Barges to New Orleans.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company has purchased the Anchor line wharfboat from the Monongahela River Packet Company. This means much to many river interests. Greater activity will be seen about the lower end of the wharf, as the company's steamers will go there for their supplies hereafter. The wharfboat will be repaired and put into good condition. Freight will be received in a few days for barge shipment to Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans. Capt. John Moren, who has charge of the freight department, expects to develop a heavy business in this trade, as there are no through packets from Pittsburgh to New Orleans.

The company for some time has been carrying considerable freight in barges from New Orleans, but this is a new departure and will be made a fixed department of the company. Greater facilities for transportation between here and Mississippi river points will bring considerable river trade to Pittsburgh. All independent coal companies that have been using the wharfboat to receive their supplies have been notified to discontinue the practice.

The steamers Elizabeth and Gertrude have been removed to Moss Side park, opposite Glenwood. Several attempts were made by other river interests to secure the privileges which go with the possession of the wharfboat. The Anchor line started last year, but was not much of a success. The selling of the wharfboat put an end to the rumors that the company would start again.

Compress Company Makes Charges.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Planters Compress Company of Boston today filed complaint with the interstate commerce commission against a number of eastern and southern railroads, among which are the Pennsylvania and the Wabash, alleging that round bale cotton is discriminated against in freight rates.

INTEREST CENTERED IN FELLOWSHIP PLAN

Features of Ministerial Meetings Held Yesterday — Wyman Plans Better Government.

The weekly ministerial meetings took on a decidedly summer appearance yesterday morning and were slimly attended. Most interest centered on the fellowship meeting of the Methodist Protestants and the United Brethren. Ministers of the latter church put in a strong claim for union with the Methodist Protestant and the Congregational denominations.

At the Presbyterian meeting reports were read from the committee appointed to call on Mayor Wyman in behalf of a better enforcement of the Sunday laws and good government in general in Allegheny. The Rev. J. Allison Platts, chairman of the committee, reported that they had called on the mayor and had been well treated. Mayor Wyman laid down his plans to them in the interest of better government. The paper of the day was read by the Rev. J. T. Gibson, on "The Last Days of the Master."

The United Presbyterians heard no paper, but listened to reports from delegates to the late general assembly at Tarkio. The Rev. W. S. Smiley, the Rev. W. I. Wishart and the Rev. R. H. Hood all made reports and agreed that the dominating spirit of the assembly was missions. They stated that 150 missionaries are needed for India and 250 for Egypt. An effort will be made to secure a number of these missionaries from Pittsburgh and Allegheny churches.

"Creed and Consequences" was the subject of an interesting paper read by the Rev. W. E. Prichard before the Baptist association, while the Rev. F. M. Wood presented a lengthy paper to the Methodist Episcopal association on "Theosophy."

An informal discussion over the commencement exercises at Gettysburg college last week took place at the meeting of the Lutheran ministers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The paper of the day was read by the Rev. J. E. Lewinse, on "Church Orders."

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at Exposition Park.
New York at St. Louis.
Boston at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.

Those Pirates of ours seem bent on piling up a record which will be impossible for any other team to reach. They started in the week by adding another shutout to their string, making it six straight games in which an opposing team has not scored a run, which is the grandest record ever made by any baseball team since the introduction of the national game. Chief Zimmer's Quakers were the victims of yesterday's coat of white wash, and the final score was Pittsburgh 2, Philadelphia 0.

To Hans Wagner, the pride of Carnegie, must be given the real credit for the sixth shutout and the cheers sent up for "Dutch" as his fellow players call him, by the 3,150 spectators could have been heard in his suburban home. In the ninth inning as he reached with the score 2 to 0 in the local's favor and almost every spectator was pulling for the sixth shutout. The first Quaker batter in the ninth was Burry, who nipped off a single to left. The next batsman went out on a fly to Beaumont, then Kid Gleason drove the ball to right for a single, advancing Burry to second. Roth, the next batter, went out from Leever to Bransfield, and the runners moved up. This was the first time the visitors had got a runner as far as third base.

It was now Pitcher Sparks' time at bat, but Capt. Wolverton made a shift and big Catcher Douglass was sent to bat in place of Sparks. It was a very exciting stage, because a base hit meant two runs, a tied score and an end to the visitors' misery, and the grandstand spectators were wrought up to a high stage of nervous excitement was easily visible for many of the grand stand occupants arose from their chairs and stood nervously up and down. There were cries for Leever to put extra speed on the ball, and the big Pirate tried his level best.

The first one shot across the plate was called a ball, but the second one was to the liking of Douglass and he laid his bat against it hard. The ball started on a line for left center, and it looked for all the world like a safe hit. Wagner, who was playing a deep short, made two lightning-like steps toward second base and then sprang into the air like an enraged beast. To the astonishment of everybody he got the ball in his hands, and when he dropped to the ground he fell in such a way that almost turned a flip flop, but he held to the ball and the Pirates' sixth successive shutout was recorded. The spectators usually anxious to rush from the grounds, at the conclusion of a game, stopped long enough to send up a good hearty cheer for "Our Hans" as he is called down in Carnegie.

The contest was really a "pitchers' battle between ex-Pirate Frank Sparks and Schoolmaster Sam Leever, and the Quaker had a shade the better of it, but his support was somewhat ragged and to that fact is due the Pirates' victory. Both pitchers worked like beavers for success, and both pitched themselves out of some very ugly holes. Both were very steady and during the nine innings but two bases on balls were given, one by each pitcher. The Pirates' fielding, particularly by Ritchey and Wagner, was very sensational.

The Pennsylvania College cadets defeated the Jamestown, N. Y., nine yesterday at Wilmerding 2 to 0. No score was made until the sixth inning, when Jordan made a single, stole second and came home on Calhoun's corking single to left field. In the seventh inning West drew a base on balls, went to second on Burns' hit to right, and to third on a sacrifice by Chambers and later scored on a fly out in the outfield. The only error of the game was made by Calhoun, who made a nice pickup, but threw low to first. The umpiring of McKeever was good, neither side making a kick. Wilmerding plays Pittsburgh colleges Saturday at Westinghouse park, Turtle Creek. Score:

HOMESTEAD SURPRISED.

Must Play Eleven Innings to Beat Waynesburg.

WAYNESBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—It took 11 innings for Waynesburg colleges to lose to Homestead here today 10 to 9. For eight and one-half innings the college lads surprised both themselves and their friends. When Homestead went to bat in the last half of the ninth the score stood 9 to 3 in Waynesburg's favor, the first two men up were easy outs and the third had two strikes, when he swatted the ball; the bases were soon filled, when all error in center allowed two runners to score; another hit, another error and the score was tied.

In the 11th Homestead crossed the plate and the game was over. The same teams play here tomorrow. Score:

BEAVER BEATEN.

Wash.-Jeff. Adds Another to Its Long List of Victories.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Beaver college of Beaver was shut out here today by the W. and J. baseball team 2 to 0. The game was one of the best of the year on the local grounds and honors for the most part were about even. The only costly misplay was made by Anderson, the Beaver second baseman, in the sixth inning, when he dropped an easy fly, allowing C. Pickles to score from second. Both Marks and Zeller twirled great ball. The feature was the great work of the Beaver outfielders, who pulled down several long drives, which ordinarily counted for two and three-base hits. Score:

FOOTBALL CHANGES.

Restriction on Mass Plays and Quarterback Can Carry the Ball.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 8.—The football rules committee, which held a meeting in Philadelphia on Saturday, to consider revision of the rules, reached an agreement to make two alterations in the rules, according to a statement given out here tonight by Walter Camp, chairman of the committee. Camp said: "We practically agreed to make changes in the rules governing the number of men who are to be kept in the rush line and with regard to the quarterback. We will draft a rule for next season which will require that between the two 25-yard lines, from one 25-yard line to the other, seven men will be required in the line. In other words, that will prevent mass plays and heavy formations, right in the center of the field. Inside the 25-yard lines there will be no such requirement. The rule may be drafted in different words, of course, but that is the substance of it.

"The rules will allow the quarterback in the same section of the field to run with the ball, provided he cross the line of scrimmage at least five yards from where it is put in play."

OPENING POSTPONED.

Meetling's Machine Failed to Arrive and First Races at Colosseum Didn't Occur.

The opening of the local National Paced league last night at the Colosseum, Allegheny, was deferred until tonight because a delay in the transporting of Meetling's motor machine from New York to Pittsburgh. Because of the postponement many persons were disappointed. Early in the evening a large number of enthusiasts were out and the street cars brought many on each trip to the park.

Manager Tim Hurst announced to the crowd the reason of the postponement and also that the races tonight will be begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The riders were as much put out over the postponement as were the people who journeyed to the park.

TIGERS PREPARING FOR THE FINAL GAME

The Deciding Contest With Yale to Be Played Saturday—No Protest Entered.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—After the hard game with Yale on Saturday, the Princeton baseball team was put through light practice today. The baseball management has sent out a special call to the undergraduates, requesting them to be on hand to cheer at the university field every afternoon between now and June 13, when the team comes to New York to play the deciding game of the series with Yale on the following day. With the beginning of this week the interest of college men and the followers of college sport will center on this game, which bids fair to settle for this year the question of the intercollegiate baseball championship. Having won their game from Harvard two weeks ago, Princeton men feel sure that they will pull out ahead ni the final contest on Saturday.

In the way of limbering up the team will face Dickinson on Wednesday in a practice game. The pitching staff is part of the game. The question of the twirler who will face Yale on Saturday has not been decided, and, according to the coaches, will remain an open one until the last moment. Speculation at present is divided between Stevens, who throughout the season has pitched a heady, consistent game, and who has a clean record of never going up in the air.

The unfortunate incident of the game at New Haven a week ago, when Davis, the Princeton fielder, went to the bat out of turn, and when it was pointed out by the umpire was declared out, the game on the ground that Umpire Holliday should not have called him out, has apparently blown over. On Saturday the Daily Princetonian in an editorial denied absolutely that the possibility of protesting the game had ever been considered.

"There is no desire in Princeton," it says, "that there should be even the rumor of a protest. The cordial relations that have existed for so long a time between Princeton and Yale should be in no danger of being affected by the irresponsible comments of a few newspapers."

At all events the best of feeling was apparent at last Saturday's game and Yale players and Yale men have said nothing concerning the rumor that would refuse to play the concluding game of the series next Saturday.

NORMALS' BAD DEFEAT

Bill McLane, for Kiski, Makes Indiana Crowd Look Small.

SALTSBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special)—The Indiana normal team, with its long record of victories, struck a waterloo here today and went down before the snappy young Kiski players 16 to 8. McLane was in great form and kept the visitors safely in hand in all stages. The home batters early solved Calhoun's delivery and gave him the pounding which put him in a wrecked condition. Carry Wilson, the youngest player on the field, was the star performer both at bat and in the field, doing out a long string of base hits and pretty plays. Score:

CAMBRIDGE TEAM LEADS.

Quaker City Cricketers Make a Bad Start.

LONDON, June 8.—The visiting Philadelphian cricketers opened their series of games in England by playing against Cambridge university at Cambridge today. The Philadelphians went in first, with E. H. Bohlen and H. D. Kling at the wickets. By lunch time the Americans had run up a score of 130 runs for wickets down.

The Philadelphians were all out for 200 runs. Cambridge in play Cambridge had scored 111 runs for one wicket down.

Salzman's Bird Reports First.

The Pittsburgh branch of the N. A. of A. H. R. F. held its fifth old bird race of the season Sunday from Vandalia, Ill., 34 birds completing. The first and only birds to report were owned by C. A. Salzman of Grove Station, his first bird, blue chk., cock, No. 834, bobbing at 3 p. m., making an average speed of 482.30 yards per minute. Salzman won the 400-mile race May 24, his birds arriving at 6:41 p. m. making an average speed of 870.54 yards per minute. The next race will be from Warrenton, Mo.

LOCAL SCHOOL BOYS TO PLAY WEST VIRGINIA NINE

Game Will Take Place at Morgantown Commencement Day—Cancels on W. & J.

The commencement baseball game at the University of West Virginia this year, June 19, will be played by a team composed of players from the different Pittsburgh schools against the varsity there. Manager Coll of the West Virginia team had no college team scheduled for this important day and so yesterday he arranged to pave a picked team from this city play his nine.

The local players will probably be chosen from the Shadyside academy, East Liberty academy and Pittsburgh High school nines. It is not known yet hwat players will constitute the team, but it is very likely that Karr Price of Shadyside, Burns and McCracken of East Liberty and Spuhler of High school will be included.

West Virginia will not play the Washington and Jefferson college team a return game scheduled for this Saturday at Washington. Pitchers Cunningham and Groninger have left the team, which leaves it in a badly crippled condition. Groninger was called home on account of sickness and Cunningham tired of school work for this year. James Smith of Allegheny is the only pitcher available. He has been working in the outfield and on third base. Manager Coll said the only reason he is calling off the game is because of the condition of his team and not because he is afraid to go to Washington after W. and J.'s experience at Morgantown of last week.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY

A[illegible]GGY and handsome reception was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Liggett, of Walnut street, East End, in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. The anniversary came on Sunday, June 7, but the celebration was held a day later.

The reception took place at "Springwood," the commodious and hospitable old family home which Mr. and Mrs. Liggett have occupied ever since their marriage. There were nearly 500 guests, who were received in the long, old-fashioned drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers presented to the host and hostess. Noticeable among them was a large cut glass vase filled with 50 magnificent American Beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. Liggett stood along the latter wearing a handsome gown of gray moire, trimmed with duchesse lace. They were informally assisted by their sons and daughters-in-law, and by Mrs. Liggett's only sister, Miss Caroline Kelly, who makes her home at "Springwood." Among the guests were Mrs. Amanda Sampson, nee Schoyer, who was Mrs. Liggett's bridesmaid 50 years ago, and Mrs. Evaline Rucker, a niece from Sherman, Tex. Refreshments were served on the wide porches, which were screened with vines, and in the dining room. Here the decorations were as far as possible carried out in yellow. The centerpiece was formed of marguerites and over the table hung a bell of the same yellow flowers.

An interesting feature of the occasion was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Pearl L. Cropsey to N. Allen Birge, a successful young business man of Sherman, Tex., which will terminate in an early spring wedding. Miss Cropsey is a grand niece of Mr. and Mrs. Liggett, with whom she makes her home, and who made her debut at a large afternoon reception given at "Springwood," two seasons ago.

Before her marriage Mrs. Liggett was Miss Frances B. Kelly, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, well-known residents of Allegheny. Her marriage to Mr. Liggett was solemnized on June 7, 1853, by the Rev. Edward Birkett, pastor of the old South Common Methodist Episcopal church, now the Buena Vista church. They have had eight children, five of whom are living and with the exception of Augustus Liggett of Midford, Delaware, are prominently identified with the growth and interests of the East End. They are John Liggett, Jr., of Maryland avenue, Frank R. Liggett of Walnut street, William Gamble Liggett of Maryland avenue and Thomas Liggett of Walnut street. They also have nine grandchildren.

Arranging for Miss Hanna's Wedding.

CLEVELAND, June 8.—(Special.)—No extended bridal tour will follow the Hanna-McCormick wedding Wednesday noon. The honeymoon will be spent at Monticello, Ill., at the country home of Robert Allerton, who is to be one of the ushers at the wedding. The couple have planned to spend the entire summer secluded, and will not take up their residence in Chicago until fall.

Joseph Medill McCormick, the bridegroom, arrived in Cleveland from Chicago this forenoon. He was accompanied by Robert Allerton of Monticello, Ill., at whose country farm the young couple will be entertained.

A number of the out-of-town guests also arrived today, but the majority will come tomorrow. Senator Hanna has reserved a number of apartments at the leading hotels for guests, while a favored few will be entertained at the Hanna home.

The bridegroom's family will arrive from Chicago tomorrow morning in a special car and will be housed at the Hanna residence. In the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. McCormick, Stanley McCormick, Miss Carrie McCormick, Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jewett McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Winton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Medill Patterson.

President Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt are expected to arrive in Cleveland, Wednesday, between 6 and 7 a. m. Senator Hanna will meet them at the depot and escort them to his home, where they will be his guests during their stay. The special train with the presidential party, which includes Secretary Loeb and several prominent Washington officials, is to leave Washington Tuesday at 3 p. m. over the Pennsylvania railroad. The party will leave the city early Wednesday evening, reaching Washington Thursday noon. The rehearsal for the bridal party will be Tuesday afternoon at St. Paul's church, when it is expected that all the bridesmaids and groomsmen will be present. The interior of the church is in the hands of decorators and by the time the wedding day arrives all traces of the damage by lightning will have been hidden.

Monticello is an ideal spot for a honeymoon. It is the most magnificent country place in western America. The rooms are beautiful as a fairy palace, the green terraces slope to a pretty lake and the house is folded in the embrace of great, deep woods. The young couple will have the place all to themselves; no house parties, no society functions of any sort. Allerton, the young millionaire owner, is plain, democratic and industrious. His farm is reputed to be the finest in America.

The wedding gift of President Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt has been received and the Hanna home. It is a gold after-dinner coffee service.

A handsome Italian vase of antique design was received from Mrs. McKinley, who was always a warm friend of Miss Ruth's. The Hannas refuse to give out a list of presents until the day of the wedding. Senator Hanna has not decided what his present is to be, but admits that it will be a check and possibly a home.

Pennsylvania College Commencement.

The commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania College for Women were conducted last evening in Dilworth hall. The formal exercises were short and were followed by a very enjoyable reception given by President Chalmers D. Martin and Mrs. Martin in the college drawing rooms. The program was opened by prayer offered by the Rev. William L. McEwen, D. D., president of the board of trustees. The address of the evening was delivered by Bliss Perry, L. H. D., editor of the Atlantic Monthly and an associate of Dr. Martin when both were members of the faculty of Princeton university. He spoke on "Democracy and Excellence," giving to the graduates last evening a lofty aim in life. His address was scholarly and eloquent and accompanied by a pleasing delivery.

At the close of Mr. Perry's address degrees were conferred upon the graduates. The class of 1903 included Miss Harriet Templeton Duff, Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon, Miss Anna Rogers Hunter, Miss Ruth Frances Johnston, Miss Jennie Edna McSherry, Miss Anna Myra Petty, Miss Sara Pugh, Miss Hilda Ridley Sadler and Miss Mary Crier Willson.

The Shakespearean play on the campus was again postponed yesterday afternoon, the ground being too damp. It will be given this afternoon, provision having been made to present "As You Like It" in Dilworth hall in case of rain, though the girls are most anxious to carry out the original program and present it on the campus. But rain or sunshine, the play will be given this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Floods Delayed the Wedding.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—After an experience which few bridegrooms have passed through, Lieut. Orson Leon Early of the Eighth United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., was this afternoon married to Miss Helen Boggs of Finleyville. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate families of the contracting parties being present. The wedding was to have been performed at Finleyville last Thursday afternoon, but after the guests had assembled and the clergyman and bride were ready, the bridegroom failed to appear. When the prospective bride and her attendants and friends had about given up hope a belated telegram was received from Lieut. Early stating that he had been delayed in the west by floods, and could not get a train. The wedding was indefinitely postponed until the bridegroom's arrival. Another telegram was received later in the week stating that he was walking and riding around railroad washouts. He came to Finleyville yesterday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Brown, of Canonsburg. Miss Boggs was given away by her father and was unattended. The bride is a daughter of George Boggs of Finleyville and a niece of Henry Boggs, of the Allegheny firm of Boggs & Buhl. Lieut. Early and his bride left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside at the army post at Fort Riley.

Reception to a New Pastor.

The members of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church extended a royal welcome to their new pastor, the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge and Mrs. Partridge last evening. A reception in their honor was given in the Fourth room, the auditorium of the chapel, which was filled with members of the church and representatives of many of the other churches in Pittsburg and Allegheny. The chapel was handsomely decorated. Palms were banked upon the platform while immense flags were draped at the side. Ferns filled the fountain at the rear of the room. Preceding the reception several addresses of welcome were given. The Hon. Henry Kirke Porter was master of ceremonies and made a very happy speech welcoming the new pastor and his wife, on behalf of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. The Rev. Dr. B. E. Woodburn, pastor of the Sandusky Street church, followed in a felicitous welcome on behalf of the Pittsburgh Baptist association. Other addresses of welcome was made by the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who spoke for the churches of other denominations in Pittsburgh. As soon as it was concluded Dr. Young left to take a train for the east to make a commencement oration today. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Hutson, pastor of the Nixon Street Baptist church, Allegheny. Music was provided by the church choir under the direction of Norman Hassler and John Q. Everson, organist.

Among the pastors of other Baptist churches who were present last evening were the Rev. William A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, who left early to be present at the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Amy Young and Dr. George Oliver Evans; the Rev. A. J. Bonsall, pastor of the First Baptist church of Rochester; the Rev. Mr. Mullin, pastor of the Homewood Baptist church, Dr. B. F. Woodburn of Sandusky Street church, and the Rev. J. S. Hutson of the Nixon Street Baptist church, Allegheny. Dr. Partridge was called to Cincinnati last evening. An old friend, and a member of the Ninth Street Baptist church of that city, which he left to become pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, is dying. Dr. Partridge's stay will be indefinite.

Cassatt—Hutchinson.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—(Special.)—This afternoon at 6 o'clock Miss Katharine K. Cassatt was married to Dr. James P. Hutchinson. The wedding took place in the large drawing room of "Cresswold," the handsome country place of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander J. Cassatt, at Haverford. It was an extremely quiet affair, the invitations including only the members of the immediate families and a very few intimate friends. The Rev. James Haughton, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, at Bryn Mawr, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a handsome gown of white lace and carried a shower bouquet. There were no bridesmaids or maids of honor. Dr. Hutchinson was attended by Dr. Robert Lecount, who acted as best man. The bride is the daughter of Alexander J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad. Her grandfather, on her mother's side, was the Rev. Dr. Buchanan, for nearly half a century rector of old Christ church at Oxford. She is also the great-niece of James Buchanan, president of the United States, and a near kinswoman of Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson. She made her debut several seasons ago, and, in addition to being a conspicuous figure in the social world, is an excellent horsewoman and an expert on the golf field. She is a member of the Sedgley and Acorn clubs. Her sister married Plunkett Stewart of Baltimore. One brother, Robert Kelso Cassatt, married Miss Minnie Drexel Fell, daughter of Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, and another brother, Capt. Edward Cassatt, U. S. A., is the military attache in London.

Dr. Hutchinson is the son of the late Dr. James Hutchinson, who for many years was one of the most distinguished physicians in this city. His great uncle on his mother's side was Joseph R. Ingersoll, American minister to the court of St. James under President Polk. His grandfather was Charles Ingersoll, whose residence, at No. 512 Walnut street, was for many years one of the centers of the most fashionable society in this city. Dr. Hutchinson is a member of the Rittenhouse and Country clubs.

Fred Zimmerman Will Wed.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—(Special.)—The engagement is announced of J. Fred Zimmerman of the firm of Nixon & Zimmerman, prominent theatrical managers of this city, to Miss Vesta Sawtelle of Malden, Mass. The wedding will be solemnized on June 30, after which Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman will summer in Europe.

Mr. Zimmerman admitted the engagement when interviewed this morning. The bride is a cousin of and was a great favorite with his former wife, who died about two years ago. For many years Miss Sawtelle and her sister accompanied the Zimmerman family during their summer vacations. Miss Sawtelle is described as a highly educated and accomplished young woman. She has no connection with the stage. For four years past she has been instructor in music at the Lowell and Salem normal schools, and her popularity was proved by the fact that when her pupils heard of the engagement and wedding they prepared and presented a petition to Miss Sawtelle, asking her to postpone the marriage for a year, so that she could go on teaching.

Mr. Zimmerman is one of the most prominent theatrical managers of the country. The firm of Nixon & Zimmerman, of which he is a member, not only control the leading theaters of this city, Baltimore and Pittsburgh, but are proprietors of a number of traveling attractions and are associated with Charles Frohman and Klaw & Erlanger in the syndicate of managers which practically control the theatrical enterprises of the country.

Two Sewickley Events.

Two social events of importance were held in Sewickley yesterday in honor of Miss Lucy Christy, who will be married tomorrow evening to Frank Scott Willock. A luncheon was given at 1:30 in the afternoon by Mrs. Richard R. Quay at the Allegheny Country club. Covers were laid for 32. The table decorations were ferns and sweet peas. The party included Miss Lucy Christy, Miss Ethel Christy, Miss Abbie Christy, Miss Bertha Andrew, Miss Mollie Andrew, Miss Louise Baldwin, Miss Hazlett, Mrs. H. Page Wetmore, Miss Daisy Miller, Miss Stella Hayes, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Marshall Christy. Miss Baldwin and the Misses Andrew, all of New York, are to be members of the bridal party.

A dinner in honor of the bridal party was given last evening at the home of Miss Stella Hayes in Sewickley Heights. The guests were Miss Lucy Christy, Miss Ethel Christy, Miss Abbie Christy, Miss Daisy Miller, Mrs. Richard R. Quay, Miss Marie Baldwin, Miss Bertha Andrew, Miss Mollie Andrew, Frank Willock, James Willock, J. W. Rhodes, William Stalse, Harry B. McCandless and Thomas O. Jones, all of Pittsburgh. Allan B. Woods and Benjamin Wells were present from Philadelphia. The table decorations were yellow daisies and ferns.

Dinner for a Briday Party.

Dr. and Mrs. Cadwalader Evans gave a dinner last evening in honor of their son and his bride-elect whose wedding will take place tomorrow evening in the Shady Avenue Baptist church, East End. The hour was 7 o'clock and the decorations were sweet peas and maidenhair ferns, the colors being green and white. The dinner preceded the rehearsal at the church. Miss Amy Young and Dr. George Oliver Evans, who is now practicing in Uniontown, where he will take his bride, have chosen for their attendants tomorrow night Miss Lida B. Young, a sister of the bride-elect, who will be maid of honor, seven bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Langworthy, Miss Jane Lloyd, Miss Mabel C. Gillespie, Miss Sarah Kell, Miss Mary Evans, a sister of Dr. Evans, Miss Helen Warren of Virginia and Miss Lida Snowden of Brownsville; Bernie Evans, who will be his brother's best man, and the ushers, Robert Oliver, Cadwalader Evans, Jr., George S. Oliver, Alexander C. Beason and Edward Boyd of Uniontown, Fisher Clark of Passaic, N. J., and Thomas Baille of McKeesport.

Miss Sara Kell will entertain the girls in the wedding party today at luncheon at her home in Westminster street.

French Play by Students.

An amusing little comedietta, entitled "Malade Imaginaire," was presented in an exceptionally creditable manner last evening at the Bishop Bowman institute in Fifth avenue, Bellefield. It was given by the members of the French class under the direction of the instructor, Mlle. Boy de La Tour. Miss Mary Louise Stout impersonated Mme. Argan, ad Miss Beulah Matilda Mueller and Miss Irene Stifel were her two nieces, Victoria and Louise. Miss Leila Edith Mercer was the servant, Antoinette, and Miss Gertrude Demmler and Miss Marian T. Danner were the two physicians, Mme. Drug and Ada Drug. Miss Mercer, Miss Mueller, Miss Stout, together with Miss Ruth Marcey Purdy, are members of the graduating class, whose commencement exercises will be held tomorrow morning in the Trinity Protestant Episcopal church. The Rev. Laurens McClure, rector of St. Thomas' parish, Oakmont, will address the graduates.

To Be a Pastor's Bride.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Invitations were issued today by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. McClure of South Franklin street for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Estelle Gertrude McClure, to the Rev. Rudolph Peek Lippincott of Donora. The marriage will take place in the Third Presbyterian church of Washington at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 23. The Rev. Dr. Mathew Rutherford, pastor of the church, will officiate. The wedding will be one of the most prominent of the early summer in Washington and will be attended by many guests. Miss McClure is one of Washington's best known girls and a graduate of the Washington seminary. The Rev. Mr. Lippincott is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college.

Wedding Invitations Out.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Altha Loughman of Wabash avenue, Allegheny, have issued invitations for the marriage of their sister, Miss Lulu Estelle Loughman of Washington, to Wilmer Mitchell Hammond of Chicago. The marriage will be solemnized at the Loughman residence, Allegheny, at 3:30 on the afternoon of Thursday, June 25. Miss Loughman is a member of one of Washington's oldest families, a graduate of the Washington seminary, and of a Boston school. She is an elocutionist of note. Mr. Hammond is with a railway company in Chicago, where they will reside.

THE annual business meeting and election of officers of the Business Women's club was held last evening in the club rooms in Ash street, Allegheny. The chairmen of the various committees made their reports and the election resulted in the re-election of the old officers: Miss Kate C. McKnight, president; Miss Martha Jamison, vice president; Miss Mary F. Wheeler, secretary; Mrs. W. B. Epley, treasurer, and Miss J. L. Stitt, assistant secretary and treasurer.

There was also an interesting exhibition of work by the dressmaking, millinery, fancy work and painting classes. The meeting was followed by a short musicale and social, during which refreshments were served. The musical program included two piano duets by Miss Steinhauser and Miss Herman; a piano solo by Miss Mary Ure, and two songs by Miss Petty. The past year has been one of the most interesting and successful in the history of the organization. The various classes include the common English branches, cooking, dress cutting and fitting, fancy work, gymnastics, millinery, plain sewing and drawing and painting. The classes are open from October to May, inclusive.

Provision Made for Rain.

The New Era club has about completed all the details for the garden party which it will give Friday afternoon and evening, June 12, in the Liberty school grounds, in Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside. The uncertain state of the weather has played sad havoc during the last few days with prearranged outdoor entertainments that the club women have secured permission to hold their garden party within the Liberty school building on Friday afternoon if it rains, and on the following afternoon, Saturday, will repeat it out-of-doors.

The affair will be conducted on an elaborate scale, and preparations for it are almost completed. Special provision will be made for the entertainment of the children in the afternoon. There will be automobile rides, a Punch and Judy show and a fortune teller's booth, Miss Emma Normecutt having charge of the last. Among the usual garden party attractions will be a pillow booth, another where fine needlework and fancy work will be displayed and a picture booth, where exquisite little watercolors will be for sale. There will be supper for any who wish to remain from the afternoon until evening.

New Industrial School.

The managers of the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale met yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building. Superintendent J. W. Cleland reported that the 70-acre farm is being worked to advantage. The hay, grain and vegetables produced will more than supply the home, and the surplus will be sold. The greenhouse is already a source of profit. The building committee was authorized to start work on the foundations for the new industrial school. The treasurer, Charles F. Dean, has $12,000 in hand for the erection of the building and $5,500 is still needed. The life members of the association have been asked to supply this money, and are expected to contribute it before the payments to the builders are due.

Going to the Fresh Air Home.

Arrangements have been made to open the Allegheny Fresh Air Home at Glenfield for the summer on Tuesday, June 23. Applications for the admission of women and children should be made at the rooms for the relief for the poor, in Arch street, where the secretary, Mrs. Glenn, will be from 2:30 until 5 o'clock each day.

Lawn Fete in Avalon.

A lawn fete will be given this evening on the grounds surrounding the home of Alexander M. Hamilton, in Home avenue, Avalon. This is an annual entertainment given by the Young People's society of the Christian Endeavor of the Bellevue United Presbyterian church. There will be music and the usual bazar attractions.

Homestead Girl Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McClure of Homestead have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Gledell McClure, and Samuel Henry Ebberts of Swissvale. The wedding will take place in the fall.

Can't Afford Life Assurance?

There are people who complain because it costs an egg to get a chick—

Wise men buy life assurance not only as a sacred obligation to loved ones—but as a needed provision for their own old age.

OLYPHANT PUTS BLAME ON MINERS

Says They Are Responsible for Large Advance in Price of Anthracite Coal.

COST INCREASED BY STRIKE

Ex-President of Delaware and Hudson Testifies Before Inter-State Commerce Commission Concerning Workings of the Alleged Illegal Combination.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 8.

"Devilishness of the miners" was given as the cause of high prices of anthracite coal by R. M. Olyphant, former president of the Delaware & Hudson Company, before the interstate commerce commission today, when its sessions were resumed after an adjournment of four weeks.

"The cost seems to be increasing all the time," said Mr. Olyphant, adding: "The advance in price decided upon in April and the subsequent advances were caused by the increased cost. Coal ought to be sold for more than $5 a ton."

"What should be a fair price?" asked Mr. Shearn, counsel for the petitioner.

"I say that $5 is a moderate price."

"Your company was making money when you sold coal at $4 a ton?"

"Taking in what is behind the production, I should say not."

"How do you account for the increase of 50 cents a ton which has been arranged at 10 cents a month?"

"This was caused by the decision of the strike commission, and the devilishness of the miners has greatly increased the cost. If we wished to increase we could get more for our coal. We thought the coal was worth the price and was demanded by the necessities of the coal area."

BUSINESS STUPIDLY CONDUCTED.

Mr. Olyphant corroborated the statements of the other coal men who testified that the price of coal is to be raised 10 cents a ton a month until a maximum increase of 50 cents a ton is reached in the whole history of commerce there never was anything as ignorant and stupid as the way the coal business has been conducted considering the usefulness and necessity of coal and its limited supply.

Adelbert Moot, counsel for the Erie system, protested that the commission has no jurisdiction in any matter that concerns the price of coal. The commission decided it could consider the prices realized for a product to arrive at the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the freight rate.

A question to Mr. Olyphant relating to the 60-35 per cent contracts was objected to and sustained pending a decision on the point by Judge Lacombe.

Samuel T. Peters of Williams & Peters, sales agents for the coal interests of the Erie system, was recalled and explained the variation in prices shown by saying that sometimes it was necessary or politic to make a special price to a special consumer.

ONE RATE AGREEMENT.

M. S. Kammerer, of M. S. Kammerer & Co., dealers in coal and iron, of the Luzerne district, the next witness, has an arrangement with the Jersey Central railroad for transportation. The rates he said on coal approximate 15 per cent of the tidewater price in the price of the product.

After a long argument between counsel the commission ruled in favor of Mr. Shearn's contention that the coal purchase contracts are admissible as evidence.

Mr. Shearn read from the record the contract between J. and J. J. Jermyn and the Susquehanna & Western Coal Company, by which the Jermyns agreed to sell the entire product of their mines to the Susquehanna & Western Coal Company at certain prices ranging from 50 per cent of the tidewater price realized by the pea coal to 65 per cent realized for stove and chestnut coal. A ton of coal under the contract means 2,240 pounds and an allowance of one per cent is made by the seller for wastage.

ELKS' MINSTRELS GAVE A FINE PERFORMANCE

Large Crowd Heard Jokes and Up-to-Date Music—"Wang" at Duquesne Garden.

Jokes of all kinds, mostly new and up-to-date; songs well worth hearing, including the latest popular hits; "cracks" on local people and things, generally to the point, but not injurious to the feelings of anybody, and a general air of friendliness and good feeling pervading the whole building, made the first night of the 24th annual benefit of Pittsburgh lodge, No. 11, B. P. O. E. at the Bijou theater last evening a distinct success dramatically, socially and financially. The house was filled and almost every number on the program was liberally applauded, and in many cases several encores were called for. The "Elks' Mammoth Minstrels" were on the boards, and the fact that they all are members of No. 11 showed that music is a feature of the lodge as well as charity and benevolence.

The greatest outburst of enthusiasm and patriotism took place at the finale of the first part, when James P. Dunleavy sang "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," telling how the stars and stripes have held their place since the war for independence. When the members of the chorus joined in the stage was darkened and the lanterns in their hands were lighted by electricity and the national colors and the American flag, which were on the transparencies, showed up to fine advantage. Then a curtain fell in the back of the stage and there appeared a tableau of three figures—a summer boy, a man playing a fife and an aged flag-bearer holding up the American emblem to the breeze. The crowd could not be kept quiet and called for repeated encores. Tonight the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia baseball teams will occupy boxes at the performance. The full program last night was as follows:

Synopsis, curtain raiser, introductory, bones and tambos, interlocutor, James P. Dunleavy; manipulators of the bones, Julius Cohn, William H. Hahn, Con Yeager, William Meighan; wielders of the tambo, James Gibson, Robert R. McCutcheon, T. McCarthy, Al F. King, musical director, Charles Marion Coates; "Auld Lang Syne," "We're All Good Fellows"; "Eva," "On a Moonlight Night," Stein song; "Fan," "The Well, Hollie Calling," "Mawatha," "Down Where the Wurzburger Flows," "I've Got Me Eyes On You," "Come On, Dinah, On the Green," finale, "Anvil Chorus," "Cold, Southern Skies," Joseph Stern, popular song, "When Kate and I Were Coming Thro' the Rye," James T. Quinn; "St. Patrick's Day Is a Bad Day for Coons," James Gibson; "Is That All You've Got to Say?" Julius Cohn, tenor solo, "Tom Late," David T. Davies, and song, "The Gambling Man," Robert R. McCutcheon; "Only a Soldier Boy," Lawrence Reed; "Fade Away, I'm Willin' to Die Then," William H. Hahn; "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," James P. Dunleavy, tableau, "The Spirit of '76"; "Lazy bag punching, Dal Jeffries; "Coon Coon Coon," and "I'll Be Satisfied With Life," Julius Cohn; "Dixie Land," William H. Hahn; the old-time southern girl, "Christmas Eve Among the Darktown Elks"; "Uncle Jackson," D. Gibson; "Aunt Posey Jackson," William Meighan; Peter Jackson," Con Yager, "Zeb Jackson," T. McCarthy; "Jim Jackson," Edward W. Gibson; "Zeke Coon," James P. Quinn; "Chick Jackson," Jos. Stern; "Dick Green," David Davies; "Col. Jamison" (Santa Claus), Mr. Wooten; "Plantation Melodies," by the quartet, and "Just Kiss Your Honey Goodby," Messrs. McCarthy and Edgard. Others: Knight, Orth, Yielkwick, Mr. James P. Dunleavy, introducing Mr. Dunleavy in DeWolf Hopper's latest hit, "When Samuel Pickwick Leads His Own Brigade."

"Wang" at the Duquesne.

There is so much bright, tuneful music and a comic plot of such laughable nonsense about this old DeWolf Hopper success that it is always welcomed as a bright spot in the summer opera seasons. As given by the Duquesne Garden stock opera it possesses three or four features so excellent that one can easily forgive the first blemishes. Norma Kopp, William Danforth and a petite little maiden, new to Pittsburgh, Miss Sabary D'Orsell by name, are the bright particular stars of the singing aggregation, while big John Martin is enough like DeWolf Hopper in the title role to create at least a fair-off reminder. Martin is an excellent comedian, though last night his voice was away off, due, it is said, from a week's wrestling with the "Hoot-Mon" role in the "Idol's Eye." Martin might advantageously throw off that awkward loping walk, too, it grows monotonous in the course of an evening. Otherwise his Wang is all right. Norma Kopp, the merry-faced, trim-limbed maiden who was Della Fox's successor in the role of Mamzelle, is a far better singer than Della ever dared to be and is also that damsel's superior in physical charms. Her "Babbling Brook" song last night caught on immensely. William Danforth is an excellent actor with a good singing voice, and unless one of the most unsightly Fregasses we have ever seen. Miss D'Orsell, as Marie, is a dainty little bit of femininity and has a singing voice that is clear and full in the upper register. Her solo in the second act caught the fancy of the audience, and she was compelled to reoccupy it. Ben Lodge, as Popat; Bessie Fairburn, as the widow; W. G. Shelly, as Jean, and Miss Madge Lawrence, as Gillette, complete a cast of very excellent principals. The chorus has been augmented by the addition of some pretty girls and when they get used to their stage evolutions and put a little more ginger into their work they will form an important part of the enjoyment of the opera. Manager Reynolds has put the opera on with excellent taste, and the popularity of its music ought to make it the most successful of the season. Miss Arnot sings some new songs in the palm garden.

At the Parks.

Over 1,500 people were at Kennywood and they enjoyed the band concerts fully as much as they did the various amusements away from the big pavilions. Rocereto's band played the catchy descriptive number, entitled "A Trip to Coney Island," and it seemed to delight the audience well. The piece starts with a trolley ride to the island; then, after the party arrive, they hear Pat Gilmore's band; then an Italian band, a singer and various other musical events, the whole finally ending in a rousing movement that made everybody laugh.

The week's bill of vaudeville, free in the evenings, opened at Oakwood to a big audience. The bill was headed by the Cheyenne Princess Chinquilla, the only reservation Indian in vaudeville, and she, with Ed Newell, the cowboy entertainer, made a distinct hit. They are a clever team. On the bill with them are the DeMuths, whirlwind dancers; Martin and Quigg have an act entitled "A Man and a Half," which is very funny; Miss Lola Haynes proved herself a sweet singer, and Manning and DuCrow did a comedy bar act. The Southern park bill was submitted to large crowds of enthusiastic park patrons, who showed their appreciation of the efforts of the entertainers. The Ansell troupe of dancing girls headed the bill. McNamee, the clay modlere, did some very good work in the manipulation of clay, while Miss Katherine Miley sang several songs in a pleasing manner. Wyman and Garner, German comedians, kept their audiences laughing, while Henderson and Ross did a novelty tight-rope act.

EASTERN STOCKS WEAK AND LOWER

After Very Heavy Liquidation the Market Rallied at the Close—Local Securities Active, Weak and Lower.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street was prepared for lower prices before the opening of the market yesterday. London quotations showing general declines and foreign markets being weak, based upon the unexpected advance in the rate of the Imperial bank of Germany from 3½ to 4 per cent. In addition to this the "bear" party is daily becoming bolder, and the tip was freely distributed that Atchison, Missouri Pacific & Union Pacific would be attacked. These three stocks bore the brunt of the selling during the early part of the day, and all three sold down to the lowest prices of the year. Another disturbing feature was the unaccountable weakness in Baltimore & Ohio, which was sold for London account and declined to 83¾. The main theory for the decline in this stock was that it was quoted relatively higher than other 4 per cent dividend-payers, and hence should reach a common level. The same "argument" is applied to Missouri Pacific, a 5 per cent stock. A little later in the session the entire group of coal stocks became weak. Reading broke to 43½, Lackawana to 245¼, Delaware & Hudson to 167, and Norfolk & Western, which has held remarkably well all through the depression sold off to 63¾. In the industrial list Amalgamated Copper broke from 64 to 61¾. Peoples Gas broke to 96½, and the steel stocks were ½@1 per cent lower. Sugar declined to 116¼. The only stocks in which there was any degree of steadiness were New York Central, Pennsylvania and St. Paul, which fluctuated within a narrower range than for some time past.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Between 1 and 2 p. m. the lowest prices of the day were quoted, and up to the latter hour there was no sign whatever of support. In only a few instances, however, were there any decided appearance of bearish manipulation. The market seemed to decline of its own weight, and commission houses were doing little or nothing on the buying side. Some of the high-priced specialities sold down to the lowest prices of the year, conspicuous in this respect being Chicago & Northwestern, which broke to 169. Consolidated Gas and General Electric were also in this class. Shortly after 2 p. m. an easier tendency in the call loan market appeared, and at the same time sterling rates declined. These two incidents, which were apparently illogical, caused shorts to cover, and a temporary rally occurred. This was succeeded by another reaction, but during the closing 15 minutes of the session the market became firm, and some of the specialities made large recoveries. Among the latter were Amalgamated Copper, which rallied 2 per cent to 53¾. Union Pacific rallied from 78¾ to 80. Missouria Pacific from 100⅝ to 101⅝, and the general list from ½ to 1 per cent. Baltimore & Ohio continued weak and closed only a fraction above the lowest. The sales reached 861,400 shares.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Sentiment more than fact dominated the market, the developments of the day not being of special importance. The decline in the grangers was naturally attributed to the damage to the crops and railroad property by the floods in the west, and may have been in a way discounting the government crop report tomorrow. The grain markets, however, did not indicate any fear on the part of Chicago traders that any serious damage had been done to winter wheat, or that the acreage of corn would not be up to the average. Cotton was very strong, and the damage to this crop is admittedly serious. Much attention was given to the condition of the money market. The call loan rates ranged between 4 and 2 per cent, closing at the latter figure, but these rates are not considered as fair criterion of monetary conditions, for the reason that many borrowers earlier in the year provided themselves with time funds, and there is not now the demand for call loans as under ordinary circumstances. The sub-treasury continues to absorb funds, and since last Friday has gained $1,071,000 from the banks. Gold to the amount of $250,000 was engaged for shipment to Germany by today's steamer. Between the 18th and 27th inst. the market must provide $37,500,000 for the first payment on subscriptions to Pennsylvania railroad stock, and there are other syndicate operations that will make drains upon the market. These requirements were planned for a period when money usually accumulates in the east, but, as was shown by Saturday's bank statement, the current from the interior is not of sufficient volume to overcome the outflow to Europe, and the banks are poorer in cash and surplus reserves than for a long time. Still, it is expected that Alaskan gold will begin to arrive within the next few weeks, and the amount is estimated at not less than $15,000,000.

The local market yesterday was active and weak, the sales exceeding 11,000 shares and prices at the close averaging lower. Crucible Steel was firm at the opening and rallied to 15⅝, but later reacted to and closed at 14½, the sales reaching 2,845 shares. The preferred declined from 81½ to 80½, and recovered to 80¾ at the close. There was comparatively little doing in United States Steel, and common closed ⅞ lower and the preferred ⅝ lower. The marketing of a little less than 2,000 shares Philadelphia Company common caused a decline in that stock to 40¾, the close being at the lowest, a net loss of 1⅝. Manufacturers Light & Heat was also weak, declining to 38½ at the close, the lowest on the present capitalization. Pittsburgh Coal common held steady at 27⅝ until near the close when the price eased off to 27½, closing at that bid. River Coal common sold at 10¼. Westinghouse Electric opened steady at 91¾, but later broke to 89½, and closed at 90 sales, a net loss of a dollar a share. The first installment of $30 a share was due on subscriptions to the new stock yesterday. A small amount of the subscription rights sold at a dollar a share. There was very little doing in the remainder of the industrial list, but the tone of the market was heavy.

In the banking and trust company group the only important changes were in Commonwealth Trust, a small lot of which sold at 235, a drop of 10 points from the last previous sale, and Real Estate Trust, which sold off from 287 to 285 and was subsequently offered at 283¾, as compared with the final sale last week at 290½. Pittsburg Trust declined from 357 to 355, and North American Savings from 162 to 150. There were no transactions in Equitable Trust, but the stock was offered down to 180 at the close. The bond list remained dull and nominally unchanged. Brewing 6s selling at 114 and River Coal 6s at 113¾.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday aggregated 11,110 shares stock, $12,000 bonds and 20 rights. Sales:

SOMEBODY IS BUYING.

Judging by the private wire and mail advices Wall street is more bearish today, with prices from five to 50 points below the level of last January, than at any previous time this year. There is a feeling that there must be something under the surface to account for the almost unprecedented period of liquidation and shrinkage in values, and that after this "something" is disclosed, the recovery in the market will be slow because of the large amount of stock that must have been accumulated in the earlier stages of the decline for the purpose of support or for a turn on the long side, which accumulation will have to be absorbed on small advances. So far as the volume of liquidation is concerned and the extent of the decline, it should be borne in mind that there was a larger amount of stocks to liquidated than ever before, and more room for a decline. At the same time it may be well not to forget that for every seller there must be a buyer, and that while the liquidation has been enormous, there must have been a similarly large amount of stocks bought. For instance, last week the 167 stocks of Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Missouri and Atchison-five representative stocks—were 1,520,000 shares. The average price was about 108 and the money value of the purchases of these five stocks alone approximated $161,000,000. There was nothing in the market last week to encourage buying on the part of the public, and if the reports of commission houses can be relied upon the only part the public took in the market was to sell. It might be a difficult thing to classify the buyers, but after crediting a due proportion to "shorts," there must have been a respectable remainder which can only be classified as insiders and investors. The fact that there did not seem to be bottom prices is no reflection upon their judgment because in all movements there are usually but insignificant transactions at the top and bottom figures. At all events, the purchase of shares in only these five stocks represented a large sum.

YIELD ON MONEY AND STOCKS

The average rate for time loans in the eastern money market probably ranged above 5 per cent continuously from last August until last April. It was remarked in this department early in the spring that stocks could not continue to be quoted at prices yielding the investor from 3 to 4 per cent and time money command 5 per cent or higher. The course of the market has justified this opinion. Time loans still average 5 per cent, but in the opinion of conservative eastern bankers this rate is not likely to be exceeded during the remainder of the year. Of course, unexpected may happen, which would upset this calculation, but in view of the liquidation in the stock market, and the preparations which some of the large houses have made for carrying themselves over the coming autumn, there is not likely to be the stress in the money market that is usually witnessed during the closing quarter of the year. If there should be a steady relaxation in business, that fact would merely add to the available supply of loanable funds. Meanwhile prices of stocks have declined to a level where the yield is from 4½ to 6 per cent. Atchison pays the latter rate. Union Pacific pays 4 per cent, Missouri Pacific only a share less, and Baltimore & Ohio about 4⅜ per cent. Reading pays the latter, by the way. It was not so long ago that the most ardent prediction of a nincrease in the dividend rate. Last year the company reported a surplus of more than $9,000,000, which was equal to 4 per cent on the preferred stock and 5.3 per cent on the common. For the first 10 months of the current fiscal year the gross earnings have increased $4,181,800 and the net increased $2,065,000. Last year the Atchison earned a surplus equal to 5 per cent on the preferred and 6.06 on the common. For the 10 months of the current fiscal year the gross earnings have increased $2,850,000, while the net earnings have decreased $254,000. The fixed charges for the present year will be about $750,000 larger than for 1902, but the margin last year over dividend requirements was sufficient to leave little doubt of the present rate of dividend being maintained. These two stocks are merely cited as instances of the fact that while prices have declined to a level which brings the yield to a parity with the rate for money, earnings are much larger than when stock market values were from 10 to 20 points higher. These facts will ultimately attract the attention of investors, and buying on the part of the latter will absorb the offerings now being liquidated by speculators.

THE DAY'S RUMORS.

An unconfirmed rumor that the new Rock Island authorities are taking steps to the matter of rates that threaten a widespread unsettlement in their territory was current in Wall street yesterday, but it was not clear that it had anything to do with the weakness. Rock Island itself was not as weak as some other stocks.

The rumor obtained quite wide circulation on the theory that the afternoon that J. P. Morgan was about to return home unexpectedly on account of urgent business in New York. At the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. it was stated that Mr. Morgan would not sail for home before July 1 anyway and possibly not until September.

MONEY HIGHER IN GERMANY.

It is reported that German banks, in their eagerness to obtain allotments of the lately issued imperial loan, have committed themselves so largely as to demand a recall of German credits placed abroad. The demand for money in Germany is also attributed to reviving industrial activity. This is the explanation given for the unexpected advance in the rate of the Imperial bank of Germany yesterday from 3½ to 4 per cent.

CRUCIBLE STEEL DIVIDEND.

The directors of the Crucible Steel Company are scheduled to meet today to take action upon the dividend on the preferred stock. There is no reason to doubt that the regular 1¾ per cent for the quarter will be declared. Regarding the selling of 4,000 common stock, which yesterday ranged between 15⅛ and 14½, a director is quoted as saying that the Halcomb plant, which has heretofore been a non-productive asset to the company, is now making money, and that the earnings from this source will be increased with the completion of the additional furnace under construction. There is no rumor that some friction had occurred in the final negotiations of the negotiations for the acquisition of the Clairton plant by the United States Steel Corporation, and that the weakness in the common stock was for the same reason. One Fourth avenue broker expressed the opinion yesterday that if the United States Steel Corporation wanted the plant, and would give $5,000,000 for it, the largest buyers in Philadelphia Company and Sproul & Co. and Hill & Co. were the largest sellers.

A small lot of American Window Glass preferred sold at 83, a decline of 5 per cent from the last previous sale. There were no quotations on American Window Glass Machine Company stocks.

On the exchange a smal lot of Safe Deposit new stock was offered at 400.

Merchants Savings & Trust was offered at 98.

National Biscuit common sold down to 48 yesterday, the lowest price of the year.

Northern Securities stock dropped to 83¾, a new low point, on the curb market and closed at 90¾ bid.

There was some calling of loans in Wall street yesterday. Preparation is being made for the payment of an installment of $7,500,000 of the subscription to the Metropolitan Securities Company, due on Wednesday. The 50 per cent installment on the new Pennsylvania stock, calling for $43,000,000, is payable June 15 to June 27. Although it is understood that the Pennsylvania Company's 6 months' loan for $40,000,000 secured last January will be paid off with the proceeds of these subscriptions.

There was some discussion in New York banking circles yesterday regarding the use of the loans according to individual capitalists. It is well understood that very large loans of this character are inducements of repayment and it is commonly believed that important settlements have been made by private agreement, involving very large transfers of holdings in important railroad systems and crowning suggestions of possible changes on the curb.

Pittsburgh Shear, Knife & Machine Company stock was offered on the local board at 45.

The Dennison National bank of Dennison, O., has been organized with a capital of $50,000 and surplus of $12,000. A number of Pittsburghers are interested, the board of directors consisting of M. Moody, Thomas Wright, H. L. Birney, W. A. Coulter, E. N. Van Gorder, E. D. Moody, R. C. Wells, T. A. Lisle, H. P. Gardner, C. A. Greenlee, J. Quincy Law, T. B. Rea, W. G. Wallace, G. W. Kelly and R. T. Hicks. They met Wednesday evening and elected the following officers: President, M. Moody; vice presidents, T. A. Lisle and Thomas Wright; cashier, T. B. Rea; assistant cashier, M. M. Kemppers. All of the officers, with the exception of Thomas Wright, agent of the P., C., C. & St. L. Ry. Co., are the same as the management of the present Mercantile and Manufacturing bank of Dennison, whose business passes into the hands of the Dennison National bank. The latter will be one of the strongest institutions in Tuscarawas county.

Frank R. Stoner has been elected a director of the Fourth National bank of Pittsburgh.

The earnings of the International Smokeless Powder & Chemical Company for the first six months of the year will show an increase of considerably more than 2½ per cent over the same period of last year.

The gross earnings of Southern Pacific for April were $7,397,000, an increase of $607,737. Net earnings were $1,695,000, a decrease of $204,573.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market remains firm and unchanged at 6 per cent on new business. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, June 8.—Money, 2@2½ per cent; the rate for short bills, 2 15-16@3 per cent; consols for money, 91 13-16; account, 91 15-16. Money was abundant in the market today. The indebtedness to the Bank of England is expected to be cleared off tomorrow. Discounts were nominal. Consols on the stock exchange operators were idle, with the exception of arranging the account. The increasing of the Berlin bank rate from 3½ to 4 per cent had a depressing influence. Consols were easier. Home rails were weak. Americans opened depressed and below parity, rallied slightly on local support, subsequently broke again and closed flat.

BERLIN, June 8.—Prices on the bourse were rather weak and trading was moderate. Canadian Pacific was 3 points lower.

PARIS, June 8.—Business on the bourse today opened hesitating, the weakness of gold mines affecting the whole list. At the close prices were weak.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $222,686,442; gold, $107,778,223; silver, $24,320,711; outstanding United States notes, $7,028,539; treasury notes of 1890, $1,890,405; National bank notes, $11,072,376; total receipts this week, $2,207,794; total receipts this month, $15,011,738; total receipts this year, $203,540,257; total expenditures this week, $1,813,048; total expenditures this month, $11,750,000; total expenditures this year, $465,506,952; deposits in national banks, $285,957,087.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Money on call firm at 2@4 per cent; highest, 4 per cent; ruling, offered 2 per cent. Time money firm; 60 days, 4@4½ per cent; 90 days, 4½@5 per cent; six months, 4½@5 per cent. Sterling exchange easier, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 87.80 for demand and at $4 82 for 60 days' bills; posted rates, $4 85½@4 85¾; commercial bills, $4 84½. Bar silver, 53c; Mexican dollars, 42c; government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The market for coffee futures opened quiet at unchanged prices and ruled quiet with fractionless foreign markets, but turned rather easier under further liquidation and was finally dull at net unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points. Sales were 65,200 bags, including June at 3.70c; September, 3.90c; November, 4.10c; December, 4.25c; May, 4.65c; spot Rio quiet; mild quiet. Sugar, raw, steady; fair refining, 3½c; centrifugal 96 test, 3 19-32c; molasses sugar, 2 29-32c; refined easy.

In the Oil Fields

Monday, as usual, proved a dull day for oil developments in the lower southwest fields. Nearly all of the larger companies suspend drilling on Sunday, so that the list of completions at the start of the week is small.

In the Plum Grove extension, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Minerva Jackson farm into the top of the Gordon and has a small showing of oil.

In the lower end of the Fluvanna district, the South Penn has drilled No. 41 on the Robinson tract into the strav and has a small showing of oil. In the same locality No. 4 Kasner heirs' farm, has been drilled to salt and has filled up 100 feet with fluid.

In the Cameron end of the Fish Creek district, in Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Jacob Stanisford farm through the Gordon. The well produced 80 barrels the first 24 hours after it had been shot.

In the Fifth grand part of the old Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn has shot and is cleaning out its No. 11 on the James Lee farm and will have a small producer.

In the Wolf Run extension, Noble county, the only three wells reentering in the list of those producing 100 or more barrels a day are the Noble Oil & Gas Company's No. 1 C. V. Kelley farm, 150 barrels, No. 2 Mahaffey heirs', 200, and Leonard, Egan & Co.'s No. 2 Henry Walters farm, 200 barrels a day.

Leonard, Egan & Co.'s test on the Ritchie farm has found a good showing of oil and is waiting for a 10-barrel pumper. The test of Frank, Pettit & Co., on the Lyale farm, Noble county, two weeks ago, is holding up at 25 barrels a day.

In the Trail Run district, Monroe county, the Penn Oil Company has completed a test on the E. J. Dye farm, and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener. In the Jackson Ridge field, the Consolidated Oil Company has completed No. 4 on the Lee Truax farm and has a 10-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

In the Smith Ferry district, Beaver county, the Industry Oil Company has completed No. 2 on the Mark farm and has a show for a 15 or 20-barrel pumper.

The South Penn Oil Company has completed No. 8 on the J. H. Marton farm and has a 10 or 15-barrel pumper.

SPECULATORS AFRAID SOMETHING WILL HAPPEN

Short Selling and Liquidation Cause Further Declines in Stock Prices.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 9.

The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says: Stocks declined under the combined influence of liquidation and short selling, and there underwent an irregular recovery, partly due to a realization that some stocks were well bought on the decline, but chiefly to re-purchase by the bears to secure profits. Commission house brokers and bankers maintained that the buying was of better character than the selling, but from the fact that the prices declined and in many instances, despite the late recovery, the losses at the last were of notable proportions, it is evident that the purchases were not of sufficient volume to absorb all the stock offered without concession. The market was filled again with disquieting rumors, none of which could be verified in banking circles, but which, taken in connection with the insistent selling, deterred many men from entering the market as buyers.

Speculative sentiment was much mixed. The prevailing opinion expressed was that declines in most cases had gone as far as they ought to and further than they should in certain stocks, but no one was willing to venture the opinion they would not go further. Brokers were willing to suggest that customers could make discriminating purchases for cash, but were not willing to advise as to speculative purchases on margins. The trading element manifested perplexity, maintaining that it was like finding money to sell stocks short. They maintained that liquidation was general throughout the country; that they had no difficulty in covering short sales, and that unless the important interests showed some signs of supporting the market that its tendency must be downward. The traders to a man hold that something portentious is overhanging the market.

As for many days past, the chief influencing factor in working the stock market decline was the selling pressure and the inability of the street to trace the source of the liquidation or assign other than general causes for it. As one broker put it, "Prices have reached rock-bottom again and again, but each time they reach it some one pulls up the rocks."

MOVEMENTS IN TRADE.

WASHINGTON—The director of the mint today purchased 50,000 ounces of silver for delivery coinage at an average of 52.85 cents an ounce.

WASHINGTON—The amount of 3 and 4 per cent bonds thus far received at the treasury department for exchange into 2 per cent consols is $71,044,100.

NEW YORK—Kidder, Peabody & Co. of Boston announce a shipment of $250,000 gold to Germany tomorrow through local correspondents, Baring, Magoun & Co.

A TURTLE CREEK FARM IS SOLD

Local Capitalists Purchase 140 Acres of Land for $20,000 as Addition to Lot Plan.

SQUIRREL HILL TRANSACTION

Penn Avenue Property Brought $14,000. Business Property in Chicago Is Being Monopolized as in Pittsburgh—Spirt in Building Operations in Face of Strikes.

The Turtle Creek Land Company has added to its holdings in Patton township by the purchase of 140 acres adjoining the Miller farm on the north. The price paid was $20,000, or about $143 an acre. The Miller farm contains 100 acres and was bought about two months ago. With the first purchase and 40 acres more adjoining which the company has under option it will have 280 acres lying just north of Turtle Creek, which it proposes to put on the market in a few weeks. Before the land is offered to buyers, Maple avenue, which runs out from Turtle Creek through the plan, will be graded and paved one mile beyond the borough limits and practically all the side streets will be graded. It is expected that when the new plant of the Westinghouse company is in full operation at least 10,000 workmen will be located within a short distance of this point. The company is composed of Senator W. A. Magee, Edward Frauenheim and other capitalists of Pittsburgh.

By the delivery of the deed yesterday it appears that Thomas J. Keenan paid $115,000 for the Sixth avenue hotel property instead of $100,000 as previously reported. The purchase was made two weeks ago from John O'Neil. The property is a 3-story hotel building, 24x100 feet, facing 47 feet in Grant street, 23 feet in Sixth avenue and having an average depth of 66.5 feet. No changes are contemplated at present.

SQUIRREL HILL HOUSE BOUGHT.

Through the agency of Burns & Reilly D. S. Liggett and S. G. Lennox have sold to Mrs. T. J. McTighe a fine residence property in Dalzell avenue, Squirrel Hill, for $15,000. The house is a 12-room center hall brick house standing on lot 80x110 feet and will be occupied by the purchaser as a home.

The Fifth Avenue Realty Company has sold for Mrs. J. Keans to Louis Selznick, president of the Pittsburgh Jewelry Company, the property at No. 1734 Penn avenue for $14,000. It consists of a three-story brick building on lot 22x100 feet, and was bought for an investment.

For the Pittsburgh Land Company the Union Realty Company has sold to Robert Jenkins, Jr., a lot, 30x139 feet, facing on the south side of Hobart street, Twenty-third ward, for $10,500. The buyer will improve the lot with a handsome residence. This is the third sale of Squirrel Hill sites that this company has made within a few days and two other deals are pending for choice lots in the Forty-second ward.

It develops that the sale of Mrs. Willis McCook property at the corner of Penn avenue and Eighteenth street was made by the Aronson Realty Company. The lot measures 21x60 feet and has erected on it a three story brick store for the buyer, is George White, who paid $21,000 for the property.

REALTY HARD TO GET IN CHICAGO.

The tendency to monopolize all the choice downtown real estate appears not to be confined to Pittsburgh, but is manifest in other cities, notably Chicago. A broker from that city is authority for the statement that in what is known as the Union loop, formed by the L road encircling the south, east and north, property is as hard to get as anywhere in this city. Sales have been made recently in this locality at prices ranging from $20,000 to $25,000 a front foot. The most affected by the buying fever are State, La Salle, Dearborn, Monroe and Madison, where nearly all the property is either held out of the market by individuals or estates, or has been acquired by large financial institutions for permanent occupancy. Some of these institutions are now erecting a $5,000,000 building, and other big concerns are building costly business homes. Chicago has one great advantage over Pittsburgh in that it can spread out more easily, but the business district is guarded so closely by shrewd investors as the most valuable portion of this city, where values have made such phenomenal advances in the last two years.

GOOD SALES IN PROSPECT.

Judging by the activity manifested among brokers yesterday a number of deals of more than ordinary importance are likely to be announced this week. Two of them will probably be sales of Diamond street property, one of which has already been articled for. With the visible widening of Diamond alley investors are showing a great interest in property along the new street, which they believe will in two years be as valuable for business purposes as Fourth avenue frontage. A deal which will likely be closed today is the sale of a property in Federal street, Allegheny, for which $42,000 is being paid. Mrs. Jacob Keesport a farm sale amounting to $30,000 is booked for settlement this week and two large downtown deals of a similar amount have a good prospect of early closing.

Woods Run. James H. Thompson sold for Mrs. William H. Woodruff of Auburn, N. Y., to Bridget Ann Morgan, 24 lots, $400 feet each, and four frame houses, on Woods Run avenue, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $5,000.

Hazelwood. Samuel W. Black & Co. sold 624 W. Bay Mayberry, Hazelwood, a six-room modern brick house, lot 21x100 feet, at No. 59 Renova street, Twenty-third ward, for $2,700.

Braddock. A. A. Schilling sold for J. J. Reilly to J. Beattner a double frame house, lot 50x120 feet, in the east side of Carey avenue, Braddock, for $5,000.

NEW HOUSE IN EDGEWOOD.

Architects Milligan & Miller have plans for a colonial brick house to be built by H. F. Texter at the corner of Elm and Dewey streets, Edgewood, at a cost of $12,000.

Westinghouse Realty Company. Real Estate Company has sold to C. J. Connell for Louisa Ehrenfeld a lot 70x128, containing a four-room frame house, in Main street, Lilly, Cambria county, Pa.

Yesterday was a banner day for summer with the Pittsburgh bureau of building inspection, permits to the amount of $75,000 having been issued as follows:

Samuel McCarlin, 11 brick-veneered dwellings, Mellon street, Nineteenth ward, $55,000.

Michael Lyons, three brick apartments, Hilton street, Tenth ward, $5,000.

Harry Moore, frame dwelling, Salisbury street, Twenty-seventh ward, $2,387.

Ida J. Irwin, frame dwelling, Roscoe alley, Nineteenth ward, $900.

Mrs. Celia Walsh, frame addition to dwelling, Lyman street, Twenty-second ward, $1,500.

Martin Buck, brick addition to dwelling, Linton street, Eleventh ward, $5,000.

South Hills Trust Company, bank office, Shiloh street, Thirty-second ward, $4,000.

Frank Domilio, brick dwelling, 224 Upland street, Twenty-first ward, $1,000.

Cattle.

Light receipts of cattle characterized the business of the day at the Central stock yards, only 85 cattleads being offered for sale. The market was active and prices were higher, the full extent of the increase in selling figures over those which prevailed last week not being as stated in listed quotations, although evidently believing that the spurt of the day is not surely established as the market for the balance of the week.

Choice, 1,400 to 1,500 lbs, $5 40@5 80; prime, 1,200 to 1,400 lbs, $5 15@5 35; good, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, $4 85@5 00; fair, 900 to 1,000 lbs, $4 30@4 75; choice to fancy, 700 to 1,000 lbs, $5 00@5 25; bulls and cows, $2 00@4 40; fresh cows and springers, $20 00@50 00.

Hogs.

Receipts of hogs were heavier than those of last Monday, 50 double decks arriving, and the market was slow at a decline. Prices are lower by 25 to 40 cents than those which ruled a week ago.

Prime heavy hogs, $6 00@6 05; medium $5 95; heavy Yorkers, $5 90@5 95; light Yorkers, $5 80@5 85; pigs, $5 50@5 70; roughs, $4 00@5 35.

Sheep and Lambs.

Arrivals of sheep and lambs showed some increase in number as compared with those of this day last week, while the market held steady for best sheep, other grades were slow. Quotations are higher than those of last Monday, though lower than prices which ruled during the latter part of last week.

Best wethers, 95 to 100 lbs, $4 75@4 90; good mixed, 85 to 90 lbs, $4 50@4 60; fair, 75 to 80 lbs, $3 80@4 20; choice lambs, $5 60@5 70; good to prime, $5 40@5 50; spring lambs, $4 50@7 50; veal calves, $7 00@7 25; heavy and thin, $4 50@5 50.

RIVERMEN DISCOURAGED.

Although Water Is Falling a Rise This Month Is Predicted.

The steady fall of the water in the local rivers and a no-rain forecast are discouraging to rivermen, who have many millions of bushels of coal loaded for the usual June rise. There is still the low stage within 15 days was prophesied by experienced rivermen yesterday. A rise of two feet probably will be made by the last rains, and the packets will be able to resume operations.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company has 16 steamers ready, hitched up to 45 barges, with 1,000,000 bushels, representing nearly 35,000,000 bushels of coal. C. Jutte & Co. have three steamers hitched up tows and two others near at hand, in an opportunity for a boat to target away is afforded. The Jas. S. Bailey Company has the Harper and Gilmore ready with tows, the other companies having but little coal ready.

CREAMERY BUTTER PRICES ADVANCE

Old Potatoes Higher—Fresh Tomatoes Abundant and Lower. Apricots Due Today.

An advance of a half cent per pound occurred yesterday in the price of creamery butter at Elgin, and local quotations have gone forward. A large proportion of the butter made now is going into storage, and prices are held firm by the limited quantity remaining on the market. Cheese is unchanged. Fresh eggs are firm, and the range of quotations is broader to take in all prices, as some dealers are obtaining 18 cents for select stock.

As is usual at this time of the year the market for old potatoes has commenced to take on some added strength, demand from certain lines of trade contributing, while receipts are falling off. It is generally the case that old potatoes finish their season about the end of June, and prior to that time the few which arrive are sold largely to hotels and restaurants. This year the season for new potatoes is somewhat later than usual, and the call for old is keeping up steadily. However, there is some weakening in the new potato situation, and, with every decline in price, demand will grow more active. Tennessee onions went off slightly yesterday, with heavier receipts. Fresh tomatoes, both from Florida and Mississippi, are abundant, and quoted lower than they were a week ago. Beans are steady, and peas show no change. Strawberries were in light receipt yesterday, and prices were unchanged, demand on Monday being limited, and few arrivals are sufficient for the calls of trade. Cantaloupes are holding their own, and watermelons are unchanged.

There was no change in tropical fruits, all descriptions maintaining Saturday's quotations. California apricots are due here today, and quotations will be determined after stock arrives, when it will be seen whether the fruit is large or small size being an important factor in price of apricots.

Grocery price lists show few changes from ruling figures of last week, and those changes are not in important articles of trade. Refiners of sugar in some houses have grasped the situation with determination and advanced the price of flour. Such a move was not general, however, and as number of figures remain as quoted in last week. Following the speculative market rolled oats and other oat products are higher in primal markets, but locally they are unchanged. Rice is firm, and coffee and spices are firm, but no higher.

Canned goods are steady and demand is about normal. Dried fruits have not changed in price for several weeks, and are still as they were a week ago.

There is no improvement in poultry supplies and quotations for old chickens are higher than they were at the close of last week. Stock this week of young spring chickens are lower than they were, but both still too high to be attractive to the average buyer.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 28 cars hay, 34 cars oats, 7 cars corn, 4 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 10 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 9 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Western, 10 cars hay, 3 cars corn, 1 car corn and oats, 2 cars feed; total receipts, 127 cars.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A strike of high-grade copper ore has been made in the Moonlight claim of the Pocatello Gold & Copper Mining Company, whose holdings lie 10 miles east of Pocatello, Idaho, on Inskeep creek. The vein is five feet wide and so far developed throughout. The drift opened in a streak 15 inches thick, so the hanging wall and another of a foot in the foot wall of an ore body capable of bearing as has ever been mined in the district, if not more. The ore carries 58.6 per cent copper, 15 ounces silver and $1 in gold per ton. The discovery is in that portion of the Indian reservation thrown open to settlement by the recent act of Congress, and runs into and adjoins the line of the present reservation.

The Globe cyanide plant was credited with $2,000 of Cripple Creek's gold output last month.

Within the town limits of Georgetown, Col., a good strike has been made at the Centennial mine, and the ore chute has been opened to the west at a depth of over 800 feet below the surface, all of which is virgin ground. Outside of a large body of concentrating ore there are 30 solid carloads of shipping ore. This ore contains peacock copper and iron, with some scattered silver. Assay tests gave the following results: 30.40 ounces gold, 10 ounces silver, 21 per cent copper.

NO STARVATION IN PHILIPPINES

Gov. Taft Reports That Famine Conditions There Have Improved.

COMMENTS ON MILES' REPORT

Agrees in General With Statements of Commander-in-Chief, but Says Army Transports Cannot Be Used Economically to Bring in Cattle.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The war department today made public a report received from Governor Taft replying to statements made by Lieut.-Gen. Miles after his visit to the islands last year. The report is dated at Benguet, April 18, and says:

"That there is a shortage in the islands of the usual food supply is undoubtedly true, but I have been surprised to find thus far how little real famine there has been. I have not received a single call for rice for free distribution. In the province of Batangas, Captain Boughton has made a very small gratuitous distribution of rice, not exceeding $2,000 worth.

"The action of the commission in directing a proclamation by the civil governor calling upon the people everywhere to plant corn, camotes or sweet potatoes, rice and other quickly growing food products, had a very wide influence in stirring up the people to provide against the coming of famine. It is true that an unexampled drought in the islands has prevented this planting from being as productive as it otherwise would have been, and that the locusts, too, have interfered with some of the crops, but on the whole I have been greatly surprised to find the suffering so much less than we expected it to be.

CAN CARE FOR DESTITUTE.

"It may be that in May, June and July we shall have calls for aid, but I think that we shall be able promptly to respond to them, especially now that $3,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose.

"The most serious feature of the situation is the loss of the cattle from rinderpest. It is not feasible to bring cattle into the islands without making sure that they will not catch the rinderpest after coming here. The fields of the islands are infected with it so that cattle here are almost sure to contract the disease. It is necessary, therefore, that all such cattle be immuned by having a serum injected into their veins which will render them immune for three or four months and at the same time innoculated with the rinderpest virus which renders them immune at least for five years and probably longer.

"We have made a contract for the deliver of 10,000 carabao with immunization. These are to be brought from the Yangtse valley in China. Our insular purchasing agent, together with a cattle expert of the agricultural bureau, is now visiting the various ports of the orient with a view to making further contracts.

PREVENTED A RICE CORNER.

"It is important that we shall not pauperize the people by unnecessary gratuitous distribution of rice. In anticipation of a corner in rice, we made a purchase involving the expenditure of about $800,000 gold. We succeeded in breaking the corner and keeping down the price of rice, and should the price of rice advance again, we may have to do the same thing. We have sold the rice in various parts of the archipelago nearly at cost whenever the merchants in that neighborhood insisted on forcing the price beyond what was reasonable.

"We can only hope to bring in a sufficient number of cattle to keep agriculture going. The price at which we have contracted for the purchase of the first 10,000 is $88 Mexican delivered in Manila completely immunized. If we are able to sell the carabao in the provinces at $90 Mexican it will be a great boon to the people, especially if we do not require a deposit of more than 50 per cent of the cost price and allow a credit of six months for the payment of the balance.

GEN. MILES' VIEW CORRECT.

"I think generally the statement of facts in the report of the lieutenant general is correct, so far at least as the dreadful depression in agriculture by reason for the loss of the cattle is concerned. The remedy which he suggested by the use of government transports, however, I do not concur in. The danger from famine has not been as great as I supposed it was, and as the lieutenant general was justified in supposing it was from the reports which he heard. In any event, with the funds provided by congress now, I feel confident that the Philippine government is in a position to meet any emergency of this kind which may arise."

TWO JURORS DISCHARGED AT JEROME'S REQUEST

Trial of Robert A. Ammon Is Interrupted by an Unexpected Development.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Two sensations were sprung this morning when the case of Robert A. Ammon, charged with receiving $20,000 from the Franklin Syndicate, was called in part II. general sessions. District Attorney Jerome objected to two jurors, whereupon William M. Mullen, associate counsel for the defendant, indignantly withdrew from the case. The other attorneys for Ammon agreed to having the jurors excused and the case was adjourned until tomorrow.

District Attorney Jerome announced at the beginning of the trial that a conference had been held by the attorneys and it was agreed to ask the withdrawal of two jurors. Mullen interrupted the district attorney by saying he had not been consulted and as a result he declined to continue as attorney for Ammon. He hurriedly left the court room after declaring himself:

"It is simply a matter of our not having had peremptory challenges enough on both sides to have procured a jury satisfactory to both sides absolutely. And I feel that I should not force on the defense a jury that is not entirely satisfactory to them. The members of the staff of counsel for the defense have met me in a very agreeable manner and with a courteous feeling, and I have tried to reciprocate. Our feeling is that the rights of both sides will be better conserved if your honor will permit us to excuse two of the jurors now in the box," said District Attorney Jerome, designating Jurors Plummer and Ellsworth.

It became known later that one of the jurors excused is known to be a client of and closely connected with a man who recently assisted District Attorney Jerome in the cases of Dr. Flower and George Mills. He was objectionable to the defense. The other was objectionable to the prosecution, because of his connection with a matter in which the United States postal officials appeared as prosecutors.

Mrs. Ammon was in court and sat by the side of her husband. She is large, with hair that is almost white, but with a face that has been only lightly touched by time. As her husband believes that she knows more law than most members of the bar, she will act in an advisory capacity.

STILL FIGHTING BROWNING'S BILL

Argument Heard on the Claim of the Doctor Against the Magee Estate.

SCOULLER IS ACQUITTED

Grant Evans and George Parker Get Eight Years Each for Highway Robbery. William Snyder Estate Has Been Settled.

Arguments were heard yesterday before Judges J. W. Over and J. J. Miller, in orphans' court, upon the exceptions filed to the order awarding Dr. W. C. Browning of Philadelphia, $20,230.25 upon a claim of about $175,000, for medical services against the estate of the late C. L. Magee.

Attorney J. Rodgers McCreery and Attorney W. B. Rodgers apeared for the claimant and Attorney George C. Wilson and Attorney W. D. Evans represented the estate. The arruments of counsel were in the line of the testimony. As to the rendering of bills by Dr. Browning, it was contended by Mr. Wilson that a nurse, who had some disagreement with the decedent, was the only person who undertook to say that there were any bills and if the bills had been in existence undisputed, they would have been presented; also that if the bills had been reinforced by letters, these letters would have been competent evidence. The court will decide the matter later.

In criminal court, before Judge S. A. McClung, George Parker, alias George Jones, was placed on trial charged with robbery in holding up Joseph Woodall, but before the case had gone very far the testimony of the state caused Parker to withdraw his plea of not guilty and enter one of no defense, the same as that entered by Grant Evans, who was indicted jointly with him. Both men were immediately called up for sentence and when they stood before the court thy wanted to change their plea again, but Judge McClung refused and sentenced each man to the penitentiary for eight years. Evans' imprisonment will be increased by having to serve the commutation of his 12 year's sentence for complicity in the robbery and torturing of Mrs. Logan at Coronpolis.

The hold up of Woodall occurred in Woodville avenue, May 14, about 9 o'clock p. m., and the men exasperated at the small amount offered them by their victim struck him several times with a hatchet, fracturing his skull.

There is a marriage license in existence which was taken out by Margaret Boyd to marry Evans since his arrest.

William Scoullar, a young man of McKeesport, was acquitted on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, made as a result of the death of Townsend H. Wells, on October 19. It was testified that the two men quarreled on Third avenue, McKeesport, and that during the fight, Wells was knocked down several times, death was supposed to have been caused by Wells striking his head against a stone.

Judge J. W. Over handed down an opinion in the matter of the adjudication of William Snyder, on exceptions filed by Charles Snyder to the audit, as to a claim allowance. It was alleged that at the time of the war, in 1865, Charles Snyder give his father $600 bounty money and he presented a claim against his parents' estate of $1,480.

It is stated by the court that the declaration made by the decedent that he owed his son $1,000 is inconsistent with the facts in the case. It is further stated that the decedent was old and feeble when the declaration was made upon which the accountant relied, and that he had probably forgotten the gift of land and $1,000 to Charles Snyder, which occurred 20 years later. The court dismissed all of the exceptions.

SEVENTEEN LICENSES WERE TRANSFERRED

Court Is Making Rigid Inquiry into the Traffic in Liquor Licenses—Four Held Over.

Judge J. D. Evans yesterday transferred 17 liquor licenses, and held over four applications for transfer. The hearings were held last Saturday, when the court made a more thorough inquiry into the details of the different transactions than ever before. This is the result of an effort on the part of the court to prevent any further traffic in licenses in the future, this having been the business of some saloonkeepers in the past.

On Saturday there were 21 applications up for a hearing, and the aggregate consideration for the entire number amounted to $213,255, or an average of $10,150 for each saloon sold. The purchase price of the saloons range from $8,500 to $25,000 and the good will of the business was valued at from $1,000 to $15,000. Attorney M. H. Stevenson, representing the Anti-Saloon league, was present last Saturday and took data, which will be preserved for future use.

The applications held over were: John D. Maybold to William M. Enright, Nos. 116-118 Federal street, Allegheny; Adam Sphan to Charles Reinke, No. 113 South Twenty-fifth street; David Hirsch for the license of John E. Windle, at No. 2044 Beaver avenue, Allegheny; Peter Horlay, for the license of William Dreyer, at No. 201 Grant street. Attorney Stevenson appeared against the last transfer upon the ground that Hourly has been interested in the management of a Thirty-second ward club room. The sale of these four saloons represents a consideration of $50,800.

The transfers granted and the considerations were: Jacob E. Hicks to Fattius Quinn, No. 917 Dickson street, Homestead, $33,000; Julius Hechstetter to W. W. Vilsack, Homestead, $12,000; William McClure to John M. Dougherty, No. 17 Frankstown avenue, $8,000; William M. Tobin to John P. McConnell, No. 4215 Butler street, $5,500; R. O. Young to Alexander Decker, Clairton, $4,455; Charles B. Hepler to Stephen C. Connell, Brackinridge borough, $15,000; Henry Chimero to Konstanta Czarnowash, No. 3014 Penn avenue, $6,000; John Ember to Lorenz Sommer, No. 149 Pius street, $5,000; Robert J. Lutz to Enz & Schelhie, No. 115 Grant street, $18,000; Julius Heilneman to George Ritter, Bridgeville, $5,500; Andrew Stephens to Anthony Rooney, No. 3222 Carson street, $2,000; Zoltan Hindrle to Alexander Yarosz, No. 652 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, $7,500; Albert C. Knepper to Albert Elnspoon, Brackenridge borough, $10,000; Mary E. McConnell to Peter Connell, No. 11 West Locust street, Allegheny, $5,500; Charles Nolle to John Kuiner, Jr., and John Kuiner, Sr., No. 3175 Butler street, $8,000; Walter E. Friday to John Echard, East Pittsburgh, $15,000; Julius Gottfried to Martin Matthias, Carnegie, $10,000.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury yesterday returned a true bill for murder against Joseph Chodosky, who is charged with beating and abusing his wife, Mary, at their home in Millerville, to such an extent that death ensued.

Other true bills were: Conspiracy, Gust Mantis et al, Jacob Guttman et al (9); misdemeanor, George W. Beck, Peter Massey, John McCool, Clara Pilcairn (2), C. W. Tucker, Christ Bowser; false pretenses, J. H. Crawford, embezzlement, W. H. Norris; Harry Segal; larceny by bailee, E. F. Shaw; felonious assault and battery, Fred Di Paolo, assault and battery, George Dolke et al, S. S. King, Jacob Lang, David Miller, Nick Mesnulis et al, W. W. McDonald, Timothy O'Leary, Charles Taylor; aggravated assault and battery, Daniel Lallet, Trim Mullen, E. Turner, Gregory Alex Waiko, John Tevers; assault, Howard McGeary.

The ignored charges were: Assault, P. Tomaheska; conspiracy, P. A. Nelson, Harry Kemis.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Letters were granted to Mrs. Jennie F. Rankin of McKeesport on the estate of Robert C. Rankin, valued at $1,000.

Samuel H. Woods took out letters on the estate of Richard Woods. Attorney F. H. McGrath has charge of the estate.

The will of John Brinkman was filed and letters taken out by Nathan Whiston. Attorneys R. A. and James Ralph represent the executor.

The Colonial Trust Company took out letters of administration on the estate of Mary Catherine Woods. Attorney John D. Watson represents the company.

Charters were granted in common pleas court No. 2 as follows: Tarentum Free Methodist church, Lincoln Avenue M. E. church, Christ Hospital church of Tarentum, Physicians Protective association of Allegheny county.

George W. Stewart, William S. Stewart and Thomas J. Cullen, through Attorney L. K. Porter, has applied for a charter for the Greater Pittsburgh Land Improvement Company, which will purchase and sell real estate.

Letters of administration were issued to Attorneys O'Brien & Aenley for Mrs. Clementine Stroud upon the estate of Charles Stroud, late of the West End, and a contractor for many years on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. His estate is valued at $15,500.

In the United States district court a petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Crifford H. Ferree, a wholesale lumber dealer of Pittsburgh. His liabilities are $48,319.90 and his assets, $4,221.85. Of the former $20,070.43 is on notes and bills that the schedule says should be paid by others; $20,970.41 in unsecured claims, and $5,356.25 in accommodation paper.

The will of Evan R. Williams, late of Knoxville, has been placed on record. The estate is valued at $40,000. It is bequeathed to the decedant's widow Margaret R. Williams. At her death, or at her re-marriage it goes to their daughter, Eleanor R. Williams. At the latter's death, should she die without issue, the estate is to be divided equally between the Woman's Baptist Foreign and Home Missionary societies.

JACKSON'S WORK GROWS.

Bulgaria Added to Diplomatic Duties, in Adition to Greece, Roumania and Servia.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—John D. Jackson, American minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia, has also been designated American diplomatic agent to Bulgaria. He replaces Consul General Dickinson of Constantinople and the change is the outcome of the case of Miss Stone, when the Bulgarian government declined to receive a diplomatic agent who was also minister to Turkey.

Sanford Newell, at present American minister to the Netherlands, has also been made minister to Luxemburg. This is a new post and Luxemburg, asserting its independence of the other German states, diplomatically, the American ambassador at Berlin finds it outside of his jurisdiction.

JUDGE SHAFER SAID PURPOSE IS LAUDABLE

Favored Strap-Hangers' League and Issued a Charter Yesterday.

Judge John D. Shafer yesterday granted the charter to the Strap-Hangers' league of Allegheny county. The subscribers to the petition for the charter were: H. G. Rand, Crafton; B. R. Kinsey, Allegheny; F. W. Bonar, Pittsburgh; Charles H. Oliver, Pittsburgh; Edward L. Mellody, Pittsburgh; W. S. Fried, Pittsburgh; W. R. Slocum, Pittsburgh, and A. H. Jeremy, Pittsburgh.

The board of directors consists of five members and the board for the first year will be Messrs. Jeremy, Kinsey, Slocum, Bonar and Oscar Davis.

When the charter application was first presented Judge Shafer said that he would have to look into the matter carefully, that, while all would agree that the purpose is a laudable one, he doubted whether it came within the purpose of the act creating first-class corporations. The court also has evidently decided it has benevolent and charitable features and is organized not for profit.

The officials of the Strap-Hangers' league were kept busy yesterday receiving applications for membership. The announcement that the court looked upon the organization with favor had a stimulating effect. While at the headquarters they filed complaints against the traction companies, few of which were made because the passengers have to hang on straps. The most trouble is that they can not get straps to hang to. One of the members said yesterday while enrolling his name on the membership book: "Hanging on straps is bad enough, but half the time I can not even get bumpers to ride on."

Several married women were at the Strap-Hangers' league headquarters yesterday, and each had a different story to tell about traction troubles. Some said many motormen will not stop at crossings if there is only one passenger to get on. School girls and boys made a rush to the Strap-Hangers league yesterday. Some of them are too small to reach the straps and being unable to get seats are tossed about the cars in every way.

ADDRESSED BY GOVERNOR.

Pennypacker Made Congratulatory Speech at Franklin and Marshall College.

LANCASTER, June 8.—This was Lancaster day in the celebration of the semi-centennial of Franklin and Marshall college. The public schools of the city were closed and the ceremonies at the college this afternoon were attended by school directors and teachers, and many of the students, besides city councils and other representatives of the city government. The exercises had as their chief feature an address by Gov. Pennypacker. The governor spoke extemporaneously and his remarks were of a congratulatory nature and historical. He referred to the prominence and importance of Lancaster in the early days of the country, to the products of the old Ephrata printing press and book bindery during the revolution and to the men of this city who have sat in the councils of the nation.

Speaking of Thaddeus Stevens, the governor declared that he wielded greater political power than any other man who ever lived in this country. He congratulated Franklin and Marshall upon having had a trustee who became president and an alumnus who became governor of the state.

TELLS OF CRUEL MASSACRE.

A Young Kishineff Refugee Reaches New York—An Official Investigation.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Solomon Handerman, a young Jew, who was in Kishineff during the massacre, is being detained at Ellis Island until relatives living in St. Joseph, Mo., can be heard from. He is without money.

Solomon repeats in detail the horrifying story of the massacres, tells of the stoning to death of an uncle in his own yard. His grandfather was also killed. Solomon and his aunt escaped to the house of a Christian, who sheltered them until Solomon started for America.

Joseph R. Greenhut, ex-president of the whisky combine, and wife, left for Europe today. He will make an official investigation into the anti-Semetic outrages in Russia for the Union Jewish congregation of America.

SMALL MANUFACTURERS HURT BY CUT IN SOUTH

Premiums for Quick Deliveries of Pig Iron Are No Longer Obtainable.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Attempts are still being made in the eastern market to hammer the prices of pig iron lower than those quoted by the Southern Iron association and one result of this is the possibility of the closing of some of the small furnaces which have been selling pig iron in small lots at the high prices of the last six months, whose profits have now practically disappeared because of the reduction in the basing prices and the increasing cost of labor. Outside of New York business has received an impetus and inquiries from buyers in the southern field have doubled since the price of foundry No. 2 was placed at $15 per ton. Premiums for quick deliveries, which made the apparent market price from $3 to $5 per ton higher than the actual market have disappeared, and with them has gone the profit of the small iron makers.

The little fellows are also being hurt by the foreign pig iron, the last of the big importations of the past year, which is coming on the market. Some of this iron was placed in storage when it arrived and it is now being sold in many instances at a loss, which further reduces the possibilities of enhanced prices for quick delivery on the part of the small furnaces. Authorities in the pig iron market state that production in the United States will fall below the original estimates of 20,000,000 tons for the year, but that it will still exceed last year's record. It necessarily follows, they say, that the aggregate output of finished steel and iron products will be larger than last year, unless there is an unlooked for falling off in consumption within the next four months.

LACES

What Happened

A New York Importer of Fine Laces was eager to wind up his early summer business and sail for Europe on the Deutschland to select stock for fall.

Just one thing hindered—a big sample line of about a thousand pieces (no two alike) with 36 yards of laces in each piece—some thirty-six thousand yards all told.

Ready money to pay traveling expenses and make his foreign settlements was the one thing most wanted—and wanted quickly.

He had the laces—we had the money.

Now he has the money—we have the laces.

Your turn next. Mail orders filled.

Biggest Lot—About half of these laces are Normandy Vals, Point de Paris and Platt Vals—all fine wide white edges, insertions and bands, in vigorous demand just now to trim wash dresses, beautify shirt waists and impart daintiness to underwear. Some 500 distinct patterns. In the regular way the laces sold from these samples are retailing at the stores supplied by the importer at 15c to 50c a yard. This part of our purchase we divide into three lots and place them on sale.

Finest Lot—Most exquisite are the three hundred sample pieces of Venise Laces which comprise the cream of this purchase—some ten thousand yards of bands, galloons, insertions and net-top laces with Venise edges, in white, butter color and champagne shade, which rightfully belong to the families of 50c, 65c, 75c and $1.00 laces, so much in vogue this year as trimmings for Foulard gowns, the other summer silks and the light-weight wool Voiles and Etamines. These superb laces we throw out in a single lot for your picking at..... 29c yd

Three Small Lots—The remainder of the New York importer's sample lines bought by us was made up of——Imitation Cluny Bands in natural and Arabian shades for trimming wash dresses and shirt waists. Their average value is 15c per yard—Our price will be 10c a yard.

—Thirty-six hundred yards are English Torchon Laces, insertions and edges, comprising a hundred distinct patterns, such as retail regularly at 5c a yard. These we will let go for 2c yard.

—Last Lot of all are the French Val. Laces and Insertions, in very neat patterns for children's dresses, which we sell in twelve-yard pieces for 25c per piece.
